REVOLUTION IN PARAGUAY

BLOODY SCENES ENACTED IN THE CAPITAL.

Washington, Jan. 10.—It is probable that Admiral Higginson, with his flagship, Kearsarge, and several other vessels of the North Atlantic squadron, will shortly repair to Venezuelan waters, making his headquarters at LaGuaira. The ships which Admiral Higginson will take with him on the cruise will have an unusually large complement of marines aboard. These precautions are taken, not with any offensive intent toward Venezuela, but merely to guard against an outbreak of anarchy and rioting in the event that the revolutionists should prevail over Castro's forces in the field. Owing to Admiral Higginson's high rank he naturally would command any joint operations that might be incident to the landing of naval forces of various nationalities.

REVOLUTION IN PARAGUAY.

Buenos Ayres, Jan. 10.—(Via Galveston Texas.)—The rumors, circulated here yesterday, of a revolution in the republic of Paraguay turn out to be well founded. The revolt, which broke out at Asuncion, the capital, was caused by the question of the presidential succession, the term of President Aceval expiring in November of this year.

The revolutionary junta was composed of General Caballero, General Escobar, Col. J. A. Escurra, the minister of war; Senor Marro, a cabinet minister, and Senator Freitas.

President Aceval resigned the presidency and congress accepted his resignation.

A collision occurred in the chamber of deputies during which Senator Facundo Insfran, president of the Hygienic council, was killed, and General Caballero, Senators Miguel and Corbalan and Deputy Fernando Carreras were severely wounded.

The congress of Paraguay has placed the reins of government in the hands of the vice president, Senor Hector Carvallo.

Great excitement prevails at Asuncion.

PRESIDENTS TO MEET.

Colon, Columbia, Jan. 10.—(Via Galveston, Texas.)—The presidents invited by President Zelaya, of Nicaragua, to attend a meeting at Corinto, Nicaragua, are those of Costa Rica, Honduras, Gutemala and Salvador.

President Iglesias, of Costa Rica, cabled to Ehrman & Co., the agents of the Chilian line of steamers, to send the Tacapel to take himself and twelve others to Corinto. The agents asked a large sum for transportating the Costa Rican president and his friends, and, as this dispatch is sent, it is understood that an acceptance of the agent's offer has not yet been received.

General Alban, the military governor of this district, had a conference yesterday with Ehrman & Co., and proposed to charter or buy the steamer Lantaro, of the South American line. The Lantaro is of 2,600 tons, and arrived at Panama yesterday with a crew for the Chilian warship recently purchased at New Castle, England. It is a powerful vessel and was constructed for use as an auxiliary cruiser of the Chilian navy, in case of war. The matter has been referred to the company's headquarters, at Valparaiso.

The "Norther" here is abating, but the sea is still rough. The French, Spanish, American and German line steamers are anchored outside the harbor, being unable to reach their docks.

STRIPPED FLESH FROM BONES.

Eugene Sullivan, of Chicago, aged 32 years, who has been the guest of his son, Andrew Sullivan, on Rudisill avenue, met with a painful accident Wednesday evening. He was operating a feed cutter in the barn, which his left hand was caught between two cog wheels, and the flesh of three fingers was stripped from the bone. The nature of the wound is such that complications are likely to arise, and the results may be serious.

thirteen years ago. He intends to return to this city to reside and was here for the purpose of securing a house.

MR. BRYAN IN THE EAST.

Boston, Jan. 10.—William J. Bryan left Boston for Holyoke early today. He will return here tomorrow and be the guest of the city of Boston at luncheon, with Mayor Collins as host. In the afternoon he will be the guest of Mayor McNamee, of Cambridge. Tomorrow evening he will deliver an address on "The Conquering Nation" before the students of Harvard college at Sanders theater.

CLEVELAND BANK ASSIGNS.

SAVINGS AND TRUST CONCERN IN TROUBLE.

Receiver Appointed to Take Charge of Affairs—Able to Pay All Debts in Full.

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 10.—The Euclid Avenue Trust and Savings company, at 84 and 86 Euclid avenue, made an assignment today to Attorney Frank H. Ginn. The latter's bond was fixed at $250,000 by Judge Bloch, of the insolvency court.

Subsequently Mr. Ginn made the following written statement:

"The directors of the bank decided to make an assignment for the benefit of all of the creditors for the reason that the bank has been unable to realize upon its assets rapidly enough to meet the usual demands which have been made upon it recently. The directors state that no depositor and no customer of the bank will lose a dollar and that the bank is solvent and that its present embarrassment arises from the fact that its patrons have been unable to meet their obligations to the bank with sufficient rapidity to take care of the usual withdrawals.

"The bank has liquidated during the past three months from about $2,200,000 to $1,400,000 deposits, and the assignment will merely continue the liquidation under the orders of the court.

(Signed.)

"Frank H. Ginn, Assignee."

According to the last published statement of the bank, issued October 1, 1901, the capital stock paid in amounted to $500,000; total resources, $2,964,002; individual deposits, $2, 191,773; surplus fund, $65,000. The president of the bank is H. C. Brainard, while C. H. Stewart is secretary and treasurer. A branch of the institution at No. 2800 Euclid avenue was closed simultaneously with the down town offices.

It is stated the bank carried about $120,000 in the securities of the Detroit and Toledo line, which recently passed into the hands of receivers. As a result of the financial embarrassment of the Everett-Moore syndicate it is understood the bank found it impossible to realize upon these securities.

GROWING IN INTEREST.

The subject of the sermon this evening by Rev. J. N. Field at the First Baptist church will be, "Jesus and Zacchaeus of the Triumph of Earnest." The special meetings have been growing in interest ever since the beginning of the year. Fifteen new members were admitted last Sunday and many others have been received during the past month. During this week several have been received for baptism Sunday, and others will be received tonight. The sermon tonight will be of special interest to young people.

LOCAL LINES.

The many friends of Victoria Getty will be pained to hear that she is critically ill at her home in Chicago.

The men of the West Jefferson street Church of Christ will give a free oyster supper for members of the church on Monday evening. The annual meeting of the congregation will be held afterward.

Evangelistic services at the West Creighton avenue Church of Christ continues to grow in interest and enthusiasm. Rev. Harris will preach this evening on "The First Gospel Sermon." Prof. Hawes will sing "No Refuge But in Christ" at the service.

Herbert and Homer Bower entertained the "Quiet Night club" at their home last evening. A three course supper was served, after which an entertainment was given. The performance of Cleo Bott, sketch artist, impersonator and monologist, was highly pleasing to the audience, especially his impersonations of characters in "Von Kuchen's Predicament." FARMERS IN CITY

LARGE ATENDANCE AT THE COUNTY INSTITUTE.

GROWING INTEREST IS SHOWN

MR. SOMERS, OF KOKOMO, ON SOIL CONDITIONS.

ALL THE TOPICS ARE TIMELY

SPLENDID PROGRAM ARRANGED FOR TONIGHT.

What promises to be by far the greatest county institute ever held by Allen county farmers opened this morning in the assembly room of the court house. When Chairman Johnson called the meeting to order at 9:45 o'clock only a small number were present, but during the entire forenoon the farmers and their wives continued to arrive, until the attendance is now far in excess of that of any previous opening day.

ALEXANDER JOHNSON,

Chairman of the Allen County Farmers' Institute.

Another gratifying feature is the interest manifested in the discussions, for a very large number of the farmers are participating in the consideration of the topics upon the program. In many instances the lecturers are kept thoroughly employed for a time in answering the inquiries upon points brought out during the addresses. This interest is especially gratifying to the institute officials, and it demonstrates that Allen county farmers are enthusiastic and progressive in the development of the possibilities of the farmer's avocation.

Rabbi Cohn, of the Jewish temple, feelingly invoked Divine blessing upon the gathering at the opening of the morning session, paying a lofty tribute to the importance and worth of the tiller of the soil, close to the great heart of nature and constituting in himself the very basic principles of the material prosperity of all other peoples.

In his opening remarks Chairman Johnson referred to the fact that no summer picnic institutes had been held during the past year, and deplored the fact, but stated that it had been impossible for the members of the committees, busy with their other duties, to find the time necessary to devote to the organization and conduct of these gatherings. Mrs. Naomi DeVilbiss, secretary of the institute, was at her desk, but was ill and asked that a secretary pro tem. be selected in her stead. George Thumm, of rural route No. 4, was installed in this position.

SOIL CONDITIONS.

Orlando Somers, of Kokomo, was the first of the speakers introduced to present his topic, "Soil Conditions Essential to Profitable Crop Growing." Mr. Somers opened by stating that the soil condition was a question in which all were deeply interested. Fifty years ago the natural condition of the soil was such that our fathers did not have to study this topic so deeply. Nature had provided a fertile soil, for this section is in the world's favored latitude. Their question was chiefly the getting of the soil ready for the crop. The man of muscle was chiefly in demand. Some of us have seemed to forget that nature would not continue that fertility indefinitely, so that our question is the restoring and maintaining the fertility of the soil. This condition is essential to successful crop growing.

"A most important condition of successful crop growing is thorough drainage. The drainage considered sufficient twenty-five or thirty years ago is not sufficient today. One seeming contradictory statement is surely true: One object of drainage is to get rid of surplus water; another is to retain the necessary moisture. We drain clay soil so that it may be open and porous and thus retain moisture. I believe the important essential to all land is to have it thoroughly drained. Don't be afraid of getting the tile too large. Don't think that a heavy fall is absolutely necessary. A slight fall is sufficient where more can not be obtained.

"Then the soil must be put in proper mechanical condition; it must be made porous if it is not naturally so. I believe the best way to do this is to get a good clover crop that will send its tiny roots down deep into the earth. If the soil is in good mechanical condition, then the chemical conditions requisite to success will become available. The tiny rootlets feed much the same as we feed—upon the elements they like. Surrounded by clods and boulders, these roots simply starve to death. Most Indiana soil is yet in comparatively fertile condition, and able to produce great corn crops—and corn is the king of crops. By rotating crops and having a care to give back to the soil that which you take from it, there is little trouble in retaining the fertility of the soil. Instead of growing timothy hay, which impoverishes the soil, use clover, which returns to the soil that which you take from it. For mechanical conditions, there is nothing better for clay fields than shredded fodder manure."

RAPE AND BEETS.

W. A. Hart, of Jay county, who was among the first of Indiana farmers to experiment with rape as a stock food, told of the cultivation of rape and beets, their feeding and how to grow them. "The rape," said Mr. Hart, "is a member of the cabbage family, and in getting a set of any crop from a small seed, it is necessary to have the soil especially fine on top. Rape can be sowed profitably at any time from early spring to August 1; is especially adapted to clay soils, and does particularly well in dry weather. For spring sowing I prepare the ground early, and cover the seed shallow, beginning to pasture when the plants are perhaps little more than a foot high. Rape grows well on cold soils and is liked by all stock. A chief value is the many possibilities in its use."

Mr. Hart then related a very profitable experience in feeding it to young lambs. "As to the amount of seed required," said he, "I use on clean ground from two to five pounds of seed per acre. If sown on stubble, not so much is used—from 1½ to 3 pounds. Lambs pastured on rape will add 50 per cent. more flesh than on ble grass.

"Beets I use very largely for feed, especially for hogs. I plow my ground early, harrow it thoroughly and delay planting until the latter part of May. During the time intervening, I harrow the ground every four or five days to destroy the younk weeds that spring up. The beets I drill thickly in rows thirty-six inches apart, planting shallow. Beets grow rapidly, and soon we go over the field and cut out all but one beet plant every six inches. You will be astonished at the yield. I have raised fifty wagon loads of beets on one and one-half acres.

Mr. Hart then told of his method of burying them to keep during the winter. Before they are fed they are placed for a time in a warm house, and are then fed raw, but not cut. He was not inclined to use rape as a green fertilizer, for he said the elements of nutriment are not elements of fertility. He believed it quite as important to know how to feed as how to cultivate.

A MODEL HOG YARD.

An interesting discussion followed Mr. Hart's talk, and he was under fire of a deluge of questions for some time. Following it Mr. Johnson exhibited a drawing illustrating a cheap model hog yard. This is the hog yard at Colonia on the state farm, constructed with the idea of separating widely the sleeping pens from the feeding pens. He believed the general trouble to be that the hog's food gets too dirty before he has consumed it, and that the animal therefore eats too much filth with it. At the state farm, Mr. Johnson said, they tried to keep the swine clean by giving them an opportunity to keep clean. The plan and the explanation elicited much interest among the stock-growers present.

NAMED COMMITTEES.

The assembly room was densely packed when the institute resumed its work this afternoon, and the choir of the Eel River Baptist church elicited much applause by the rendition of a song, "The Farmer Feeds Them All."

Chairman Johnson read the minutes of the institute held last year, and then called for nominations for places upon the two committees—organization and rules. These committees were filled as follows:

HOUSE DEBATES PERMANENT CENSUS BUREAU BILL.

PENSION BILL IS REPORTED TO THE HOUSE.

Washington, Jan. 10.—At the opening of the session of the house today Mr. Barney, of Wisconsin, from the committee on appropriations, reported the pension appropriation bill and gave notice that he would call it up on Monday after the disposal of District of Columbia business.

Upon motion of Mr. Hopkins, of Illinois, the house then went into committee of the whole and took up the consideration of the bill to create a permanent census office.

Mr. Hopkins, in support of the bill, explained that the subject of establishing a permanent bureau had been agitated for many years. Gen. Francis A. Walker, superintendent of the ninth and tenth censuses, and Mr. Porter, superintendent of the eleventh census, as well as the present director, united in strongly recommending it on the ground that it would not only decrease the cost, but would increase the value of the results.

In reply to questions, Mr. Hopkins said that 3,480 clerks had been employed in the bureau, 2,700 being still employed. If the pending bill passed, he said, the force would be reduced this year to 800; next year to 750; in 1905 to 240, and thereafter until 1910 to 200. He was besieged by members who wanted to know the status of the present clerks in the event of the passage of the bill. He said that if the bill passed it was hoped the other departments could absorb the present temporary clerks. They could then be placed under the protection of the civil service and transferred to other departments. If the bill was promptly passed the temporary clerks, by executive order, could be made eligible for transfer.

Several members, among them Mr. Mann, of Illinois, and Mr. Corliss, of Michigan, suggested that the bill be amended to provide that the clerks be eligible for transfer.

Mr. Grosvenor, of Ohio, asked if it would not be wise to authorize the president to extend the civil service law over the surplus clerks.

Mr. Hopkins replied that the subject had been canvassed by the house and senate committee and it had been thought that such action would not be expedient.

Mr. Burkett, of Nebraska, opposed the bill, contending that it was improper and inopportune and asserting that the course of the debate today demonstrated that the proposed legislation had not been well matured. He declared that the only persons who had agitated the subject of a permanent census had been the superintendents of past censuses and others directly interested.

He pointed out that a salary of $7,500 was voted to the director of census on the ground of the temporary character of the employment and the great responsibility. This bill proposed to continue this salary. He pointed out that the experts whose services it was claimed it was so necessary to retain had been detailed from the various departments.

Mr. Burkett said there was nothing in the bill to keep the census clerks in office. It was designed to keep only the chiefs of divisions and higher officers in their present positions. He thought the bill should be recommitted.

Mr. Crumpacker, of Indiana, favored the passage of the bill, which he argued, would be the first step toward putting the census upon a scientific and logical basis.

Mr. Maddox, of Georgia, opposed in toto the plan of a permanent census bureau.

Mr. Hemenway, of Indiana, also opposed the bill. Mr. Sims, of Tennessee, said he would propose an amendment to place the employes of the office under the civil service law.

Mr. Bingham, of Pennsylvania, supported the bill.

PEACE RUMORS ARE HEARD

BOER DELEGATES ANTICIPATE OVERTURES.

London Newspaper Learns That Boers Will Lay Down Arms if They Are Not Exiled.

Amsterdam, Jan. 10.—The Boer delegates in Holland evidently anticipate that some kind of peace overtures will shortly be made, though they are reticent as to their reasons for this belief. They maintain, however, that the demand for an unconditional surrender must be abandoned.

It is privately admitted that the delegates will not reject what they call "any fair offer of terms." If the negotiations are started by a neutral power the delegates will earnestly seek to obtain a modus vivendi, which will reconcile Mr. Kruger's desire for complete independence with the terms offered by Great Britain.

OVERTURES FROM BOERS.

London, Jan. 10.—The Globe's financial editor said a report, which came from well informed quarters, was current in the city today that the Boer chiefs had made overtures to the British government to the effect that they were prepared to lay down their arms, provided they were not exiled. Wednesday next is the Boer feast day and it was said the surrender of the Boers would probably occur then. The war office officials asserted that no proposals to surrender had been received from the Boers.

INSTALLED OFFICERS.

The installation of the newly elected officers of Shiloh chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, last evening, was one of the most delightful events in the history of the lodge. The officers are: Mrs. J. N. Griffith, worthy matron; Mrs. F. E. Fox, associate matron; M. O. Ginty, worthy patron; Katherine Foster, secretary; Mrs. Florence Coverdale, treasurer; Mrs. Edith Flagle, conductor; Mrs. Adam LaMar, associate conductor; Ida Kitselman, Ada; Mrs. Etta Pierce, Ruth; Miss Arta Burdick, Esther; Miss Maude Clark, Martha; Mrs. Dr. Merritt, Electa; Mrs. Margaret Jump, warder; Marion Teagarden, sentinel; Mrs. Frank Rhodes, organist; Miss Grace Metzner, marshal.

Calso's orchestra furnished music for the installation and banquet that followed. The banquet room was beautifully decorated with northern pine and holly. The colors of the order, blue, yellow, white and green, decorated the table, at which Mesdames J. W. Probasco, F. E. Fox, M. Junip, E. Volmer, E. Flagle, A. LaMar, S. J. Hall, D. Gates and F. Rhodes presided. A dance followed the banquet.

The Home Missionary society of St. John's Lutheran church held a very interesting meeting Jan. 9th at the home of Mrs. E. C. Meyer. All old officers were re-elected. The society will meet again Feb. 13th at the residence of Prof. and Mrs. Stumpf, Washington boulevard.

Another gratifying feature is the interest manifested in the discussions, for a very large number of the farmers are participating in the consideration of the topics upon the program. In many instances the lecturers are kept thoroughly employed for a time in answering the inquiries upon points brought out during the addresses. This interest is especially gratifying to the institute officials, and it demonstrates that Allen county farmers are enthusiastic and progressive in the development of the possibilities of the farmer's avocation.

Rabbi Cohn, of the Jewish temple, feelingly invoked Divine blessing upon the gathering at the opening of the morning session, paying a lofty tribute to the importance and worth of the tiller of the soil, close to the great heart of nature and constituting in himself the very basic principles of the material prosperity of all other peoples.

In his opening remarks Chairman Johnson referred to the fact that no summer picnic institutes had been held during the past year, and deplored the fact, but stated that it had been impossible for the members of the committees, busy with their other duties, to find the time necessary to devote to the organization and conduct of these gatherings. Mrs. Naomi DeVilbiss, secretary of the institute, was at her desk, but was ill and asked that a secretary pro tem. be selected in her stead. George Thumm, of rural route No. 4, was installed in this position.

SOIL CONDITIONS.

Orlando Somers, of Kokomo, was the first of the speakers introduced to present his topic, "Soil Conditions Essential to Profitable Crop Growing." Mr. Somers opened by stating that the soil condition was a question in which all were deeply interested. Fifty years ago the natural condition of the soil was such that our fathers did not have to study this topic so deeply. Nature had provided a fertile soil, for this section is in the world's favored latitude. Their question was chiefly the getting of the soil ready for the crop. The man of muscle was chiefly in demand. Some of us have seemed to forget that nature would not continue that fertility indefinitely, so that our question is the restoring and maintaining the fertility of the soil. This condition is essential to successful crop growing.

"A most important condition of successful crop growing is thorough drainage. The drainage considered sufficient twenty-five or thirty years ago is not sufficient today. One seeming contradictory statement is surely true: One object of drainage is to get rid of surplus water; another is to retain the necessary moisture. We drain clay soil so that it may be open and porous and thus retain moisture. I believe the important essential to all land is to have it thoroughly drained. Don't be afraid of getting the tile too large. Don't think that a heavy fall is absolutely necessary. A slight fall is sufficient where more can not be obtained.

"Then the soil must be put in proper mechanical condition; it must be made porous if it is not naturally so. I believe the best way to do this is to get a good clover crop that will send its tiny roots down deep into the earth. If the soil is in good mechanical condition, then the chemical conditions requisite to success will become available. The tiny rootlets feed much the same as we feed—upon the elements they like. Surrounded by clods and boulders, these roots simply starve to death. Most Indiana soil is yet in comparatively fertile condition, and able to produce great corn crops—and corn is the king of crops. By rotating crops and having a care to give back to the soil that which you take from it, there is little trouble in retaining the fertility of the soil. Instead of growing timothy hay, which impoverishes the soil, use clover, which returns to the soil that which you take from it. For mechanical conditions, there is nothing better for clay fields than shredded fodder manure."

RAPE AND BEETS.

W. A. Hart, of Jay county, who was among the first of Indiana farmers to experiment with rape as a stock food, told of the cultivation of rape and beets, their feeding and how to grow them. "The rape," said Mr. Hart, "is a member of the cabbage family, and in getting a set of any crop from a small seed, it is necessary to have the soil especially fine on top. Rape can be sowed profitably at any time from early spring to August 1; is especially adapted to clay soils, and does particularly well in dry weather. For spring sowing I prepare the ground early, and cover the seed shallow, beginning to pasture when the plants are perhaps little more than a foot high. Rape grows well on cold soils and is liked by all stock. A chief value is the many possibilities in its use."

Mr. Hart then related a very profitable experience in feeding it to young lambs. "As to the amount of seed required," said he, "I use on clean ground from two to five pounds of seed per acre. If sown on stubble, not so much is used—from 1½ to 3 pounds. Lambs pastured on rape will add 50 per cent. more flesh than on blo grass.

"Beets I use very largely for feed, especially for hogs. I plow my ground early, harrow it thoroughly and delay planting until the latter part of May. During the time intervening, I harrow the ground every four or five days to destroy the young weeds that spring up. The beets I drill thickly in rows thirty-six inches apart, planting shallow. Beets grow rapidly, and soon we go over the field and cut out all but one beet plant every six inches. You will be astonished at the yield. I have raised fifty wagon loads of beets on one and one-half acres.

Mr. Hart then told of his method of burying them to keep during the winter. Before they are fed they are placed for a time in a warm house, and are then fed raw, but not cut. He was not inclined to use rape as a green fertilizer, for he said the elements of nutriment are not elements of fertility. He believed it quite as important to know how to feed as how to cultivate.

A MODEL HOG YARD.

An interesting discussion followed Mr. Hart's talk, and he was under fire of a deluge of questions for some time. Following it Mr. Johnson exhibited a drawing illustrating a cheap model hog yard. This is the hog yard at Colonia on the state farm, constructed with the idea of separating widely the sleeping pens from the feeding pens. He believed the general trouble to be that the hog's food gets too dirty before he has consumed it, and that the animal therefore eats too much filth with it. At the state farm, Mr. Johnson said, they tried to keep the swine clean by giving them an opportunity to keep clean. The plan and the explanation elicited much interest among the stock-growers present.

NAMED COMMITTEES.

The assembly room was densely packed when the institute resumed its work this afternoon, and the choir of the Eel River Baptist church elicited much applause by the rendition of a song, "The Farmer Feeds Them All."

Chairman Johnson read the minutes of the institute held last year, and then called for nominations for places upon the two committees—organization and rules. These committees were filled as follows:

Oraginzation—William Kinnerk, W. R. Brown, M. E. Argo, C. L. Greenwell, Samuel Mills. The report

HOUSE DEBATES PERMANENT CENSUS BUREAU BILL.

MEMBERS MUCH INTERESTED

QUESTION OF CIVIL SERVICE RULES INVOLVED.

MEASURE IS MUCH OPPOSED

PENSION BILL IS REPORTED TO THE HOUSE.

Washington, Jan. 10.—At the opening of the session of the house today Mr. Barney, of Wisconsin, from the committee on appropriations, reported the pension appropriation bill and gave notice that he would call it up on Monday after the disposal of District of Columbia business.

Upon motion of Mr. Hopkins, of Illinois, the house then went into committee of the whole and took up the consideration of the bill to create a permanent census office.

Mr. Hopkins, in support of the bill, explained that the subject of establishing a permanent bureau had been agitated for many years. Gen. Francis A. Walker, superintendent of the ninth and tenth censuses, and Mr. Porter, superintendent of the eleventh census, as well as the present director, united in strongly recommending it on the ground that it would not only decrease the cost, but would increase the value of the results.

In reply to questions, Mr. Hopkins said that 3,480 clerks had been employed in the bureau, 2,700 being still employed. If the pending bill passed, he said, the force would be reduced this year to 800; next year to 750; in 1905 to 240, and thereafter until 1910 to 200. He was besieged by members who wanted to know the status of the present clerks in the event of the passage of the bill. He said that if the bill passed it was hoped the other departments could absorb the present temporary clerks. They could then be placed under the protection of the civil service and transferred to other departments. If the bill was promptly passed the temporary clerks, by executive order, could be made eligible for transfer.

Several members, among them Mr. Mann, of Illinois, and Mr. Corliss, of Michigan, suggested that the bill be amended to provide that the clerks be eligible for transfer.

Mr. Grosvenor, of Ohio, asked if it would not be wise to authorize the president to extend the civil service law over the surplus clerks.

Mr. Hopkins replied that the subject had been canvassed by the house and senate committee and it had been thought that such action would not be expedient.

Mr. Burkett, of Nebraska, opposed the bill, contending that it was improper and inopportune and asserting that the course of the debate today demonstrated that the proposed legislation had not been well matured. He declared that the only persons who had agitated the subject of a permanent census had been the superintendents of past censuses and others directly interested.

He pointed out that a salary of $7,500 was voted to the director of census on the ground of the temporary character of the employment and the great responsibility. This bill proposed to continue this salary. He pointed out that the experts whose services it was claimed it was so necessary to retain had been detailed from the various departments.

Mr. Burkett said there was nothing in the bill to keep the census clerks in office. It was designed to keep only the chiefs of divisions and higher officers in their present positions. He thought the bill should be recommitted.

Mr. Crumpacker, of Indiana, favored the passage of the bill, which he argued, would be the first step toward putting the census upon a scientific and logical basis.

Mr. Maddox, of Georgia, opposed in toto the plan of a permanent census bureau.

Mr. Hemenway, of Indiana, also opposed the bill. Mr. Sims, of Tennessee, said he would propose an amendment to place the employes of the office under the civil service law.

Mr. Bingham, of Pennsylvania, supported the bill.

HAND IN BUZZ SAW.

W. F. DeVilbiss, the well known fruit farmer north of the city, was painfully injured while assisting to operate a buzz saw Thursday, and as a result may lose the little finger of his right hand. A knot in a stick of wood he was sawing caused the saw to "hind," and in some manner the stick was twisted so as to throw Mr. DeVilbiss' hand against the saw, cutting the backs of four fingers, that upon the little finger going partially into the bone.

MISS STONE'S RELEASE A QUESTION OF HOURS

London, Jan. 10.—The release of Miss Ellen M. Stone by the brigands who have held her in captivity since September 3 is believed to be only a question of hours. An official telegram received in London this afternoon, which was dispatched from Constantinople, after mid-day today, says the release of Miss Stone is imminent.

FRENCH MINISTER BALKS AT PEKIN

Pekin, Jan. 10.—The French minister, M. Beau, refuses to present his credentials until China fulfills certain demands of the French government. The joint audience of the foreign and new Chinese ministers, which have been arranged, has been postponed because of M. Beau's action. His colleagues are discussing whether to support him or not. A repetition of the Turkish incident is considered possible.

PEACE RUMORS ARE HEARD

BOER DELEGATES ANTICIPATE OVERTURES.

London Newspaper Learns That Boers Will Lay Down Arms if They Are Not Exiled.

Amsterdam, Jan. 10.—The Boer delegates in Holland evidently anticipate that some kind of peace overtures will shortly be made, though they are reticent as to their reasons for this belief. They maintain, however, that the demand for an unconditional surrender must be abandoned.

It is privately admitted that the delegates will not reject what they call "any fair offer of terms." If the negotiations are started by a neutral power the delegates will earnestly seek to obtain a modus vivendi, which will reconcile Mr. Kruger's desire for complete independence with the terms offered by Great Britain.

OVERTURES FROM BOERS.

London, Jan. 10.—The Globe's financial editor said a report, which came from well informed quarters, was current in the city today that the Boer chiefs had made overtures to the British government to the effect that they were prepared to lay down their arms, provided they were not exiled. Wednesday next is the Boer feast day and it was said the surrender of the Boers would probably occur then. The war office officials asserted that no proposals to surrender had been received from the Boers.

INSTALLED OFFICERS.

The installation of the newly elected officers of Shiloh chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, last evening, was one of the most delightful events in the history of the lodge. The officers are: Mrs. J. N. Griffith, worthy matron; Mrs. F. E. Fox, associate matron; M. O. Ginty, worthy patron; Katherine Foster, secretary; Mrs. Florence Coverdale, treasurer; Mrs. Edith Flagle, conductor; Mrs. Adah LaMar, associate conductor; Ida Kitselman, Ada; Mrs. Etta Pierce, Ruth; Miss Arta Burdick, Esther; Miss Maude Clark, Martha; Mrs. Dr. Merritt, Electa; Mrs. Margaret Jump, warder; Marion Teagarden, sentinel; Mrs. Frank Rhodes, organist; Miss Grace Metzner, marshal.

Casso's orchestra furnished music for the installation and banquet that followed. The banquet room was beautifully decorated with northern pine and holly. The colors of the order, blue, yellow, white and green, decorated the table, at which Mesdames J. W. Probasco, F. E. Fox, M. Jump, E. Volmer, E. Flagle, A. LaMar, S. J. Hall, D. Gates and F. Rhodes presided. A dance followed the banquet.

The Home Missionary society of St. John's Lutheran church held a very interesting meeting Jan. 9th at the home of Mrs. H. C. Meyer. All old officers were re-elected. The society will meet again Feb. 13th at the residence of Prof. and Mrs. Stumpf, Washington boulevard.

YIELDS TO DEATH

CHARLES S. BRACKENRIDGE'S LIFE IS CLOSED.

LONG SUFFERING IS ENDED

END CAME AT NOON AT THE ST. JOSEPH HOSPITAL.

MAN OF BRILLIANT QUALITIES

WAS A CIVIL ENGINEER OF HIGH ATTAINMENTS.

Charles S. Brackenridge died at noon today at St. Joseph hospital, at the age of 59 years, after a long illness. The immediate cause of death was dropsy, which was attended by other complications. Deceased leaves a wife, a son, Charles, employed on the Cosmopolitan Magazine, in New York, and daughter, Helen, aged 13, living with her mother, who resides in Chicago.

Charles S. Brackenridge for the last quarter of a century or more was one of the familiar characters of Fort Wayne. He was the son of Robert Brackenridge, a prominent lawyer and for years the attorney of the Pennsylvania company. The deceased was a man of no ordinary accomplishments and with the advantage of a thorough collegiate education, polished by years of travel in America and Europe, he was extraordinary in many respects. He was of a rather nervous temperament, high strung and intensely proud of his family and origin, yet withal of such genial a disposition that his staunch friends were numbered only by the number of his acquaintances. At college he devoted himself to engineering studies and very early in the seventies engaged in the practical pursuits of a civil engineer's life. He was three or four times elected to the office of city civil engineer of this city and when, along about 1880 or '81, a stupid blunder of one of his assistants caused a costly mistake in the building of the Broadway sewer, he, uncomplainingly shouldered the blame at the cost of his position at the following election.

He then went to East Saginaw, Mich., where he designed and superintended the construction of the entire sewer system of that city, and the system is reputed to be one of, if not the best in the state. He lived there about three years and then returned to this city and engaged in private engineering. He planned the waterworks system at Bluffton and superintended its construction, put in the waterworks system at South Whitley and was either superintendent or consulting engineer on public works in at least a dozen surrounding cities and towns. Some half dozen years ago he removed to Cripple Creek, where his services were always in demand and after leaving there was made chief engineer of a Texas railroad in course of construction from an interior point to Sabine, on the gulf. He returned to the city the last time about two years ago and shortly after was taken seriously ill, being confined to the St. Joseph hospital for several months. After recovering he was an assistant in the county surveyor's office and did considerable work along the line of the Southwestern Traction company's road. Since the first attack of dropsy several years ago, the deceased, however, was never a well man and while painfully endeavoring to preserve the old time congeniality of spirit, frequently confessed to his intimates that he knew that his sun had set and that his final hour was fast approaching.

His last illness was of about three months' duration and his demise, while not at the time entirely unexpected, was not thought to be so near. By his death his acquaintances know they have lost a true friend and the community at the least has lost a manly man. Of his immediate relatives, Mack and Edward Brackenridge, both of Chicago, are full brothers, while Robert, Mrs. George Moon, of Warsaw; Mrs. Alfred Edgerton and Mrs. James C. Beeks, of Chicago, are half brother and sisters. George W. Brackenridge and Mrs. Johanna Hamilton, mother of School Trustee Hamilton, are cousins. The body was this afternoon removed to Peltier's and the funeral will probably be arranged for Sunday. Alex Hamilton has notified all the relatives by telegram and as soon as responses are received the definite funeral arrangements will be announced.

The Ladies' Aid society of Bethel Evangelical church elected officers last evening as follows: President, Mrs. C. Hetler; vice president, Mrs. Louisa Stecher; secretary, Mrs. Julie Humbel; treasurer, Mrs. Anna Lehman.

NEARLY FINISHED

BUTLER ROAD WILL BE COMPLETED SUNDAY.

ONLY TWO MILES TO BUILD

AT NOON TODAY AND MEN WORKING ON BOTH ENDS.

HANES' CONDITION NOT BAD

REPORTS OF THE ACCIDENT WERE EXAGGERATED.

If present weather conditions continue three days, the last rail on the New Haven-Butler road will be laid some time Sunday afternoon. At noon today the gap between the Butler and the New Haven ends of the road was less than two miles, and at the present rate of operations it will be entirely closed on the day mentioned. This information is made upon the authority of Civil Engineer E. H. Cole, who represents the contractors. The Sentinel stated a week ago, upon authority of Supt. E. A. Gould, that the line would surely be completed by next Tuesday. The weather has been exceptionally fine for January and the track layers have made better progress than the superintendent anticipated, he expecting some delay on account of storm or cold, and the completion of the road will occur two days earlier. A temporary water station has been erected at the Maumee river and everything is in readiness to put the line in operation as soon as the track laying and ballasting is finished. While the company is giving a good train service, the route is not as satisfactory as will be the route via Butler, and the completion of the new road will be hailed with delight by every man connected with the Wabash.

EACH HAD A FOOT HURT.

Oliver P. Reese, machinist in the Pittsburg shops, and H. M. Brokaw, of the tank shop, met with accidents yesterday that were very similar in character. A brake rod fell upon and bruised the right foot of Mr. Reese, and a piece of casting fell upon and bruised the right foot of Mr. Brokaw. Both gentlemen are off duty.

THE CONTEMPT CASE.

Relative to the case of contempt of court against the Baltimore and Ohio officials, which came before Judge Baker, at Indianapolis, the Indianapolis Journal this morning says: "Judge John H. Baker, of the United States district court, is hearing evidence on the petition of the Wabash Railway company to have the Baltimore and Ohio company and the Baltimore, Ohio and Chicago company show cause why they should not be punished for contempt. The matter grows out of the squabble of these roads over a crossing in DeKalb county. The Wabash wishes to cross the track of the other lines, and appears to have been having trouble in getting across. It is claimed the defendants violated an order issued by the court. It is claimed by attorneys of the defendant lines that a grade crossing would be dangerous, but that an under-grade crossing would be agreeable to defendants. The Wabash company is represented by Stuart, Hammond & Sims, of Lafayette, and A. C. Harris, of this city. The defendants are represented by W. H. H. Miller, of this city, and Senator Winfield, of Logansport."

QUEER LAW SUIT.

A novel damage suit is about to be instituted against the Lake Erie and Western Railway company. John Blaksley, of Bluffton, Ohio, who was shot a few days ago by Hays Greer, night operator at the Bluffton depot, through his having been mistaken for a prowling burglar, is about to begin action against the railroad people for damages on the theory that the company was negligent in keeping Greer in his place as night operator after he had been shot at twice recently by burglars. It is stated that he wanted to resign his place after being shot at the second time, but the company urged him to stay. Blakley thinks the tragic experience of Greer with highwaymen made him over-cautious and hence a dangerous man to callers at the depot at a late hour, which the company, by the exercise of due diligence, should have foreseen and relieved Greer in the interest of the safety to the patrons of the road. Mr. Greer has this week been given a day job at the station at Castalia. Mr. Blakley has placed his case in the hands of a firm of attorneys at Lima. He had a close call when shot by Green, but is now about recovered from the ugly wound inflicted by the shot.

AGENT HANES HURT.

A rumor of a painful character, concerning J. E. Hanes, for several years a conductor on the Plymouth accommodation, on the Pittsburg, has been in circulation here for two or three days. The story, however, was an exaggeration, as proven by the following item from the Plymouth Democrat: "J. E. Hanes, the Pennsylvania agent, suffered a severe fall Tuesday forenoon which will confine him to the house for several days. A car was set off here, to be picked up by the westbound mail, and Mr. Hanes went to the yards west of the crossing to look after it. What happened there is a complete mystery to Mr. Hanes, as he has no recollection of the accident of what occurred until he regained consciousness after being taken to his office. He was badly bruised in the small of the back, in the chest and one hand cut. His injuries are not of a serious nature, however, and it is expected that he will be out in about a week."

HEAVY TRAVEL YESTERDAY.

Westbound travel on the Nickel Plate is unusually heavy for this season of the year. It is principally through business, local travel not being more than ordinary. No. 1 yesterday had ten cars and every car had its full quota of passengers or baggage. The train was hauled by two engines.

A TOUCHING SCENE.

H. Phillips is a new fireman on the Nickel Plate road. His first trip was made one day last week with Engineer Lee Larimore. The engineer and fireman met for the first time in the Stony Island round house, a few moments before starting out upon the trip, and neither knew the name of the other. When the train was well under way and there was a moment's lull in the fireman's work, he said to the engineer:

"I heard the brakeman call you Larimore, and I wondered if you were related to Eli Larimore, my army comrade, who was drowned in the Pasig river, in the Philippines."

"He was my brother," said the engineer and a look of sadness came into his face as he thought of the fate of him he loved so well.

"I assisted in the search and the recovery of the body from the water," said the fireman, and the fire needing replenishing at that moment, nothing more was said by either for awhile. Later Mr. Phillips gave full particulars of the sad affair on the Pasig, much of which had never been told to Mr. Larimore before. Phillips was a member of the Thirty-eighth United States volunteer regiment, as was also Eli Larimore, and the two men were warm friends. The incident in the cab was the beginning of a friendship between the engineer and fireman which will undoubtedly continue through life.

WAS IN THE PHILIPPINES.

Henry F. Kohlback has taken a position as fireman on the Nickel Plate. He recently ended a three years' service in the United States army, first as a private in the Spanish-American war and later in the same capacity in the Philippine troubles. Mr. Kohlbach is a painter by trade and was a member of Foreman Joe Hale's gang, on the Nickel Plate, before the outbreak of hostilities with Spain.

WILL LEAD THE MEETING.

Frank Dildine, railway editor of the Daily News, will lead the men's meeting at the Railroad Y. M. C. A. next Sunday afternoon, his subject being, "Does it Pay to Live Right?" Mr. Dildine is a fluent talker, as well as good writer, and the services Sunday will be especially interesting.

SCOTT COOPER'S CONDITION.

News from Springfield concerning the condition of W. Scott Cooper, the general foreman of the Wabash shops at that place, is very discouraging. The wound in the eye does not heal satisfactory and there appears symptoms of the diseased condition extending to the other eye and possibly to the brain. Byron Strawn, a brother-in-law of the injured man, will go to Springfield tomorrow to see Mr. Cooper. The reader will remember that Mr. Cooper was struck by a spring hanger key four or five weeks ago.

WABASH PAY CAR.

The hearts of the Wabash employes were gladdened this morning by receipt of information that the pay car would arrive here on Thursday, January 23, fully a week in advance of the usual time. It was stated some weeks ago that the company intended to put on two pay cars and the change of date may be due to this cause.

THREE PROMOTIONS.

Brakeman H. Yates has been promoted to flagman on the Pittsburg road and has been assigned to Conductor Dragoo's crew. Extra Brakemen Boone and Rodey have been given regular positions, the former with Conductor T. McCarthy and the latter with Conductor P. S. Sullivan.

CAUGHT BICYCLE THIEF.

Captain H. Stull, of the Pennsylvania police, assisted Constable Baxter, of Van Wert, in locating and arresting a bicycle thief yesterday. The fellow gave the name of Walter Craig, but some papers in his pocket showed that his name was Wilshire Alexander and that he was recently dismissed from the Illinois reformatory at Pontiac. The wheel belonged to Charles Welsh, yardmaster at Van Wert, and it was taken from the Pittsburg freight house in that city.

A BRAKEMAN INJURED.

Pennsylvania Brakeman F. Dolan was brought to the city last night suffering from the effects of a fall from a box car at Inwood, Ind. The full extent of his injuries, which are chiefly internal, cannot be determined at present, but they are not considered of a lasting character. Drs. Stemen attended the unfortunate man.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Nickel Plate Engineer George Quidor is off duty on account of sickness.

C. W. Lathrop, Nickel Plate brakeman, is off duty on account of the serious illness of his child.

After an illness of three weeks, Nickel Plate Brakeman C. W. Monahan reported for duty yesterday.

Pittsburg Conductor Thomas McCarthy has returned to his duties on the road, after a short vacation.

Yard Engineer Harry Kelker, of the Pittsburg, is taking a lay-off and his engine is in charge of Engineer A. Greenick.

George J. Nichols, Fred Gleussenkamp, A. Kummer and L. G. McCulloch, Pittsburg shopmen, are sick and off duty.

Nickel Plate Brakeman Richards is moving his family from Fostoria to this city. He has rented the house at 41 Elm street.

During the past week there were repaired and turned out of the Pittsburg shops engines 153, 86, 175, 127, 114, 35 and 58.

Assistant Foreman Frank J. Burns, who was sick two or three days, resumed work in the Pittsburg round house this morning.

J. C. Winans, traveling passenger agent of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton, left this morning for Toledo on business for the company.

Car inspectors of the Pennsylvania lines at Indianapolis, forty in number, have received notice of an advance in their pay ranging from $5 to $10 per month.

Engine 18, just out of the Stony Island shops, went into service on the third district of the Nickel Plate yesterday, with Engineer D. Obey and Fireman A. O. Street in the cab.

President Hughitt, of the Chicago and Northwestern, has issued an order that any employe who has been in the service twenty years may be retired on a pension. Heretofore thirty years was the age limit.

Daniel Murphy, of Bellevue, is an honest man. A few days ago he picked up a package containing $20,000 which had fallen from a Nickel Plate express car. The package was very promptly turned over to the express agent.

H. L. Thompson, of the east car shops, received a blow from a car spring which rendered him unconscious for awhile and bruised the chin severely. The blow was identical to the knock-out "swipe" which put McGovern out of business a few weeks ago.

Bellevue Gazette: "Mrs. N. Asterlin went to Fort Wayne this morning to attend the funeral of Nickel Plate Engineer James Lindsey, who was killed at Mortimer Sunday morning. For a period of twelve years Mr. Lindsey boarded at the home of Mrs. Asterlin and he seemed as one of the family."

V. P. Allen, dispatcher of the Nickel Plate, and W. M. Ross, dispatcher of the Grand Rapids and Indiana, have resumed their respective stations after an absence of several days on account of the death of their father-in-law, Victor Cavalier, of Arcola.

The quarrel that has been under way for a year between the city of Findlay and the Toledo and Ohio Central railway has been adjusted. The action was begun by the city requiring that trains run six miles an hour within the city limits. Under the agreement they are allowed to run ten miles an hour.

Asa Roebuck, recently returned from the Philippines, took a position in the Pittsburg roundhouse this morning. C. H. Eix, W. H. Eix and F. E. Mulhern, who worked in the roundhouse less than a month, resigned their positions this morning to engage in other work.

The Bass works and other labor-employing establishments are being annoyed by men who take positions there only for a day or two or until they can find something easier and more to their tastes. This practice keeps the working force in bad shape. A man hardly learns how to perform the work, when he quits and a new one takes his place.

NEARLY FINISHED

BUTLER ROAD WILL BE COMPLETED SUNDAY.

ONLY TWO MILES TO BUILD

AT NOON TODAY AND MEN WORKING ON BOTH ENDS.

REPORTS OF THE ACCIDENT WERE EXAGGERATED.

If present weather conditions continue three days, the last rail on the New Haven-Butler road will be laid some time Sunday afternoon. At noon today the gap between the Butler and the New Haven ends of the road was less than two miles, and at the present rate of operations it will be entirely closed on the day mentioned. This information is made upon the authority of Civil Engineer R. H. Cole, who represents the contractors. The Sentinel stated a week ago, upon authority of Supt. E. A. Gould, that the line would surely be completed by next Tuesday. The weather has been exceptionally fine for January and the track layers have made better progress than the superintendent anticipated, he expecting some delay on account of storm or cold, and the completion of the road will occur two days earlier. A temporary water station has been erected at the Maumee river and everything is in readiness to put the line in operation as soon as the track laying and ballasting is finished. While the company is giving a good train service, the route is not as satisfactory as will be the route via Butler, and the completion of the new road will be hailed with delight by every man connected with the Wabash.

EACH HAD A FOOT HURT.

Oliver P. Reese, machinist in the Pittsburg shops, and H. M. Brokaw, of the tank shop, met with accidents yesterday that were very similar in character. A brake rod fell upon and bruised the right foot of Mr. Reese, and a piece of casting fell upon and bruised the right foot of Mr. Brokaw. Both gentlemen are off duty.

THE CONTEMPT CASE.

Relative to the case of contempt of court against the Baltimore and Ohio officials, which came before Judge Baker, at Indianapolis, the Indianapolis Journal this morning says: "Judge John H. Baker, of the United States district court, is hearing evidence on the petition of the Wabash Railway company to have the Baltimore and Ohio company and the Baltimore, Ohio and Chicago company show cause why they should not be punished for contempt. The matter grows out of the squabble of these roads over a crossing in DeKalb county. The Wabash wishes to cross the track of the other lines, and appears to have been having trouble in getting across. It is claimed the defendants violated an order issued by the court. It is claimed by attorneys of the defendant lines that a grade crossing would be dangerous, but that an under-grade crossing would be agreeable to defendants. The Wabash company is represented by Stuart, Hammond & Sims, of Lafayette, and A. C. Harris, of this city. The defendants are represented by W. H. H. Miller, of this city, and Senator Winfield, of Logansport."

QUEER LAW SUIT.

A novel damage suit is about to be instituted against the Lake Erie and Western Railway company. John Blaksley, of Bluffton, Ohio, who was shot a few days ago by Hays Greer, night operator at the Bluffton depot, through his having been mistaken for a prowling burglar, is about to begin action against the railroad people for damages on the theory that the company was negligent in keeping Greer in his place as night operator after he had been shot at twice recently by burglars. It is stated that he wanted to resign his place after being shot at the second time, but the company urged him to stay. Blakley thinks the tragic experience of Greer with highwaymen made him over-cautious and hence a dangerous man to callers at the depot at a late hour, which the company, by the exercise of due diligence, should have noted and relieved Greer in the interest of the safety to the patrons of the road. Mr. Greer has this week been given a day job at the station at Castalia. Mr. Blakley has placed his case in the hands of a firm of attorneys at Lima. He had a close call when shot by Green, but is now about recovered from the ugly wound inflicted by the shot.

Owing to an unusually large business and lack of room for storage for large stocks purchased, importers and jobbers with whom we placed orders, have asked for the privilege of shipping at once, without change of terms. This of course crowds us for room and compels us to place on sale lines that are not usually offered for several months yet.

Paraguay is a little late with her revolution, but has come dutifully to the scratch and regains a position of good fellowship with the balance of the South American republics that are "revoluting," butchering and raising Cain generally.

In its present form it is almost a foregone conclusion that the franchise proposition just presented to the board of works by the Fort Wayne Traction company cannot secure the city council's approval, even should it meet with favorable consideration from the board of works. A fifty-year franchise with no provisions for new conditions that half a century is bound to bring is seriously disabled, to say the least.

The vote on the amendments to the Nicaragua canal bill showed that the national house of representatives is pretty evenly divided on the question of routes, nearly half of the members favoring the Panama way. The final vote on the Hepburn bill showed that the house is practically unanimous in wishing to get the measure disposed of. It is a measure that from various causes has the effect to make statesmen wary of dallying with it.

Walter Wellman, the usually well-informed Washington correspondent of the Chicago Record-Herald, has discovered that Gen. Nelson A. Miles has hived a presidential bee in his bonnet and greatly enjoys the music of the insect. It is set forth that General Miles has discovered his comment on the Schley verdict renders him popular and that the president's reprimand elicits a strong feeling of public sympathy for the general commanding the army. The Record-Herald's correspondent further asserts that General Miles believes a ticket composed of himself and either Admiral Dewey or Admiral Schley would be a winner.

Hon. Arthur P. Gorman has realized the fruits of his elaborate political machinations and will be returned to the United States senate. He has won the nomination in the democratic legislative caucus and his election is now only a matter of legal form. Gorman's return to the senate is of the utmost political importance. Long considered as a presidential possibility, this recent triumph doubtless places him squarely in the field, if he is nursing ambition of that sort. The Maryland statesman is a politician of the highest accomplishments. He knows the game as few men have the capacity to learn it or the talents to play it. Doubtless he may be considered strong in the east. In the south he is unmistakably powerful, his strength being the natural outcome of his fight against the force bill, then a republican design that was prosecuted with unusual vigor. In the west Gorman's political accomplishments have always been admired and he holds the regard of many powerful leaders, but he cannot be said to be in any real sense of the term popular. By many he is distrusted, though he would command loyal support of the democratic masses. At all events, his success in his senatorial campaign fledges his wings for an ambitious flight, if he prefers to be a candidate of his party instead of its Warwick, the latter a role he can doubtless play if he likes.

Referring to former mining losses the Professor gives a very rational explanation.

He says the cause lies in the easterner not being able to discriminate between good and bad—that they will follow some "fellow they know" with a gold rock in his pocket, and without an atom of mining knowledge, but take to the woods if shown real mining propositions by practical mining men.

He says he will give 5,000 shares of K. S. stock to be shown a single mine that ever failed to pay, if it contained the points guaranteed to exist in the Deer Creek mines of the K. S. Co. These facts appear elsewhere in The Sentinel today, and ought to be read. Mr. Woody's attitude before the public is most honorable. He courts investigation. His claims are not unreasonable. Their confirmation makes his proposition a certain success.

FRANCHISE ASKED

TRACTION COMPANY MAKES A PROPOSITION.

WANTS A FIFTY-YEAR TENURE

SEVERAL MILES OF EXTENSIONS SPECIFIED.

DOWN TOWN LOOP INCLUDED

BOARD OF WORKS NOW HAS THE MATTER IN HAND.

The Fort Wane Traction company last evening presented to the board of works the draft of a franchise which in its present state is in the nature of a proposition. The franchise in a general way provides for a number of much needed extensions, for the "Clinton street loop," double trackage in several localities, accommodations for interurban roads, six-for-a-quarter tickets on sale on the cars, paving of all streets between the tracks not now obligatory on the company, a waiting room for passengers and other concessions, the whole specifically based upon a life of fifty years.

THE PROVISIONS.

Specifically the provisions of the proposition are substantially as follows.

A single track on Broadway from Creighton avenue southwest to the St. Marys river.

A single track on Calhoun street from Creighton avenue south to John avenue, thence west to Hoagland avenue, thence north to Organ avenue, thence west to Fairfield avenue.

A single track on Pontiac street from Calhoun street east to the city limits.

A double track on Winter street from Lewis street south to Seldon street, thence west to the Wayne trace, now known as Pioneer avenue, and on the Wayne trace southeast to the city limits. It is provided that this extension shall be built only in the event that an interurban line from the southeast seeks entrance at this point and it is also provided that in the event of its building, then that portion of the existing line between Winter street and Walton avenue shall be abandoned.

A single track on Huffman street from Wells street west to Jessie street, thence south one square to Spring street, thence east one square to Franklin avenue, thence north one square to Huffman street, forming a loop about a single block. This paragraph also provides for a "Y" at the intersection of Creighton and Walton avenues.

An additional track on Main street from Calhoun street to Broadway.

An additional track on Columbia street from Calhoun street to Lafayette street and from there a double south on Lafayette street to Main, which shall be known as the "freight loop."

A double track on Clinton street from Main to Columbia street to join the double track already provided for there and to be known as the "passenger loop."

OTHER PROVISIONS.

Then come lengthy and detailed provisions for the setting of poles inside the curb lines, for the placing of necessary curves, the stringing of wires and such other privileges as are necessary for the successful operation of a street car system according to present appliances.

In consideration of receiving the grants asked for as heretofore enumerated the company agrees to carry passengers within the city limits for a fare of five cents "and no more;" to at all times have tickets on sale on the cars at the rate of six for 25 cents and to sell limited tickets, popularly known as workingmen's tickets, at the office in transferable lots of 100 for $3.50. The company further agrees to join interurban companies in the maintenance somewhere on the "passenger loop" of a suitable waiting room for passengers, said passenger loop being the one encircling the block directly north of the court house. The overhead system is expressly stipulated in the franchise asked for, but the company agrees to make all repairs to water mains made necessary from the effects of electrolysis.

The company further agrees at once to pave between the tracks on all streets it now occupies not already so paved, with the same material and in the same manner as the balance of the street is paved and to maintain all pavements to a distance of twelve inches from the outside rail, and to at all times in the future at its own expense pave between the tracks on all streets it occupies with the same material as shall be used on the balance of the street and the work to be done according to the specifications of the board of works and under the supervision of the city engineer; and it further agrees to keep the rails at the proper grade and to use such rails of modern pattern as may be designated by the board.

DEMANDS FIFTY YEARS.

The document then switches about and demands absolute right-of-way against all other vehicles and sets out that the one basic consideration for all these concessions is that the franchise must be for fifty years and no less.

The last dozen pages of the proposition relate to the use of the traction company's lines by interurban companies. The traction company agrees to widen its switches so that the wider cars of interurban lines can pass on them and promises to extend its lines to the city limits on the route asked for whenever any interurban company shall have completed its line to within five miles of the city limits. It agrees to an equal division of urban fares whether they be straight five-cent fares or based on six-for-a-quarter tickets. Three dollars per car for freight handling to a central point is named as the consideration and numerous provisions are made for schedules, placing of responsibility for accidents and other matters not of general interest to the public.

MEMBERS ARE RETICENT.

The board has not yet taken the matter up and none of the members are inclined to speak much about it. The document is a very lengthy one and relating to so many and so varied conditions will require considerable time for digestion. It is safe to say, however, that the proposition will not go through in its present form, the principal objection being to the life of the franchise and the arbitrary fare provisions. It is probable that a provision will be introduced subjecting the matter of fare charges to revision at least every ten years. One member of the board at least said that he would not vote for a fifty-year five-cent fare rate, arguing that within ten years there might be such a revolution in street car traffic that it would be profitable to carry passengers at a cent apiece, and yet the Fort Wayne Traction company would have every inch of territory tied up and could demand a five-cent fare and people would have to pay it or walk. The proposition will probably go to the special committee which meets tomorrow evening, not for action, but for information and discussion.

KING SOLOMON'S MANAGER OFFERS ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS IN GOLD IF YOU CAN PROVE IT.

Some good Fort Wayne people are "warning" their friends to "beware" of King Solomon.

The advice is GOOD if King Solomon is bad. But if King Solomon is GOOD your "friends" whom you have prevented from making the best investment ever offered them will feel like and will be justified in "booting" you across the state line.

In view of the pernicious activity of these "FREE ADVICE DISPENSARIES" it is proper that the PROMOTER be heard.

I came to Indiana, my native state, to interest my life-long friends, my former teachers, pupils and classmates and relatives in a GOLD MINE.

A man who WILLFULLY MISREPRESENTS wears the brand of depravity and deserves to be an outlaw and an outcast from every sacred spot of MEMORY.

I am not ready to pay that price for all the wealth of all the gold mines of earth.

Therefore, before I ever stepped upon Hoosier soil as King Solomon's servant I safeguarded the investment of my friends with the plainest and best guarantee ever made by any mining company. Not yet content, I required that the stock sold east be preferred to the full amount paid for it, so that every investor should get back every dollar he put in before the men out west could get anything.

There was just one thing more to do to insure absolutely against failure—namely, to go to the mines and confirm or upset the claims made to me.

Preliminary to this trip I fixed upon TEN THINGS which I deemed essential to success, and resolved not to endorse the property unless every point could be answered affirmatively.

Here they are and the ANSWERS I affixed after the investigation.

FIRST, Is the location of the mines as to health, climate, accessibility such as to commend them? YES.

SECOND, Are the ORE BODIES so situated on the mountain side as to permit of cheap mining—that is, can we mine by tunnels, or if by SHAFTS are we free from water and crumbly, dangerous walls? YES.

THIRD, Do the ORE VEINS aggregate 30 feet wide? YES.

FOURTH, Can the mill be so located as to give 500 feet of ore above the working tunnel? YES.

FIFTH, Are the ores free from copper, lead, zinc and sulphur (the undesirable elements)? YES.

SIXTH, Will the gold-silver values average $4.50 per ton for a width of 30 feet? YES.

SEVENTH, Can an automatic gravity mill be built on the ore or near enough to insure cheap handling? YES.

EIGHTH, Are wood and water available for all mining and milling purposes? YES.

NINTH, Are the ores treatable by any one of the following methods:—CONCENTRATION, AMALGAMATION (such as the Hicks method) or CYANIDE? YES.

TENTH, Does this property possess every essential that I deem necessary to a successful gold mining proposition? YES.

The first nine are specific and I will give any man, woman or child in Fort Wayne $1,000 IN GOLD who can disprove any statements therein.

These questions and answers were asked and answered before the King Solomon company ever published a line about the Deer Creek mines. This explains the difference between their reports and mine.

Now WHY did I fix $4.50 in value on the ores? Why did I want a GRAVITY MILL?

My sole object was to get conditions that guaranteed dividends to my friends.

The above gave me a mill whose expenses would never exceed $1 a ton charges and a mine that it would never cost over 50c a ton to mine the ore. Total expense, $1.50 per ton. On $4.50 three dollars would be profit, enough to guarantee 100 PER CENT. ANNUAL PROFIT on the stock at the estimated average price of 20c a share.

Reference to the map and the statement of the company show that the mine is far richer than any early estimates ever placed upon it.

If I have become enthusiastic it is because the constant improvement multiplies the certainty of success on a larger scale.

In conclusion, I will say to those who fear King Solomon that we want you to stay out, but that your friend who buys 1,000 shares of King Solomon Preferred stock and pays $200 for it will get his $200 back in sixty days after the MILL STARTS, and that he will get $200 a year in dividends, while you will get on YOUR $200 invested in these "sure things" in Fort Wayne a possible $10 or $20 a year.

Bring any expert you wish to Room 48, the Aveline, get his opinion on the ore, send it wherever you please for any purpose you please.

We only ask you to believe the truth when proven and not to pass judgment until you know whereof you speak.

A MINE OF FABULOUS RICHNESS.

The doubter may read of this mine and still doubt, but doubting a truth does not make it false. The Deer Creek mines are opened up 3,000 feet in length, 300 feet deep and the vein is more than 30 feet wide. Doubt cannot take an inch from any of these dimensions. This quantity of ore equals 1,000,000 cubic yards. Each yard contains two tons, and each ton $10—$20,000,000 all told. Doubt cannot take a dollar from that sum. It is mathematically correct. Only one doubting genius has ever advanced a logical argument against it: Here it is: "If these statements were true some other fellow would have gotten the mines before you did." No doubt this same logician is wondering why Eve didn't marry some other man than Adam.

IS NOT OUR ESTIMATE CONSERVATIVE ENOUGH?

First—We have figured but one of the two large veins extending from the mill and by the shaft house on the hill—thus cutting one-half off by this one estimate. (See map above.) Second—We have figured this one vein only 30 feet wide, when it is 40 feet wide—cutting off one-fourth more by this deduction. Third—We figure 300 feet deep, because we are that deep. No doubt the ore extends 3,000 feet deep. Fourth—We figure 3,000 feet long, but we know the vein is 4,500 feet long. Fifth—There are several other veins besides the two big ones. All these are left out of the estimate. Sixth—We estimate but $10 per ton. Our 528 assay ton tests have averaged $26.72 in gold, $13.73 in silver—a total of $40.45 per ton. Then is $10 too high or $20,000,000 extravagant?

ABOUT THE CITY HALL.

The mayor, the city clerk and Chief Hilbrecht, of the fire department, last evening canvassed the firemen's vote for trustee of the firemen's pension fund. THE NEWS OF THE POLICE

Ed. Haskell is now in the county jail thinking the matter over. He was arrested last evening by Officer Strodel and was very drunk at the time. He had a pair of iron "knuckles," with which he attempted to show the officer something, but the officer showed him first. It was eleven days for Edward.

"Jack, the Peeper," was loitering around Father Koerdt's residence at St. Peter's church last evening. Officers were sent there but when they arrived he had disappeared.

The South Wayne school house, on Indiana avenue, was entered by vandals on Wednesday night. Desks were broken open, but so far as known nothing of value taken.

Officer Greer acted as pacificator at a family row on Francis street last evening and made no arrests.

Superintendent Gorsline was today notified of a shooting affair which occurred last night at a farm house about twelve miles west of Van Wert. An unknown man entered the farmer's house and when discovered commenced firing, planting one of the shots in the farmer's leg; four other shots did no damage. The man then ran away, leaving behind an overcoat, a hat, one mitten and a C. & E. railroad lantern.

Marshall Glass, accused of stealing a coat from a fellow boarder named Voiland, was released on his own recognizance. None of the stolen property was found in his possession.

A single track on Calhoun street from Creighton avenue south to John avenue, thence west to Hoagland avenue, thence north to Organ avenue, thence west to Fairfield avenue.

A single track on Pontiac street from Calhoun street east to the city limits.

A double track on Winter street from Lewis street south to Seldon street, thence west to the Wayne trace, now known as Pioneer avenue, and on the Wayne trace southeast to the city limits. It is provided that this extension shall be built only in the event that an interurban line from the southeast seeks entrance at this point and it is also provided that in the event of its building, then that portion of the existing line between Winter street and Walton avenue shall be abandoned.

A single track on Huffman street from Wells street west to Jessie street, thence south one square to Spring street, thence east one square to Franklin avenue, thence north one square to Huffman street, forming a loop about a single block. This paragraph also provides for a "Y" at the intersection of Creighton and Walton avenues.

An additional track on Main street from Calhoun street to Broadway.

An additional track on Columbia street from Calhoun street to Lafayette street and from there a double south on Lafayette street to Main, which shall be known as the "freight loop."

A double track on Clinton street from Main to Columbia street to join the double track already provided for there and to be known as the "passenger loop."

OTHER PROVISIONS.

Then come lengthy and detailed provisions for the setting of poles inside the curb lines, for the placing of necessary curves, the stringing of wires and such other privileges as are necessary for the successful operation of a street car system according to present appliances.

In consideration of receiving the grants asked for as heretofore enumerated the company agrees to carry passengers within the city limits for a fare of five cents "and no more;" to at all times have tickets on sale on the cars at the rate of six for 25 cents and to sell limited tickets, popularly known as workingmen's tickets, at the office in transferable lots of 100 for $3.50. The company further agrees to join interurban companies in the maintenance somewhere on the "passenger loop" of a suitable waiting room for passengers, said passenger loop being the one encircling the block directly north of the court house. The overhead system is expressly stipulated in the franchise asked for, but the company agrees to make all repairs to water mains made necessary from the effects of electrolysis.

The company further agrees at once to pave between the tracks on all streets it now occupies not already so paved, with the same material and in the same manner as the balance of the street is paved and to maintain all pavements to a distance of twelve inches from the outside rail, and to at all times in the future at its own expense pave between the tracks on all streets it occupies with the same material as shall be used on the balance of the street and the work to be done according to the specifications of the board of works and under the supervision of the city engineer; and it further agrees to keep the rails at the proper grade and to use such rails of modern pattern as may be designated by the board.

DEMANDS FIFTY YEARS.

The document then switches about and demands absolute right-of-way against all other vehicles and sets out that the one basic consideration for all these concessions is that the franchise must be for fifty years and no less.

The last dozen pages of the proposition relate to the use of the traction company's lines by interurban companies. The traction company agrees to widen its switches so that the wider cars of interurban lines can pass on them and promises to extend its lines to thirty limits on the route asked for whenever any interurban company shall have completed its line to within five miles of the city limits. It agrees to an equal division of urban fares whether they be straight five-cent fares or based on six-for-a-quarter tickets. Three dollars per car for freight handling to a central point is named as the consideration and numerous provisions are made for schedules, placing of responsibility for accidents and other matters not of general interest to the public.

MEMBERS ARE RETICENT.

The board has not yet taken the matter up and none of the members are inclined to speak much about it. The document is a very lengthy one and relating to so many and so varied conditions will require considerable time for digestion. It is safe to say, however, that the proposition will not go through in its present form, the principal objection being to the life of the franchise and the arbitrary fare provisions. It is probable that a provision will be introduced subjecting the matter of fare charges to revision at least every ten years. One member of the board at least said that he would not vote for a fifty-year five-cent fare rate, arguing that within ten years there might be such a revolution in street car traffic that it would be profitable to carry passengers at a cent apiece, and yet the Fort Wayne Traction company would have every inch of territory tied up and could demand a five-cent fare and people would have to pay it or walk. The proposition will probably go to the special committee which meets tomorrow evening, not for action, but for information and discussion.

KING SOLOMON'S MANAGER OFFERS ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS IN GOLD IF YOU CAN PROVE IT.

Some good Fort Wayne people are "warning" their friends to "beware" of King Solomon.

The advice is GOOD if King Solomon is bad. But if King Solomon is GOOD your "friends" whom you have prevented from making the best investment ever offered them will feel like and will be justified in "booting" you across the state line.

In view of the pernicious activity of these "FREE ADVICE DISPENSARIES" it is proper that the PROMOTER be heard.

I came to Indiana, my native state, to interest my life-long friends, my former teachers, pupils and classmates and relatives in a GOLD MINE.

A man who WILLFULLY MISREPRESENTS wears the brand of depravity and deserves to be an outlaw and an outcast from every sacred spot of MEMORY.

I am not ready to pay that price for all the wealth of all the gold mines of earth.

Therefore, before I ever stepped upon Hoosier soil as King Solomon's servant I safeguarded the investment of my friends with the plainest and best guarantee ever made by any mining company. Not yet content, I required that the stock sold east be preferred to the full amount paid for it, so that every investor should get back every dollar he put in before the men out west could get anything.

There was just one thing more to do to insure absolutely against failure—namely, to go to the mines and confirm or upset the claims made to me.

Preliminary to this trip I fixed upon TEN THINGS which I deemed essential to success, and resolved not to endorse the property unless every point could be answered affirmatively.

Here they are and the ANSWERS I affixed after the investigation.

FIRST, Is the location of the mines as to health, climate, accessibility such as to commend them? YES.

SECOND, Are the ORE BODIES so situated on the mountain side as to permit of cheap mining—that is, can we mine by tunnels, or if by SHAFTS are we free from water and crumbly, dangerous walls? YES.

THIRD, Do the ORE VEINS aggregate 30 feet wide? YES.

FOURTH, Can the mill be so located as to give 500 feet of ore above the working tunnel? YES.

FIFTH, Are the ores free from copper, lead, zinc and sulphur (the undesirable elements)? YES.

SIXTH, Will the gold-silver values average $4.50 per ton for a width of 30 feet? YES.

SEVENTH, Can an automatic gravity mill be built on the ore or near enough to insure cheap handling? YES.

EIGHTH, Are wood and water available for all mining and milling purposes? YES.

NINTH, Are the ores treatable by any one of the following methods:—CONCENTRATION, AMALGAMATION (such as the Hicks method) or CYANIDE? YES.

TENTH, Does this property possess every essential that I deem necessary to a successful gold mining proposition? YES.

The first nine are specific and I will give any man, woman or child in Fort Wayne $1,000 IN GOLD who can disprove any statements therein.

These questions and answers were asked and answered before the King Solomon company ever published a line about the Deer Creek mines. This explains the difference between their reports and mine.

Now WHY did I fix $4.50 in value on the ores? Why did I want a GRAVITY MILL?

My sole object was to get conditions that guaranteed dividends to my friends.

The above gave me a mill whose expenses would never exceed $1 a ton charges and a mine that it would never cost over 50c a ton to mine the ore. Total expense, $1.50 per ton. On $4.50 three dollars would be profit, enough to guarantee 100 PER CENT. ANNUAL PROFIT on the stock at the estimated average price of 20c a share.

Reference to the map and the statement of the company show that the mine is far richer than any early estimates ever placed upon it.

If I have become enthusiastic it is because the constant improvement multiplies the certainty of success on a larger scale.

In conclusion, I will say to those who fear King Solomon that we want you to stay out, but that your friend who buys 1,000 shares of King Solomon Preferred stock and pays $200 for it will get his $200 back in sixty days after the MILL STARTS, and that he will get $200 a year in dividends, while you will get on YOUR $200 invested in these "sure things" in Fort Wayne a possible $10 or $20 a year.

Bring any expert you wish to Room 48, the Aveline, get his opinion on the ore, send it wherever you please for any purpose you please.

We only ask you to believe the truth when proven and not to pass judgment until you know whereof you speak.

A MINE OF FABULOUS RICHNESS.

The doubter may read of this mine and still doubt, but doubting a truth does not make it false. The Deer Creek mines are opened up 3,000 feet in length, 300 feet deep and the vein is more than 30 feet wide. Doubt cannot take an inch from any of these dimensions. This quantity of ore equals 1,000,000 cubic yards. Each yard contains two tons, and each ton $10—$20,000,000 all told. Doubt cannot take a dollar from that sum. It is mathematically correct. Only one doubting genius has ever advanced a logical argument against it: Here it is: "If these statements were true some other fellow would have gotten the mines before you did." No doubt this same logician is wondering why Eve didn't marry some other man than Adam.

IS NOT OUR ESTIMATE CONSERVATIVE ENOUGH?

First—We have figured but one of the two large veins extending from the mill and by the shaft house on the hill—thus cutting one-half off by this one estimate. (See map above.) Second—We have figured this one vein only 30 feet wide, when it is 40 feet wide—cutting off one-fourth more by this deduction. Third—We figure 300 feet deep, because we are that deep. No doubt the ore extends 3,000 feet deep. Fourth—We figure 3,000 feet long, but we know the vein is 4,500 feet long. Fifth—There are several other veins besides the two big ones. All these are left out of the estimate. Sixth—We estimate but $10 per ton. Our 528 assay ton tests have averaged $26.72 in gold, $13.73 in silver—a total of $40.45 per ton. Then is $10 too high or $20,000,000 extravagant?

ABOUT THE CITY HALL.

The mayor, the city clerk and Chief Hilbrecht, of the fire department, last evening canvassed the firemen's vote for trustee of the firemen's pension fund. The vote resulted: Dean, 1; Hilgeman, 14; Welch, 3; Young, 5; Kaag, 13 and Cleary, 19, a total of 55. Cleary was declared elected to serve for three years.

The council finance committee will meet tomorrow night.

THE NEWS OF THE POLICE

Ed. Haskell is now in the county jail thinking the matter over. He was arrested last evening by Officer Strodel and was very drunk at the time. He had a pair of iron "knuckles," with which he attempted to show the officer something, but the officer showed him first. It was eleven days for Edward.

"Jack, the Peeper," was loitering around Father Koerdt's residence at St. Peter's church last evening. Officers were sent there but when they arrived he had disappeared.

The South Wayne school house, on Indiana avenue, was entered by vandals on Wednesday night. Desks were broken open, but so far as known nothing of value taken.

Officer Greer acted as pacificator at a family row on Francis street last evening and made no arrests.

Superintendent Gorsline was today notified of a shooting affair which occurred last night at a farm house about twelve miles west of Van Wert. An unknown man entered the farmer's house and when discovered commenced firing, planting one of the shots in the farmer's leg; four other shots did no damage. The man then ran away, leaving behind an overcoat, a hat, one mitten and a C. & E. railroad lantern.

Marshall Glass, accused of stealing a coat from a fellow boarder named Voiland, was released on his own recognizance. None of the stolen property was found in his possession.

INSPECTING THE TUNNEL

OFFICIALS EXAMINE SCENE OF RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

Tests Made of the Signal Lights and Block System—Engineer Over His Nervous Collapse.

New York, Jan. 10.—District Attorney Jerome, State Railroad Commissioner Baker, Assistant District Attorney Garvan and Superintendent Franklin, of the railroad, made a trip of inspection today through the tunnel, the scene of Wednesday's accident. The party left the Grand Central station on a locomotive with no car attached. A thorough examination of the tunnel was made, including the workings of the block signal system. Tests were made also of the distance at which lights could be seen through smoke and steam in the tunnel. The signals in all their workings between 59th street and 56th street, where the accident occurred, were gone over and closely examined and tested.

The surgeons at Bellevue hospital said today that Thomas P. Murphy, whose leg was amputated last night as a result of injuries received in Wednesday's tunnel accident, had rallied from the operation and had good chances of recovery.

Arthur Whitely, who was scalded and hurt internally, was in a critical condition today. He is eighteen years old and was employed as a clerk.

Albert Wadley, of New Rochelle, who had both legs fractured, improved during the night. His daughter has been with him constantly since he was hurt.

John M. Wisker, engineer of the White Plains local, which ran into the Norwalk train, has recovered today from the nervous collapse which followed the wreck. He became more cheerful yesterday after his wife and an attorney called to see him.

Three of those hurt, Geo. Winter, Winfield Schulze and A. E. W. McCray, were not improved today. Winter was burned, his left leg was fractured and he suffered much from shock. He is not yet out of danger. Schultze and McCray were badly burned and each had a leg broken. A. W. Adams, the carriage manufacturer of this city, was better today.

MURPHY WILL RECOVER.

New York, Jan. 10.—The surgeons at Bellevue hospital said today that Thomas P. Murphy, whose leg was amputated last night as a result of injuries received in Wednesday's tunnel accident, had rallied from the operation and had good chances of recovery.

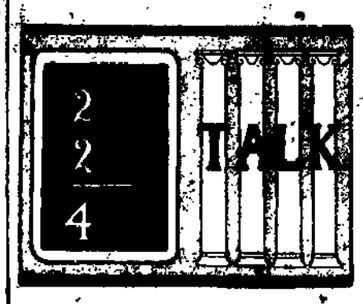
MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Adrian Wilds and May M. Shafer.

Merch Baldwin left this morning for Winslow, Ariz., where he has secured a position with the Santa Fe Railway company. After looking into several offers in this part of the country, Mr. Baldwin concludes to reject all to go west, where he hopes to receive physical benefits from the mild climate.

This is a good thing JEAVLY'S have it.

AN EXAMPLE



Will do more than columns of talk. We don't weary people with talk about great values that we don't really have. The people who say too much about their low prices, but never mention a price, need watching—or avoiding. Here's an example: $10.00 buys one of our Monon Cook Stoves. They are built upon honor and will do your cooking and baking satisfactorily. Nothing shoddy about this stove. See it by all means.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—Liverpool responded to yesterday's depression here with a lower cable list and in turn influenced a weaker feeling at the opening of the board today. May wheat started ½@⅝c to ⅝@¾c lower at 83½c to 83¼c, partly on the heavy northwestern movement. The trade was less active than for the last few days. An attempt to break the market on the early conditions was overcome by numerous buying orders around 83½c and the market steadied at that figure. After falling off from the high figure for the crop the market seemed to receive good support above 83c. There was talk again of a "worked" market. Local receipts were 45 cars, none of contract grade; Minneapolis and Duluth reported 534 cars, making a total for the three points of 579 against 335 last week and 550 a year ago. Argentine shipments were 144,000 bushels.

Nervousness over the government crop report expected today caused longs to unload wheat until May sold at 83c. Short covering and a tight country situation brought a reaction and a steady close, May unchanged at 83⅝@83¾c.

Corn opened heavy on the cables and in sympathy with wheat. There was a fair selling reported by foreigners. Trade was not important, though the country offerings were still light notwithstanding the mild weather. May opened a shade lower ⅛c, down at 66c to 66⅛c and sold to 66¼c. Receipts were 125 cars.

Following wheat corn slid down to 65¾@65½c for May, but rallied and closed steady a shade higher at 66⅜c.

Weakness in other grains brought a slightly easier tone in oats and realizing both for the local and outside accounts depressed prices somewhat. Both July and May options were sold short. May opened unchanged to a shade lower at 46⅛c to 46⅜c and cased to 46⅞c. Receipts were 166 cars.

Hog markets at the yards was slow and lower and brought an easier opening in provisions, followed by a further depression. May pork opened 5c to 2½c down at $17.22½ to $17.25 and sold off to $17.15@17.17½; May lard 2½c lower, touched at $9.90@9.92½ and lost 10c, and May ribs 2½c off at $8.75 and sold down to $8.67½@8.70.

THE CLOSE.

Prices at the close were as follows:

Wheat—Jan., 83¼c; May, 83⅝@83¾c; July, 83¼@83¼c.

Corn—Jan., 63c; May, 66½c; July, 66c; Sept., 64⅞c.

Oats—Jan., 45¾c; May, 46⅜c; July, 41½c; Sept., 33⅞c.

Pork—Jan., $16.75; May, $17.15@17.17½; July, $17.10.

Lard—Jan., $9.55; May, $9.80; July, $9.85.

Ribs—Jan., $8.30; Sept., $8.62½@8.65.

Flax—Cash N. W., $1.64½; S. W., $1.62; May, $1.66½.

Rye—Jan., 67¼c; May, 70c; July, 67c.

Barley—Cash, 58@64c.

Timothy—March, $6.60.

Clover—March, $10.15.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—Cattle—Receipts, 3,000; market strong. Good to prime, $6.50@7.40; poor to medium, $4.00@6.25; stockers and feeders, $2.25@4.75; cows, $1.25@4.75; heifers, $2.50@5.00; canners, $1.25@2.30; bulls, $2.00@4.60; calves, $3.50@6.50; Texas fed steers, $3.25@5.25.

Hogs—Receipts today, 30,000; tomorrow, 25,000; left over, 11,413. Market 5@10c higher. Mixed and butchers, $6.00@6.50; good to choice heavy, $6.30@6.75; rough heavy, $5.90@6.20; light, $5.80@6.15; bulk of sales, $6.00@6.35.

BUTTER, CHEESE AND EGGS.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—Butter—Market steady; creameries, 15@24½c; dairies, 14@20c.

Cheese—Market steady; twins, 10¼@10¾c; young Americas, 10¾@11¼c; daisies, 10¾@11¼c.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Jan. 10.—Opening prices were lower, with few exceptions. United States Steel stocks continued depressed, the preferred losing ¾. Sugar was supported and advanced ¾, and Amalgamated Copper, Pennsylvania, St. Louis and San Francisco and Brooklyn Transit made small gains. Support developed at other points and there were rallies from the opening declines.

The readiness with which the market recovered induced the room shorts to cover and some stocks rallied strongly. Most of the speculative favorites advanced above yesterday's close, St. Paul, Amalgamated, Manhattan, Missouri Pacific and Reading gaining a small fraction. Sugar exceptionally rose 1⅜. There was no response in the United States Steel stocks and the bears were encouraged thereby to sell the general list again. Prices all around relapsed to the opening level except Sugar, which was maintained around 123. Near 11 o'clock prices moved up again under the lead of Sugar, Manhattan, Amalgamated, Atchison and St. Paul. Consolidated Gas lost 2 and Delaware and Hudson 2½.

Traders took profits in Sugar and its decline of a point checked the rise elsewhere. Trading then became dull and spiritless and there was some setback to the coalers on the break in Delaware and Hudson to 176¼. Before noon dealings became active again and there was a rise in most of the prominent stocks to the highest prices of the morning. Manhattan sold at 140 and St. Paul at 164¼. Brooklyn Transit rose a point above last night and St. Louis and San Francisco 1¼. The market then became dull again and easier.

Bonds were irregular.

ABOUT THE COURT HOUSE.

The commissioners today established the Carnahan ditch, a joint ditch between DeKalb and Allen counties. The ditch was established on the report of the reviewers. On the report of the reviewers the Gump ditch was established in Perry township, as was the Young ditch in St. Joseph township. On the Johnson ditch, in Lake township, reviewers will be appointed and a petition for a ditch in Adams township signed by Christian Schaper was received and viewers will be appointed.

The case of Clara Donaldson vs. the J. F. Schell Investment company was today dismissed at the plaintiff's costs.

The case of Frank Rayhouser vs. Emory Glass has been set for trial in the circuit court for February 21, and that of Fairfield vs. Chapman for February 18.

Fred Wilson, sent to the reformatory in 1898 and for the past year out on parole, was today formally discharged.

Eugene B. Crabtree sues Charles M. Miller on a note for $250.

In the case of Albert J. Black, administrator of the estate of Mary J. Alderman, vs. Frederick Haiber, administrator of the estate of William Alderman, and W. Frank Alderman, administrator of the estate of Frank Alderman, Judge O'Rourke today handed down a special finding for the defendants. The suit was a long and closely contested one and involved a claim of $3,300. The defendants were represented by Judge Lowry and the plaintiffs by Hon. W. G. Colerick.

FARMERS IN CITY

of this committee on nominations for next year's officers, will be received Saturday at the opening of the afternoon session.

Resolutions—George V. Kell, William Kelsey, Michael Sheridan, J. D. Gloyd and L. C. Palmer.

The work of the afternoon was for the most part upon fruits and fruit culture. L. C. Palmer, of Scipio township, gave an interesting talk

PROF. STANLEY M. COULTER,
Of Purdue University, Lafayette, Who Will Speak This Evening.

upon "Cherries, Plums and Peaches." H. M. Widney, of St. Joe, who was to have spoken on "The Apple and How to Grow It," telegraphed that he was unable to be present, and Mr. Palmer and the speakers who followed him devoted some attention to the apple, also.

In opening Mr. Palmer said: "Let's be honest in this institute. If we've made mistakes, let's acknowledge them, for we sometimes learn as much from failures as success. We are not here to try to appear infallible, but we are here to learn what we can and to make our business more profitable."

Mr. Palmer believed that no fruit was more generally used than the cherry, and said none could be made more profitable, yet many farmers fail to produce their own cherries. The culture of the cherry is neglected in Allen county, though the tree is hardy and easily cultivated. It is almost the first fruit upon the farm which can be turned into cash. The speaker stated that he had not had a failure in the cherry crop in eight years of their culture. This is not the case with other crops, and if people would set out and cultivate more cherries there would be more money in their pockets. The crop had averaged 8 cents per quart during the years the speaker had been engaged in the culture.

Plum-raising, said Mr. Palmer, is not profitable in this locality, and as a business enterprise it is a failure. The speaker related his own unprofitable experience with this fruit, and stated that even in the northern fruit belt the growers were abandoning the culture of the plum. He advised planting only a few trees to produce what was needed for the use of the farmer's family.

AS GOOD AS MICHIGAN.

"For the peach," continued Mr. Palmer, "I want to say that it can be raised right here in Allen county as well as in Michigan. Those we grow here can be grown as large and as fine and of as good flavor as are produced in the Michigan peach belt. He told of the methods of planting and said that almost any soil except low muck ground was suitable for the peach, though the best is the high, gravelly soil, if it be not too dry. It would prove very profitable to those who go into it intelligently and carefully as a business venture. "Two-thirds of the peaches canned in Allen county last year," said Mr. Palmer, "were grown in Michigan, and that is a condition entirely unnecessary.

Following Mr. Palmer's talk, J. D. Gloyd gave an address on "Does Spraying Pay?" and Mr. Somers told "The Story of a Nubbin."

This evening's program will be unusually attractive, the program beginning at 7 o'clock, with music by Miss Mary Orvis. Mrs. Sam Houk will tell of "The Home Makers." Mrs. W. J. Vesey will speak on "Flowers for the Home," Mrs. T. E. Ellison will describe "The Wood Lot Near the Home," and the Misses Festro and Manley will render a duet. Closing the program Prof. Stanley M. Coulter, of Purdue university, will speak on "Nature's Lessons for Farmers and Others."

IT CLOSES TOMORROW.

The institute will close Saturday afternoon. Among the features of the morning session will be addresses by W. A. Hart, W. J. Esterline and Orlando Somers. In the afternoon comes the reports of committees and election of officers. W. A. Hart will speak on "Diseases of Swine," and Dr. Walter Langtry will tell of "Common Diseases of Stock and How to Recognize Them." Dr. J. L. Smith and W. P. Brown will give reports of the two supplementary institutes held some weeks ago at Hoagland and Monroeville.

C. B. Woodworth returned last evening from Indianapolis.

LIVED HERE HALF A CENTURY

MRS. ELIZABETH HENLINE DIES FROM CANCER.

Mrs. Elizabeth Stanton Succumbs to Cancer—Other Deaths and Funeral Notices.

Mrs. Elizabeth Henline died at St. Joseph's hospital this morning from cancer, at the age of 63 years. Mrs. Henline was a native of Germany, but came to Fort Wayne nearly fifty years ago.

Surviving are one daughter and six sons—Mrs. Blessing, of Washington township, and William, Samuel, George, John, Adam and Christ, Henline. The remains were removed to the home of her son, William Henline, 36 Pritchard street.

Announcement of the funeral services will be made later.

STANTON.

Mrs. Elizabeth Stanton, 68 years of age, died Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock at her home, 151 Hanna street. Mrs. Stanton had been in a critical condition since New Year's day, when she sustained a paralytic stroke, from which she never rallied.

Mrs. Stanton was born at Richmond, but had resided in Fort Wayne since 1886. Surviving are six children—Mrs. Bert Morey and Mrs. William Klingman, of this city; Mrs. A. C. Summer, of Chicago; Mrs. Gilman, of St. Louis, and William and John W. Stanton, of this city. Mrs. Mary McCulloch, of Muncie, is a sister.

Funeral services will be held from the residence Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

LARIMORE.

Thomas J. Larimore, for nineteen years a foreman on the Pennsylvania railroad, died Thursday evening at his home, 77 East Williams street, from Bright's disease. Mr. Larimore had been in failing health for some years, but has been incapacitated for duty since July last. He was nearly 43 years of age, having been born in Allen county, Indiana, Jan. 16, 1859.

In 1879 he was united in marriage to Miss Elmira Goheen, who survives him, together with three children, his parents, three brothers and four sisters. The children are Blanche, Grace and Walter Larimore. Mr. Larimore was a member of A. O. U. W. lodge No. 36, and of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen. He was quite well known and was held in universal esteem.

Funeral services will be conducted from the residence Sunday morning at 9 o'clock, Rev. E. Sawyer officiating. The interment will be at Eel River cemetery.

No argument is needed when Grape-Nuts are served for breakfast

FUNERAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Beuret.—Funeral services of John B. Beuret will be held Saturday morning at 8:30 from the residence, 34 East Second street, and at 9 o'clock from the Church of the Precious Blood.

Graue.—Funeral services of Frederick Graue will be held Sunday afternoon at 1:30 from the residence, 86 Home avenue, and at 2 o'clock from Emmaus Lutheran church.

AUTHORIZED NEW COMMITTEE.

After a prolonged discussion of the interurban terminal question last evening the Commercial club authorized the appointment of a committee of ten business men, who will make a tender of their services if it is acceptable, in an effort to secure some sort of temporary arrangement by which the cars of the Southwestern company may be brought to the central part of the city over the Traction company's lines until such time as an acceptable disposition may be made of the terminal problem. Chairman Culbertson will appoint the committee within a few days.

The B. Y. P. U., of the First Baptist church, will hold their monthly business meeting tomorrow evening at the home of Miss Anna Philley, 2903 South Calhoun street.

Mrs. J. R. Medsker entertained the members of the New Century club and a few friends Thursday afternoon.

Lazy Liver

When the liver goes wrong, everything is wrong. You have dyspepsia, coated tongue, constipation, biliousness, sick headache, nausea, general debility. One of Ayer's Pills each night, just one, gently starts the liver and removes all trouble.

"I have used Ayer's Pills for liver complaint, and have found them to be the best thing I have ever tried."

SENDING OUT MACHINERY.

Shipping Clerk John Keiss and his clerks and packers at the Fort Wayne Electric works, were very busy today, sending out machinery and supplies. One of the most important shipments was a carload of machinery and appurtenances to the Frankfort Electric Light company, Frankfort, Mich. Included in this shipment were two 1,500-light dynamos. A 600-light machine to Willoughby, Ohio, and a 600-light machine to Grand Rapids, Mich., also left the works today.

GETTING READY FOR SPRING.

Frank Closs, the armature winder at the Electric works, who last fall purchased fourteen cottages and a hotel at Blue lake, has already commenced preparations for the summer business at that resort, which promises to be very good. Mr. Closs will erect a number of additional cottages and purchase more boats. He will go to the resort tomorrow to put a number of men at work in filling the ice houses, getting the supply from the lake.

WHAT'S THE USE

Sticking to Any Habit When It Means Sure Death?

Old King Coffee knocks subjects out tolerably flat at times, and there is no possible doubt of what did it. A lady gives her experience. "I used to have liver trouble nearly all of the time and was compelled to take some liver medicine like calomel, which relieved me only for a little while. Then every once in a while I would be suddenly doubled up with an awful agony in my stomach. It seemed as though every time I took a breath I would die. No one could suffer any more and live.

"Finally I got down so sick with catarrh of the stomach that I could not turn over in bed, and my stomach did not digest even milk. The doctor finally told me that if I did not give up drinking coffee I would surely die, but I felt I could not give it up.

"However, husband brought home a package of Postum Food Coffee and it was made strictly according to directions. It was the only thing that would stay on my stomach, and I soon got so I liked it very much.

"Gradually I began to get better, and week by week gained in strength and health. Now I am in perfect condition, and I am convinced that the whole cause of my trouble was from coffee drinking, and my getting better was due to leaving off coffee and taking Postum.

"A short time ago I tasted some coffee and found, to my astonishment, that I did not care anything about it. I never have to take liver medicine any more. I hope you will use this letter for the benefit of those suffering from the poisonous effects of coffee. I would gladly send to those who wish the address of my attending physician, who will corroborate what I say." Mrs. Abner [illegible]

OUR SALE

LEADS ALL OTHERS

BY COMMON CONSENT THE GREAT JANUARY COST SALE NOW IN PROGRESS AT OUR STORE HAS NEVER BEEN EQUALED IN HISTORY OF DRY GOODS SELLING.

The fact is significant that our sale includes the entire stock, every department, every article. We do not merely particularize here and there at sale prices, but we offer to the trade (this month previous to our inventory) the entire stock at cost price.

In the cloak department we lose sight of the cost price entirely in our determination to sell every winter garment on hand. We have priced the garments so absurdly low that patrons find the cloak department simply irresistable.

Yesterday we received from a large manufacturing furrier over 500 fur scarfs, neck boas and fur jackets, with instructions to close out promptly. The prices on this lot of furs will astonish the oldest inhabitant.

We place on sale today over 200 jackets that sold from $6.00 to $20.00; choice $3.98.

Remember at cost price we will sell carpets, curtains, rugs, mattings, draperies, dress goods, silks, white goods and embroideries, linens, towels, napkins, sheetings, linings, velvets, laces, dress trimmings, umbrellas, corsets, gloves, hosiery, underwear, etc., etc., etc. etc.

We earnestly invite comparison of prices. We suggest that you call in the morning to avoid the afternoon crowds.

GENERAL FUNSTON RETURNS

THE BRAVE LITTLE FIGHTER SEES HIS NEW SON.

Speaks Modestly of the Capture of Aguinaldo—Must Undergo a Surgical Operation.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 10.—Brigadier General Frederick Funston was a passenger on the transport Warren, which arrived from Manila late yesterday afternoon. General Funston has been on the sick list for more than three months owing to an attack of appendicitis, and, although he has submitted to one operation, he is not yet well and in a few days will go under the surgeon's knife for the same trouble.

General Funston was not inclined to talk on the general situation in the islands, as he has been in the hospital so long that he feels as though he knows little concerning the conditions as they now exist. He said:

"I am only familiar with the situation in my own district, and even there I am speaking a good deal from hereasy, as I have been in the hospital since September. The provinces in my command were Bulacan, Pampanga, Pangasinan and those lying to the east toward Subig bay, six provinces in all. At first we had some trouble, but we finally drove the insurgents out and for months we had only an occasional brush with the enemy, those only small attacks upon small parties, participated in principally by bands of ladrones or thieves who operated only at night.

DENSELY POPULATED.

"My district was perhaps the most densely populated of any in the islands and was an exceedingly rich and productive country. But a small portion of it had been cultivated since 1896, but when the season for planting opened in the spring last year the acreage increased nearly 100 per cent and points at considerable distance from railroad that had not been touched for years were plowed.

"The conditons in that district when I left were very favorable, although I don't believe it would be advisable even now to withdraw the troops stationed there. Everything had been very quiet and peaceful about the larger cities of my district, and in many places the officers had their wives and children with them and feel perfectly safe."

When asked about the capture of Aguinaldo Funston said he had forgotten the dates and all but the most important facts. He said: "That story has been told months ago. It was a very simple affair and we never doubted that we would succeed. Beyond the hardships we suffered there was little to it and we were none the worse for the affair."

TOLD OF CHILD'S BIRTH.

General Funston did not know until he was informed by the boarding officer at quarantine that he was a father, as his son was born after the transport sailed from Nagasaki. As soon as possible he left the steamer and went at once to Oakland to see the new baby. The general will go to Kansas as soon after his operation as he can travel.

General Robert P. Hughes was also on the Warren. He has been in the Philippines longer than any of the general officers of the army. He sailed with General Merritt nearly four years ago and has been on constant duty ever since. Immediately after the capture of Manila he was made provost marshal of the city, and in this position he displayed remarkable executive ability.

WORKS A MIRACLE IN MANILA.

In a few months he changed Manila from one of the dirtiest cities in the orient to the cleanest. For two years he has been in command in the central islands, or Visayan group. He said in speaking of the conditons there:

"Everything has been quiet in Cebu, Panay and Negros for many months, but in Samar we have our work cut out. The people are hostile and the country is such that it is difficult to operate in, but if the American soldier is given full sway he wll settle the matter in time."

General Hughes has seen his last active service, as he will retire next year.

THE BOARD OF WORKS MEETS

NEW COMPETITOR IN PAVING MATERIAL ADMITTED.

Board Allows Kentucky Rock Asphalt to go in Specifications—

—The Engineer's Report.

The board of works met last evening and held a rather long and quite interesting session. The most important matter to receive the attention of the body was he new proposition submitted by the Fort Wayne Traction company, which is referred to elsewhere in this issue, and next came the decision of a majority of the board to admit Kentucky rock asphalt to the specifications for street paving. T. J. Peter represents the Kentucky system in this city and heretofore has been debarred from bidding on public work. Chairman Eggemann opposed the admission of rock asphalt on the theory that the company had no asphalt experts in its employ. Mr. Peters explained that inasmuch as his company would be obliged to give bond for the stability of its work and inasmuch also that there is more than one crew of asphalt workers in the United States, he thought it stood to reason that his company would be able to give as good service as any in the country. Mr. Peter's argument convinced the minority member and Mr. Doehrman said he believed that competition should be open to all reputable concerns and bidders and that settled the matter and Mr. Peter will hereafter be found among the list of competitors for street improvement contracts.

City Engineer Randall submitted his annual report, the gist of which was published in The Sentinel several days ago. Comprehensively it shows that the cost of public improvements during the past year was $266,566.59, of which the city's proportion was $15,147.33.

Bids for furnishing lumber were received as follows:

For oak—Kilian Baker, $19.90 per thousand; Peters Box & Lumber Co., $19.75; Smith & Randall, $19.40; Hilker Bros., $18.00. For pine—Ed. Gilmartin, $536 for the year; Henry Franke, $516; Fort Wayne Lumber company, $541; Klett Sons, $520; Diether Bros., $525; Rhinesmith & Simonson, $539.

Yesterday morning linemen for the Jenney company moved the arc light which hung at the head of Lewis street, on Ewing, about sixty feet north, to the intersection of Jefferson and Ewing streets. Before it was time to light up there was a howl in the wilderness and a delegation headed by Councilman Bauer called on the board of works last night and demanded to know the whys and wherefores. The entire board professed ignorance of the change and nobody could be found who was responsible for it. Today the lamp was moved back to its old position and tonight will once more shed its effulgent rays down the length of Lewis street.

DENTAL COTERIE OFFICERS.

The Isaac Knapp Dental Coterie mst last evening in the offices of Dr. G. E. Thompson and elected officers as follows:

President—Dr. J. H. Adams.
Secretary—Dr. G. C. Keel.
Treasurer—Dr. J. D. Coyle.

Papers by a number of leading dental practitioners were read and discussed.

INDIANA'S MILLIONAIRES.

The New York World almanac for this year enumerates the country's millionaires. Indiana is credited with only thirty. Five Indianapolis men are named as millionaires, but it is known here that the city has more. Terre Haute is said to have seven. The Indiana list is as follows:

Indianapolis—E. F. Claypool, C. W. Fairbanks, Stoughton Fletcher, Volney T. Malott and Henry Schnull.

Terre Haute—George W. Bennett, Andrew J. Crawford, Demas Deming, jr., Crawford Fairbanks, Herman Hulman, W. R. McKeen and Mrs. Sophia Wheeler.

Columbus—Francis T. Crump and Joseph I. Irwin.

Fort Wayne—John H. Bass and J. H. Cheney.

Greensburg—John E. Robbins.

Lafayette—James Fowler and James Murdock.

Richmond—William Dudley Foulke and J. M. Westcott.

Marion—Philip Matter.

Peru—C. H. Brownell, J. O. Cole, E. H. Shirks and Milton Shirks.

South Bend—James Oliver, Joseph Oliver, Clement Studebaker (lately deceased) and J. M. Studebaker.

Mothers, be sure and use Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for your children while cutting teeth. It is the best remedy of all. my8eod&w

CAN TELEPHONE FROM A CAR

BIDWELL PROVES SUCCESS OF INVENTION.

Inventor Talks From a Moving Trolley Car to Another on the Same Line.

Muskegon, Mich., Jan. 10.—C. P. Bidwell, of Toledo, Ohio, gave the first practical demonstration here yesterday of a telephone system (the invention of Mr. Bidwell's father) whereby it is possible to call up and talk from an electric car going at full speed with anyone who is located in another car on the same line running in any direction and at any distance. The system is applicable to either steam or electric roads. The overhead trolley is used for one side of the circuit and for the other a second wire is strung parallel with the stationary trolley. The metal trolley pole operates on the additional wire by means of a flanged wheel. A closed circuit is thus obtained. Telephone wires are attached to each of the two trolley poles which lead to the telephone in the car. The heavy voltage required to operate the electric cars is reduced to that used for telephone service by a special invention. Ordinary telephones were used in today's tests.

FLOWERS ASPHYXIATED.

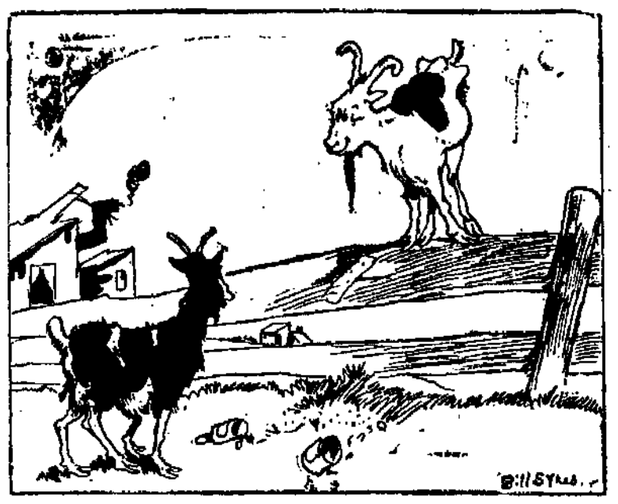
On the ground that the flowers in his greenhouses were killed by gas that leaked from the pipes on his premises Jacob Bomberger has brought suit in the superior court against the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company for $1,500 damages. Among the flowers said to have been killed were many valuable orchids and exotic plants belonging to wealthy residents in Chicago and kept in storage by Bomberger.

New pipes were laid and new connections made in October. Since that time, says the complaint, the flowers in the green houses at 446 East Sixty-fourth street have faded, withered and died. He says his business has been almost destroyed by the effect of the gas.—Chicago Record Herald.

HER MAIDEN NAME.

There is a general error in spelling Mrs. Roosevelt's maiden name. Before her marriage she was a Miss Carow, not Carew. The name is an old French Huguenot one, originally spelled Quereau, but was changed to Carow by Mrs. Roosevelt's grandfather, Isaac Carow, who experienced much trouble with men in business who never seemed able to spell Quereau properly. Some months ago a New York paper said that the name Quentin (of one of the boys) was a family name of the Roosevelts. The name belongs on the Carow side and was also a French Huguenot name originally spelled Quantine.—New York Sun.

Constantinople is free from the beggar nuisance only one day in the year, November 25. This is the festival of St. John the Almsgiver, the patron saint of the mendicant profession. No beggar of the Greek faith is on his or her beat that day.



Mrs. Nannie Goat—Why didn't you come to the entertainment last night?

Mr. Billy Goat—Well, you see, I ate a Calendar yesterday and must have gotten my dates mixed.

INSPECTING THE TUNNEL

OFFICIALS EXAMINE SCENE OF RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

Tests Made of the Signal Lights and Block System—Engineer Over His Nervous Collapse.

New York, Jan. 10.—District Attorney Jerome, State Railroad Commissioner Baker, Assistant District Attorney Garvan and Superintendent Franklin, of the railroad, made a trip of inspection today through the tunnel, the scene of Wednesday's accident. The party left the Grand Central station on a locomotive with no car attached. A thorough examination of the tunnel was made, including the workings of the block signal system. Tests were made also of the distance at which lights could be seen through smoke and steam in the tunnel. The signals in all their workings between 59th street and 56th street, where the accident occurred, were gone over and closely examined and tested.

The surgeons at Bellevue hospital said today that Thomas P. Murphy, whose leg was amputated last night as a result of injuries received in Wednesday's tunnel accident, had rallied from the operation and had good chances of recovery.

Arthur Whitely, who was scalded and hurt internally, was in a critical condition today. He is eighteen years old and was employed as a clerk.

Albert Wadley, of New Rochelle, who had both legs fractured, improved during the night. His daughter has been with him constantly since he was hurt.

John M. Wisker, engineer of the White Plains local, which ran into the Norwalk train, has recovered today from the nervous collapse which followed the wreck. He became more cheerful yesterday after his wife and an attorney called to see him.

Three of those hurt, Geo. Winter, Winfield Schulze and A. E. W. McCray, were not improved today. Winter was burned, his left leg was fractured and he suffered much from shock. He is not yet out of danger. Schultze and McCray were badly burned and each had a leg broken. A. W. Adams, the carriage manufacturer of this city, was better today.

MURPHY WILL RECOVER.

ADJOURNED COURT TO FIGHT

INCIDENT IN THE LIFE OF MAJOR M'FADIN.

Death at Logansport of a Famous Man Who Would Fight and Loved Children.

Logansport, Ind., Jan. 10.—Major S. L. McFadin, who died here Monday night, was born in Greenfield township, Fairfield county, Ohio, October 4, 1826. In 1839 his parents moved to this county. In 1846 McFadin enlisted in the Cass county volunteers and served through the Mexican war with distinction, being made a corporal on the field. At the close of the war McFadin returned here and began the study of law with W. Z. Stewart. In 1857 he was made a probate judge, and while in that capacity made almost a national reputation by adjourning court for "two minutes and a half until I lick Chamberlain." The latter was an attorney and had ruffled the major, who took the above course and carried out what he said he would, giving Chamberlain an artistic drubbing, when court was quietly resumed. In 1861 he was elected mayor of Logansport and held the office until 1866, when he was sent to the state legislature, serving until 1870, when he resigned to again become mayor of this city. From 1877 to 1885 he was clerk of Cass county. Major McFadin had more friends among children than any other man probably in the state. For years he gave annual skating parties, furnishing skates and mittens and things the children needed for amusement and comfort. When the major retired to private life he was well prepared with this world's goods, but shortly after lost several thousand dollars by investing in a gold brick. The swindlers had a gold brick that a jeweler drilled into and pronounced solid gold, but during the day a shift was made, which caused consternation when the discovery was made too late to head the men off. Since that time, while the major has had enough to live in comfort, he seemed to have lost heart and was, his friends say, never the same old major. At the time of his death he was marshal of the National Association of Mexican War Veterans, being elected at the last meeting held in Cleveland, Ohio. He was buried at Winamac, Ind., Wednesday afternoon.

PENSIONED BY CARNEGIE.

Johnstown, Pa., Jan. 10.—W. W. Wake, John McCune and Henry Hudson, veteran Pennsylvania railroad engineers, of this city, who were retired on pensions some time ago, yesterday received checks for $20 each from Andrew Carnegie. Mr. Carnegie was formerly the superintendent of the Pittsburg division on which these veterans worked, and it is understood to be Mr. Carnegie's purpose to pension all the trainmen who are yet alive who worked during his superintendency of that part of the road. Messrs. Wake, McCune and Hudson are to receive $20 every month for life and if they should die before their wives, the latter will continue to receive the Carnegie pensions.

MARCHED ACROSS SAMAR.

Washington, Jan. 10.—The navy department today received the following cablegram from Rear Admiral Rodgers, at Cavite:

"Waller reports having completed ten days' march across Samar, from Lanaug to Bahey. Column endured great hardships. Killed thirteen insurgents, captured captain, lieutenant and four men."

THE FRENCH DEFICIT.

Paris, Jan. 10.—A decrease in the revenue returns is again shown by the figures of the last three months, which are 8,271,844 francs below the estimates and 20,10,000 francs below the returns for the same period of 1900. The total deficit, for 1901 compared with the estimates, is 111,000,000 francs. The falling off is attributed to the non-importation of wine, in consequence of the exceptional crops of 1900 and 1901; to the rearrangement of the excise liquor duties, and to the sugar bounty policy. The latter is responsible for 42,000,000 francs of the deficit.

TO CUT TAMMANY BUDGET.

Millions of dollars will be cut from the budget made by the Tammany administration for the expenses of the city this year. Mayor Seth Low and Comptroller Grout have decided that the appropriations allowed to the various city departments by Van Wyck and his associates on the board of estimate were extravagant.

Mr. Low and Mr. Grout had a long talk, after which the new comptroller said a plan of retrenchment had been decided upon and that action would be taken at once.

The Tammany budget was announced a week before the election. Including the expenses of courts and departments in all boroughs it amounted to $97,974,413.43. This was a decrease in the budget of the previous year of only $125,871.80, in spite of the fact that the new charter abolished certain departments and that the amount for state taxes this year will be $2,443,527.83 less than last year. The new charter cut more than 8 million dollars from this year's budget, compared with that of last year. This forced reduction was balanced up by an arbitrary increase by Mayor Van Wyck and his colleagues of $10,691,245.30.

The new charter provides that at any time after May 1 it is within the authority of the board of estimates to alter the budget. Mayor Low and Grout decided to call a session of the board of estimates next Monday, when the amounts apportioned to the departments by Mayor Van Wyck will be considered and compared with the demands of the present commissioners.

The first feature of economy will be the reduction of the army of officeholders retained on the Tammany pay rolls. That this cut will come was foreshadowed by the orders yesterday from Perez M. Stewart, superintendent of buildings, and Commissioner Lederle, of the health board. In the department of buildings seventy-five Tammany men were discharged and a number of transfers made. In the health department a general shake-up followed the appearance of the new commissioner.

Comptroller Grout also announced that he had decreased salaries several thousand dollars.—New York Journal.

THEIR DIGESTION IS GOOD.

The appetite of the average small boy is one of the marvels of the century. An English school master who has made a special study of the gormandizing capacity of his pupils testifies that while he found a superabundance of capacity there was actually little or no limit.

Perhaps after rich cake, both fruit and plain, the first favor, according to the school master, is condensed milk. This is often eaten without a spoon by simply making two small holes in the top of the can and placing the lips against them. Then after this came chocolates, chocolate cream, chocolate candy, chocolate cake.

"It may be thought I am exaggerating," he says, "when I say that I have seen a boy of ten years eat in a single afternoon enough food to satisfy an adult party of twelve persons. I have myself known a little, frail boy to eat a portion of a rich cake, a third of a one-pound can of condensed milk, four ounces of mixed chocolate, a handful of assorted sweets, two oranges, one apple, four gingerbread cakes, a dozen Brazil nuts and two large pieces of peppermint candy.

"Did it make him ill? Did he lie down and groan and await the coming of the medical man with the stomach pump? Not he; he just had one of two faint symptoms of uneasiness which he quickly dispelled by a few well-drawn gapes, much after the manner of a sleeping baby. Then he walked about for a time and presently accepted an invitation to join in a game of ball."

The schoolmaster's observations have led to the very natural deduction that a boy's condition is in many ways different from that of the trained strong man. The latter could not eat the things that a boy could because his fitness is mainly muscular, while the boy's is, in addition to being muscular, organic. The man may have a sluggish liver or faulty kidneys and still be a strong man, but the boy who runs and romps and turns somersaults and shouts and laughs and twists and turns and shouts hasn't a single blemish.

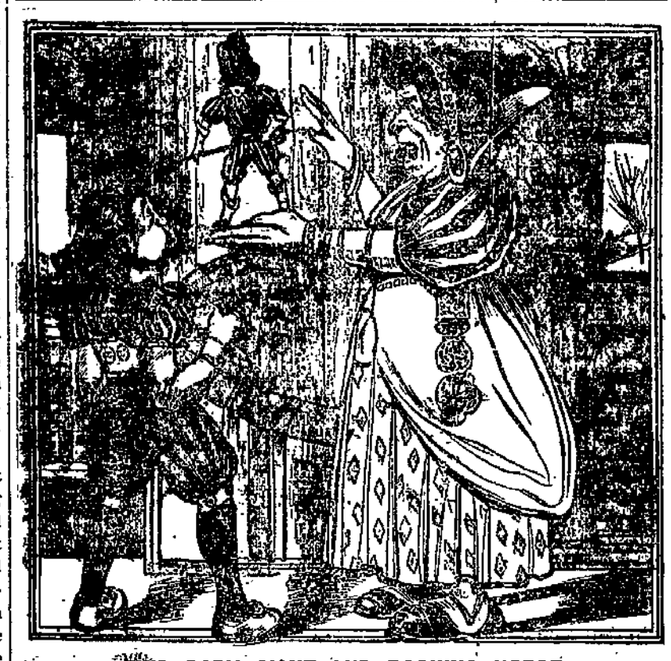
FIND THE GIANT AND HIS WIFE.



FIND BABY GIANT AND ROCKING HORSE.

Upon a rocking horse that in
The giant's nursery he found
Jack merry made until his din
Brought baby giant there around.
Her cries soon made assistance come,
And retribution was Jack's share.

FIND THE GIANT'S GARDENERS.

While hidden in a garden where
The giant's flowers stately grew,
Both hollyhocks and roses fair,
Two workers near our young knight drew.
One, with a hoe beside him, ran.
The other, more aggressive, scowled
And, tripping o'er a watering can,
Immersed the one that near them prowled.

FIND FIFTEEN CAPTIVE MAIDENS.

In darkened halls of somber hue
Jack heard a girlish cry for aid;
Yet, puzzled still, he scarcely knew
Where lurked the lassie sore afraid.
Full ten and five of royal mien
The giant's will had hid away.
Can you appear upon the scene
And find the lassies of dismay?

AFTER THE QUARREL.

A single smile from her rosy mouth,
A sudden glance from her soft eyes sent,
And he turned, as the wind veers north or south,
And followed whither her light feet went.
Did she linger and look for a moment then?
Did she lift her face and smile again?
Nay, not so!
The heart of a girl, ah, who may know?

With every pace of his swift pursuit
Her step she quickened nor looked behind.
Eyes were speechless, and lips were mute;
Never a glance or cold or kind,
As if she cherished nor thought nor care
For the eager footfalls hurrying there!
Was it so?
The heart of a girl, ah, who may know?

Did she love him more when look and smile
Silently bade him to follow her?
Did she love him less when she wove her wile
His heart to trouble, his hope defer?
Nay, read you this riddle, strange, but true—
She loved him most when she most withdrew!
Even so!
The heart of a girl, ah, who may know?
—Blanche Trenor Heath in Atlanta Constitution.

CAUGHT IN AN EXPLOSION.

A Miner's Description of His Feelings When He Was Blown Up.

A miner who was blown up while blasting a rock describes his sensations thus:

"You see, it's so sudden. It's over just about the time you begin to understand that something is happening. You know, I had the cartridge in my hand and put it down. Then I got afraid of it. All at once everything was light. I don't think I saw the flash. Anyway my face was not exactly toward the explosion.

"But then everything got light, lighter than day—kind of blinding. There was an awful crash. It was just at the same time. I was terrified and wanted to get away. It was just as if I was having the nightmare. Somehow, though, I knew just what the matter was. A man can think faster than he has any idea of. I knew that some of the others were nearer the explosion, and I said to myself, 'They're blown to bits, that's certain.'

"You understand, this was all in a second—all at once, really. Then it was exactly the same as if I had been hit with a stick. I thought it was a big stick, bigger than any man could swing, and that it must be worked by machinery. It hit me on the head and all over. I went sailing into the air a long, long way. My ears roared, and the wind blew into my face. I knew when I struck the ground, for I remember saying to myself, 'Well, I'm done for.'

"I don't know just when I lost my right senses or when they came back, but when they did come back it seemed queer that I was there still. I thought I had been thrown somewhere else. I could feel fire burning me. It was my clothes. They were smoking and almost blazing. I was bruised all over and could not hear very well. My voice sounded as though somebody else were talking. That's all I can tell you about it."

Hawk and Partridge.

In "Reminiscences of a Falconer" Major Fisher describes the tactics of a partridge when pursued by a tame falcon.

The falcon was descending upon the partridge when the partridge stopped short and fell to the ground as if dead. He seemed to be lost in the short stubble of the field. He was far too knowing to trust himself again on the wing, and the hawk had no alternative but to take him on the ground, which he speedily attempted to do.

But on the ground the partridge was far more agile than he, running this way and that with great speed. The hawk would jump awkwardly up and dart after the scudding partridge, who just at the right moment jumped from the ground and over his back, descended on the other side and commenced running harder than before.

Time after time this was done. At every attempt the partridge met the hawk with outstretched neck and raised hackles, in the attitude of a fighting bantam cock, jumping up to avoid being clutched whenever the hawk struck at him. In fact, his whole action was that of a plucky little game bantam.

This went on for some time, until, as I regret to say, I ended the unequal strife by putting the partridge once more fairly on the wing, when, of course, the hawk readily overtook and captured it, not overmuch to his credit and still less to mine.

A Fish and Lizard Story.

One afternoon I thought I would go down the river and troll. I had on my hook a live minnow and in a little while had a strike, and I hooked my first fish, which seemed to be quite a large one. I reeled him where I could see him and found it was a large pike 25 or 30 inches long. I pulled him up to my boat, but when I lifted him from the water he was as light as a feather. I measured him and found he was just 30 inches long and should have weighed eight or nine pounds, while he only weighed two. He was just skin and bones. I killed him, took my knife and cut him open and found a live lizard, five inches long, in his stomach. The reptile was as black as coal and very lively, living 24 hours after I took him from his prison.—Field and Stream.

Without a Ring.

A woman of justice experienced the usual sense of discomfort when her driver straightened the palm into which she had just dropped her shilling and looked at her speechlessly. She was weakly about to add another sixpence when the cabby's sense of humor prevailed. He transferred the shilling to his pocket and smiled sweetly down at his embarrassed fare. "Course, missy," he remarked, "there was the pleasure o' drivin' you!"—London Chronicle.

Lazy Liver

When the liver goes wrong, everything is wrong. You have dyspepsia, coated tongue, constipation, biliousness, sick headache, nausea, general debility. One of Ayer's Pills each night, just one, gently starts the liver and removes all trouble.

"I have used Ayer's Pills for liver complaint, and have found them to be the best thing I have ever tried."

SENDING OUT MACHINERY.

Shipping Clerk John Keiss and his clerks and packers at the Fort Wayne Electric works, were very busy today, sending out machinery and supplies. One of the most important shipments was a carload of machinery and appurtenances to the Frankfort Electric Light company, Frankfort, Mich. Included in this shipment were two 1,500-light dynamos. A 600-light machine to Willoughby, Ohio, and a 600-light machine to Grand Rapids, Mich., also left the works today.

GETTING READY FOR SPRING.

Frank Closs, the armature winder at the Electric works, who last fall purchased fourteen cottages and a hotel at Blue lake, has already commenced preparations for the summer business at that resort, which promises to be very good. Mr. Closs will erect a number of additional cottages and purchase more boats. He will go to the resort tomorrow to put a number of men at work in filling the ice houses, getting the supply from the lake.

WHAT'S THE USE

Sticking to Any Habit When It Means Sure Death?

Old King Coffee knocks subjects out tolerably flat at times, and there is no possible doubt of what did it. A lady gives her experience. "I used to have liver trouble nearly all of the time and was compelled to take some liver medicine like calomel, which relieved me only for a little while. Then every once in a while I would be suddenly doubled up with an awful agony in my stomach. It seemed as though every time I took a breath I would die. No one could suffer any more and live.

"Finally I got down so sick with catarrh of the stomach that I could not turn over in bed, and my stomach did not digest even milk. The doctor finally told me that if I did not give up drinking coffee I would surely die, but I felt I could not give it up.

"However, husband brought home a package of Postum Food Coffee and it was made strictly according to directions. It was the only thing that would stay on my stomach, and I soon got so I liked it very much.

"Gradually I began to get better, and week by week gained in strength and health. Now I am in perfect condition, and I am convinced that the whole cause of my trouble was from coffee drinking, and my getting better was due to leaving off coffee and taking Postum.

"A short time ago I tasted some coffee and found, to my astonishment, that I did not care anything about it. I never have to take liver medicine any more. I hope you will use this letter for the benefit of those suffering from the poisonous effects of coffee. I would gladly send to those who wish the address of my attending physician, who will corroborate what I say." Mrs. Abner Morrison, Clinton, Mich.

OUR SALE

LEADS ALL OTHERS

BY COMMON CONSENT THE GREAT JANUARY COST SALE NOW IN PROGRESS AT OUR STORE HAS NEVER BEEN EQUALED IN HISTORY OF DRY GOODS SELLING.

The fact is significant that our sale includes the entire stock, every department, every article. We do not merely particularize here and there at sale prices, but we offer to the trade (this month previous to our inventory) the entire stock at cost price.

In the cloak department we lose sight of the cost price entirely in our determination to sell every winter garment on hand. We have priced the garments so absurdly low that patrons find the cloak department simply irresistable.

Yesterday we received from a large manufacturing furrier over 500 fur scarfs, neck boas and fur jackets, with instructions to close out promptly. The prices on this lot of furs will astonish the oldest inhabitant.

We place on sale today over 200 jackets that sold from $6.00 to $20.00; choice $3.98.

Remember at cost price we will sell carpets, curtains, rugs, mattings, draperies, dress goods, silks, white goods and embroideries, linens, towels, napkins, sheetings, linings, velvets, laces, dress trimmings, umbrellas, corsets, gloves, hosiery, underwear, etc., etc., etc. etc.

We earnestly invite comparison of prices. We suggest that you call in the morning to avoid the afternoon crowds.

NEURALGIA

Sold by Druggists. Booklet Sent Free.

THE ATHLOPHOROS CO., New Haven, Conn.

By dissolving and removing the poisonous uric acid from the blood Ath-lo-pho-ros relieves Neuralgia very quickly and eventually cures it altogether. The Athlophoros Co., New Haven, Conn., issue a book on Neuralgia and Rheumatism and will send it free if you ask for it. If you have an obstinate case it will pay you to get the book.

BAKER, Ohio, Feb. 6, 1900.

I have used nearly one bottle of Ath-lo-pho-ros and am about cured of a severe attack of Neuralgia in the left side and back of my head, neck and throat. R. M. DALRYMPLE.

...AFTER ALL...

There's no more acceptable present to give her than an Angora cat—what woman would not appreciate one of these magnificent, queenly animals?

ANGORAS

This is the pearl of household pets—beautiful, rare, gentle. I have just received an importation of the finest genuine Angoras ever brought to this country.

SINGING CANARIES

If you care to buy a canary at a department store that's your lookout—nobody to blame but yourself. If you want to buy a canary that will sing, that is healthy and hardy, you had better come to me. Why? Because I am the largest importer of genuine Hartz Mountain birds.

TALKING PARROTS

A parrot that doesn't talk is an expensive, not to say useless, investment. If, by accident, I should sell a parrot that wouldn't talk I'd like the purchaser to bring it back and exchange it for one that will.

PUPPIES

Something wrong with the boy or girl who wouldn't be pleased with a pup for Christmas. I have good fox terriers, St. Bernards, Spaniels and other species. Prices to suit.

DOGS

Finely bred animals of all varieties—hunters, house dogs, companions.

ALL KINDS

of birds, fish and animals, all kinds of supplies. Illustrated catalogue mailed for the asking.

M'CREARY GOES TO SENATE

KENTUCKY DEMOCRATS NAME JAMES B. M'CREARY.

Harmonious Choice of Legislative Caucus—Will Be Elected Next Tuesday.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 10.—Standing on the rostrum of the old Hall of Representatives of the Kentucky capitol, where more than thirty years ago he began his public career, Hon. James B. McCreary, of Madison county, last night accepted the nomination of the democratic party to succeed William J. Deboe in the senate of the United States. He received the nomination by a vote of 62 to 37 over Circuit Judge James E. Cantrill, of Scott county, nearly to-thirds of the democratic members. He will be elected by the general assembly, in joint session, on Tuesday of next week over Senator Deboe, who was indorsed by the republicans for re-election.

The democratic caucus last night was harmonious throughout, the only surprise being that sprung several hours before it convened by the withdrawal of Congressman Charles K. Wheeler and David H. Smith, who have been in the contest for the past year. They withdrew only when it became apparent that McCreary would be nominated, and Judge Cantrill remained in the race only to receive a complimentary vote.

James Bennett McCreary was born in Madison county, Kentucky, on July 8, 1838. He first came into prominence in 1862 when he assisted in raising the Eleventh cavalry regiment for the Kentucky service, C. S. A. In this regiment he was subsequently made lieutenant colonel, a rank he held at the close of the war. He served with distinction in the army of the Tennessee under Generals Morgan and Bragg and under Breckenridge, in Virginia, and surrendered with his regiment at Appomattox.

He entered politics in 1866, being chosen to represent Madison county in the Kentucky legislature. In 1875 he was elected governor on the democratic ticket. After retiring from the executive office he was elected to the Forty-ninth congress and re-elected to the Fiftieth, Fifty-first, Fifty-second, Fifty-third and Fifty-fourth sessions. For twelve years he was a member of the committee on foreign affairs of the house. He also was a member of the committees on coinage and weights and measures and the world's fair and private land claims.

Governor McCreary was appointed by the president of the United States in 1892 one of the five commissioners to represent the United States in the international monetary conference. In that conference he distinguished himself as an advocate of bimetallism.

NEW CALLING LIST.

The 1902 calling list of the Bell Telephone company has been issued and is being distributed among subscribers. Owing to the fact that the list of out of town connections has been omitted and that the names of subscribers are printed in smaller type, the directory is much smaller than that of last year. Within the past few months the Bell company has installed a number of party lines and when a call is made for a subscriber on one of the party lines the name "Green" or "Brown" is prefixed to the number. On each party circuit there are four subscribers, two each of "Green" and "Brown," and when a call is made for a subscriber on a party line the operator grounds the opposite party to the one wanted. Subscribers having telephones on the main line are designated by prefixing "Main" to the desired numbers. Within the past year over four hundred additional telephones have been installed by the Bell company.

AN ACCEPTABLE GIFT.

Plymouth Congregational church, through its pastor, Rev. J. Webster Bailey, presented to the South church as a New Year's gift a beautiful communion service, consisting of two aluminum trays, with eighty-eight individual cups. The service was used for the first time last Sunday. The congregation passed a vote of thanks to the members of Plymouth church for the gift, which was a most fitting one.

A number of society women of New York are interesting themselves in what is called the nickel concert. They are members of prominent music societies. The idea is to furnish good music to the people at five cents a head.

GENERAL FUNSTON RETURNS

THE BRAVE LITTLE FIGHTER SEES HIS NEW SON.

Speaks Modestly of the Capture of Aguinaldo—Must Undergo a Surgical Operation.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 10.—Brigadier General Frederick Funston was a passenger on the transport Warren, which arrived from Manila late yesterday afternoon. General Funston has been on the sick list for more than three months owing to an attack of appendicitis, and, although he has submitted to one operation, he is not yet well and in a few days will go under the surgeon's knife for the same trouble.

General Funston was not inclined to talk on the general situation in the islands, as he has been in the hospital so long that he feels as though he knows little concerning the conditions as they now exist. He said:

"I am only familiar with the situation in my own district, and even there I am speaking a good deal from hearsay, as I have been in the hospital since September. The provinces in my command were Bulacan, Pampanga, Pangasinan and those lying to the east toward Subig bay, six provinces in all. At first we had some trouble, but we finally drove the insurgents out and for months we had only an occasional brush with the enemy, those only small attacks upon small parties, participated in principally by bands of ladrones or thieves who operated only at night.

DENSELY POPULATED.

"My district was perhaps the most densely populated of any in the islands and was an exceedingly rich and productive country. But a small portion of it had been cultivated since 1896, but when the season for planting opened in the spring last year the acreage increased nearly 100 per cent and points at considerable distance from railroad that had not been touched for years were plowed.

"The conditons in that district when I left were very favorable, although I don't believe it would be advisable even now to withdraw the troops stationed there. Everything had been very quiet and peaceful about the larger cities of my district, and in many places the officers had their wives and children with them and feel perfectly safe."

When asked about the capture of Aguinaldo Funston said he had forgotten the dates and all but the most important facts. He said: "That story has been told months ago. It was a very simple affair and we never doubted that we would succeed. Beyond the hardships we suffered there was little to it and we were none the worse for the affair."

TOLD OF CHILD'S BIRTH.

General Funston did not know until he was informed by the boarding officer at quarantine that he was a father, as his son was born after the transport sailed from Nagasaki. As soon as possible he left the steamer and went at once to Oakland to see the new baby. The general will go to Kansas as soon after his operation as he can travel.

General Robert P. Hughes was also on the Warren. He has been in the Philippines longer than any of the general officers of the army. He sailed with General Merritt nearly four years ago and has been on constant duty ever since. Immediately after the capture of Manila he was made provost marshal of the city, and in this position he displayed remarkable executive ability.

WORKS A MIRACLE IN MANILA.

In a few months he changed Manila from one of the dirtiest cities in the orient to the cleanest. For two years he has been in command in the central islands, or Visayan group. He said in speaking of the conditons there:

"Everything has been quiet in Cebu, Panay and Negros for many months, but in Samar we have our work cut out. The people are hostile and the country is such that it is difficult to operate in, but if the American soldier is given full sway he will settle the matter in time."

General Hughes has seen his last active service, as he will retire next year.

THE BOARD OF WORKS MEETS

NEW COMPETITOR IN PAVING MATERIAL ADMITTED.

Board Allows Kentucky Rock Asphalt to go in Specifications—Engineer's Report.

The board of works met last evening and held a rather long and quite interesting session. The most important matter to receive the attention of the body was he new proposition submitted by the Fort Wayne Traction company, which is referred to elsewhere in this issue, and next came the decision of a majority of the board to admit Kentucky rock asphalt to the specifications for street paving. T. J. Peter represents the Kentucky system in this city and heretofore has been debarred from bidding on public work. Chairman Eggemann opposed the admission of rock asphalt on the theory that the company had no asphalt experts in its employ. Mr. Peters explained that inasmuch as his company would be obliged to give bond for the stability of its work and inasmuch also that there is more than one crew of asphalt workers in the United States, he thought it stood to reason that his company would be able to give as good service as any in the country. Mr. Peter's argument convinced the minority member and Mr. Doehrman said he believed that competition should be open to all reputable concerns and bidders and that settled the matter and Mr. Peter will hereafter be found among the list of competitors for street improvement contracts.

City Engineer Randall submitted his annual report, the gist of which was published in The Sentinel several days ago. Comprehensively it shows that the cost of public improvements during the past year was $266,566.59, of which the city's proportion was $15,147.33.

Bids for furnishing lumber were received as follows:

For oak—Kilian Baker, $19.90 per thousand; Peters Box & Lumber Co., $19.75; Smith & Randall, $19.40; Hilker Bros., $18.00. For pine—Ed. Gilmartin, $536 for the year; Henry Franke, $516; Fort Wayne Lumber company, $541; Kleit Sons, $520; Diether Bros., $525; Rhinesmith & Simonson, $539.

Yesterday morning linemen for the Jenney company moved the arc light which hung at the head of Lewis street, on Ewing, about sixty feet north, to the intersection of Jefferson and Ewing streets. Before it was time to light up there was a howl in the wilderness and a delegation headed by Councilman Bauer called on the board of works last night and demanded to know the whys and wherefores. The entire board professed ignorance of the change and nobody could be found who was responsible for it. Today the lamp was moved back to its old position and tonight will once more shed its effulgent rays down the length of Lewis street.

DENTAL COTERIE OFFICERS.

The Isaac Knapp Dental Coterie met last evening in the offices of Dr. G. E. Thompson and elected officers as follows:

President—Dr. J. H. Adams.
Secretary—Dr. G. C. Keel.
Treasurer—Dr. J. D. Coyle.

Papers by a number of leading dental practitioners were read and discussed.

INDIANA'S MILLIONAIRES.

The New York World almanac for this year enumerates the country's millionaires. Indiana is credited with only thirty. Five Indianapolis men are named as millionaires, but it is known here that the city has more. Terre Haute is said to have seven. The Indiana list is as follows:

Indianapolis—E. F. Claypool, C. W. Fairbanks, Stoughton Fletcher, Volney T. Malott and Henry Schnull.

Terre Haute—George W. Bennett, Andrew J. Crawford, Demas Deming, jr., Crawford Fairbanks, Herman Hulman, W. R. McKeen and Mrs. Sophia Wheeler.

Columbus—Francis T. Crump and Joseph I. Irwin.

Fort Wayne—John H. Bass and J. H. Cheney.

Greensburg—John E. Robbins.

Lafayette—James Fowler and James Murdock.

Richmond—William Dudley Foulke and J. M. Westcott.

Marion—Philip Matter.

Peru—C. H. Brownell, J. O. Cole, E. H. Shirks and Milton Shirks.

South Bend—James Oliver, Joseph Oliver, Clement Studebaker (lately deceased) and J. M. Studebaker.

Mothers, be sure and use Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for your children while cutting teeth. It is the best remedy of all. myBeod&w

CAN TELEPHONE FROM A CAR

BIDWELL PROVES SUCCESS OF INVENTION.

Inventor Talks From a Moving Trolley Car to Another on the Same Line.

Muskegon, Mich., Jan. 10.—C. P. Bidwell, of Toledo, Ohio, gave the first practical demonstration here yesterday of a telephone system (the invention of Mr. Bidwell's father) whereby it is possible to call up and talk from an electric car going at full speed with anyone who is located in another car on the same line running in any direction and at any distance. The system is applicable to either steam or electric roads. The overhead trolley is used for one side of the circuit and for the other a second wire is strung parallel with the stationary trolley. The metal trolley pole operates on the additional wire by means of a flanged wheel. A closed circuit is thus obtained. Telephone wires are attached to each of the two trolley poles which lead to the telephone in the car. The heavy voltage required to operate the electric cars is reduced to that used for telephone service by a special invention. Ordinary telephones were used in today's tests.

FLOWERS ASPHYXIATED.

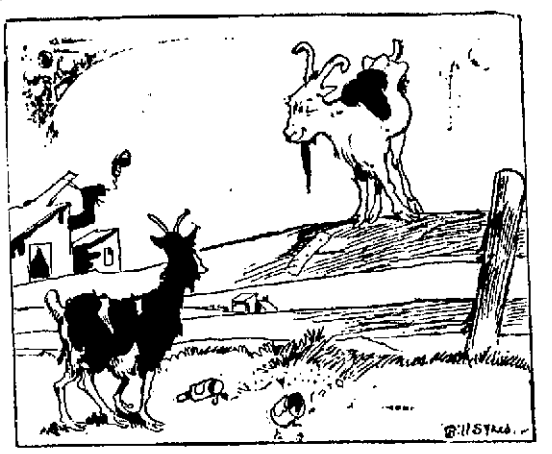
On the ground that the flowers in his greenhouses were killed by gas that leaked from the pipes on his premises Jacob Bomberger has brought suit in the superior court against the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company for $1,500 damages. Among the flowers said to have been killed were many valuable orchids and exotic plants belonging to wealthy residents in Chicago and kept in storage by Bomberger.

New pipes were laid and new connections made in October. Since that time, says the complaint, the flowers in the green houses at 446 East Sixty-fourth street have faded, withered and died. He says his business has been almost destroyed by the effect of the gas.—Chicago Record Herald.

HER MAIDEN NAME.

There is a general error in spelling Mrs. Roosevelt's maiden name. Before her marriage she was a Miss Carow, not Carew. The name is an old French Huguenot one, originally spelled Quereau, but was changed to Carow by Mrs. Roosevelt's grandfather, Isaac Carow, who experienced much trouble with men in business who never seemed able to spell Quereau properly. Some months ago a New York paper said that the name Quentin (of one of the boys) was a family name of the Roosevelts. The name belongs on the Carow side and was also a French Huguenot name originally spelled Quantine.—New York Sun.

Constantinople is free from the beggar nuisance only one day in the year, November 25. This is the festival of St. John the Almsgiver, the patron saint of the mendicant profession. No beggar of the Greek faith is on his or her beat that day.



Mrs. Nannie Goat—Why didn't you come to the entertainment last night?

Mr. Billy Goat—Well, you see, I ate a Calendar yesterday and must have gotten my dates mixed.

FIVE DOLLARS A BOX.

THE PRICE CUT NO FIGURE WITH HIM.

"I want to say for the benefit of some poor dyspeptic that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will give comfort and a cure every time. Five dollars a box would not stop my purchasing them should I ever suffer again as I did for a week before using them.

"The one 50-cent box I bought at my druggist's did the work and my digestion is all right again.

"Many of my neighbors have also tried these tablets and found them to be just as represented and Mr. Ellms also wants me to use his name in endorsing Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Signed.

"A Ellms and Chas F. Buzzell,
"Assistant Postmaster,
"South Sudbury, Mass."

Mrs. James Barton, of Toronto, Canada, writes: "For eighteen months I suffered from what I supposed was bladder and kidney trouble, and took medicine from three different doctors, without any sign of cure. I felt so ill at last I was hardly able to do my work.

"I thought I would try a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and see if they would make me feel better, never really thinking I had dyspepsia, but after only three or four tablets had been taken all the acid trouble disappeared and then I discovered I had had acid dyspepsia, while the doctors had been treating me for kidney and bladder trouble and one of them treated me for rheumatism.

"My digestion is fine, my complexion clear and I am able to do my work, and low spirits are unknown to me.

"I am so thankful for finding a cure so good and so pleasant to take as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I am surprised at the change they have made in me."

All druggists sell and recommend Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they contain only the simple, natural digestives, and taken after meals prevent acidity and cause prompt digestion and assimilation of food.

Physicians everywhere endorse them because they are as safe for the child as for the adult; they are invaluable for sour stomach, nervous dyspepsia, heartburn, gas on stomach and bowels and every form of stomach derangement.

THE TRUSTEES ARE CHOSEN

MEN WHO WILL DIRECT CARNEGIE INSTITUTION.

Announcement Made by Incorporators, in Accordance With Mr. Carnegie's Wishes.

Washington, Jan. 10.—The great Carnegie Institution, incorporated under the $10,000,000 gift of Andrew Carnegie, began to assume definite shape yesterday, when the members of the board of trustees were officially announced. The Illinois members are Lyman J. Gage and Charles L. Hutchinson. Dr. Charles D. Walcott, secretary of the incorporators, made the announcement, with the added statement that, for the purposes of the institution, Mr. Carnegie would transfer to the board of trustees the sum of $10,000,000 in "5 per cent bonds." In his statement Dr. Walcott says that Mr. Carnegie has been consulting with prominent educators throughout the country in developing his plans, including Abram S. Hewitt, Dr. Daniel C. Gilman, Dr. John S. Billings, Dr. Charles D. Walcott, Carroll D. Wright and the heads of various universities and other scientific institutions.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

The board of trustees elected by the incorporators is as follows:

—Ex Officio.—

The President of the United States.

The president of the United States senate.

The speaker of the house of representatives.

The secretary of the Smithsonian Institution.

The president of the National Academy of Sciences.

1—Grover Cleveland, New Jersey.
2—John S. Billings, New York.
3—William N. Frew, Pennsylvania.
4—Lyman J. Gage, Illinois.
5—Daniel C. Gilman, Maryland.
6—John Hay, District of Columbia.
7—Abram S. Hewitt, New Jersey.
8—Henry L. Higginson, Massachusetts.
9—Henry Hitchcock, Missouri.
10—Charles L. Hutchinson, Illinois.
11—William Lindsay, Kentucky.
12—Seth Low, New York.
13—Wayne MacVeagh, Pennsylvania.
14—D. O. Mills, California.
15—S. Weir Mitchell, Pennsylvania.
16—W. W. Morrow, California.
17—Elihu Root, New York.
18—John C. Spooner, Wisconsin.
19—Andrew D. White, New York.
20—Edward D. White, Louisiana.
21—Charles D. Walcott, District of Columbia.
22—Carroll D. Wright, District of Columbia.

The board of trustees will meet to organize and elect officers in the office of the secretary of state on Jan. 29.

PURPOSE OF INSTITUTION.

Mr. Carnegie's purpose, as stated by himself in requesting the various trustees to become members of the board, is as follows:

"It is proposed to found in the city of Washington, in the spirit of Washington, an institution which, with the co-operation of institutions now or hereafter established there or elsewhere shall in the broadest and most liberal manner, encourage investigation, research and discovery; encourage the application of knowledge to the improvement of mankind; provide such buildings, laboratories, books and apparatus as may be needed, and afford instruction of an advanced character to students whenever and wherever found, inside or outside of schools, properly qualified to profit thereby.

"Among its aims are these:

"1. To increase the efficiency of the universities and other institutions of learning throughout the country, by utilizing and adding to their existing facilities, and by aiding teachers in the various institutions for experimental and other work in these institutions as far as may be advisable.

TO AID GENIUS.

"2. To discover the exceptional man in every department of study, whenever and wherever found, and enable him by financial aid to make the work for which he seems specially designed his life work.

"3. To promote original research, paying great attention there, as being one of the chief purposes of this institution.

"4. To increase facilities for higher education.

"5. To enable such students as may find Washington the best point for their special studies to avail themselves of such advantages as may be open to them in the museums, libraries, laboratories, observatory, meteorological, piscatorial and forestry schools and kindred institutions of the several departments of the government.

"6. To insure the prompt publication and distribution of the results of scientific investigation, a field considered to [illegible] highly important. [illegible] may be attained by providing the necessary apparatus for experimental work, by employing able teachers from the various institutions in Washington or elsewhere, and by enabling men fitted for special work to devote themselves to it, or through salaries, with or without pensions in old age, or through aid in other forms to such men as continue their special work at seats of learning throughout the world."

PUT BAN ON "UNCLE TOM."

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 10.—Lexington chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, has sent a written petition to Charles B. Scott, manager of the Lexington opera house, asking that the play, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," never be played again at the opera house here. They give as reasons that the best citizens and old families living in and about Lexington were once slave owners; that the incidents of Uncle Tom's Cabin are not typical of slave life in the south, but of isolated cases; that the production and its advertisement with bloodhounds and pictures of an old negro in chains and a slave owner with whip in hand present a false idea of the history of the times to the children of the city and are in disrespect to the southern gentlemen and good citizens and their families in this part of the country. The petition is signed by four of the most prominent women of the chapter and is indorsed unanimously by the members. It has created a sensation here.

NEW POSTAL DIVISION.

Washington, Jan. 10.—The postoffice department has created a new division of postoffice inspectors, to comprise the state of Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Indian Territory. The division headquarters will be at Kansas City, with J. R. Harrison, of Salina, Kas., inspector in charge. Mr. Harrison formerly was attached to the St. Louis division and was postmaster at Havana during the reorganization of the postal service of Cuba.

GOING FOR WARSHIPS.

New York, Jan. 10.—Among the passengers who arrived on the Orizaba from Colon this morning was Commander L. A. Martinez, of the Chilian navy. He is en route to England, where he will take charge of two new cruisers and two torpedo boat destroyers now completed in that country. Six hundred men to man these vessels sail from Colon today for Southampton per the Royal Mail steam packet.

NONOGENARIAN SUICIDES.

New York, Jan. 10.—Christopher Miller, ninety years old, hanged himself in the bath room of his son's home here early today. A week ago the old man was much grieved by the death of his sister-in-law at the age of eighty-one years and his mind was further upset by reading of the accident in the New York Central tunnel on Wednesday.

THE CONGRESS OF MOTHERS.

Washington, Jan. 10.—An interesting program is being prepared for the sixth annual convention of the National Congress of Mothers, which will be held in the First Baptist church in this city February 25 to 28th. Among the speakers will be Prof. Sherman Davis, of Indiana university. His theme will be "The Scientific and Spiritual Development of the Child." Mrs. Mary E. Page, of Chicago, will speak upon "The Educational Value of the Play."

PAYNE SOON TO QUALIFY.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Henry C. Payne, whose arrival has been delayed by the death of a friend in Milwaukee, will qualify as postmaster general and assume his new duties either next Tuesday or Wednesday. He will reach here Sunday. Postmaster General Smith will give his farewell dinner to the president and cabinet Monday evening, after which he will be ready to yield the office to Mr. Payne and return to his editorial duties in Philadelphia.

Try The Want

Electric energy from wind has been successfully obtained in both England and Germany, but it is in the latter country that it has been actually put into use.

M. G. Couz of Hamburg used a windmill with a regulator which would keep its speed constant, no matter what the speed of the wind was, and succeeded so well that there is a strong probability that it will be used in small villages in Germany and supply electric light and power at a low cost.

The English have, however, gone much further than experiment in equipping the antarctic exploring vessel Discovery with a complete electrical apparatus, the power for which is supplied by a windmill.

Electric Steamship Log.

A new electric steamship log has been tried with some measure of success on the great lake steamers. It is a brass tube attached to 250 feet of insulated half inch cable, which contains an electrical circuit breaker operated by an ordinary rotater fixed to a right and left handed screw, which shifts a carriage back and forth one stroke to every one-twentieth of a mile, so that every time this distance is traveled the circuit in the cable is closed, which actuates the indicator on the bridge, in the pilothouse or in the captain's cabin.

Wood Fireproofed by Electricity.

Wood is made fireproof by the Noden & Bretonneau process, as used in Paris, by placing it in a bath of magnesium sulphate. Lead electrodes are used, the one being separated from the other by a sailcloth diaphragm. A direct currant of 110 volts is then sent through the wood, with the result that the sap is extracted and is replaced by a non-inflammable salt.

Latest Insulating Material.

Consul Warner of Leipsic notes that a recently patented insulating material is made by taking pulverized casein and making it with vegetable oils. The mixture, to which rubber, caoutchouc, resin or coloring matter may be added, is pressed into forms and dried or vulcanized by the addition of sulphur.

Wireless Telegraphy In Canada.

In Canada the Marconi wireless system of telegraphy was successfully operated between points 300 miles distant.

Building Bathtubs of Glass.

Hitherto the largest concave vessel that could be blown from glass has had a capacity of about twenty-five gallons, but Paul Sievert of Dresden claims to be able to make bathtubs and large kettles of glass by his new method. The liquid glass is poured upon a cast iron plate, to which the quickly cooling outer edge is made to adhere, while most of the mass sinks as an elongated sack to a table beneath. Compressed air is conveyed through a cylinder into this sack, the table on which the bottom rests being gradually lowered, and when the desired size is reached the upper edge is released by removal of a retaining strip from the iron plate.

New Meteorological Charts.

Since January, 1901, the Deutsche Seewarte (German marine observatory) at Hamburg has published monthly meteorological charts of the north Atlantic which are destined to be of great use to navigators. The charts are on the Mercator projection, divided into areas of five degrees on a side. For each area is given the mean surface temperature of the water during the month. Ocean currents are related to these temperatures, and air currents—that is, winds—depend upon them also. The probability of storms in each area is expressed on the charts.

Philippine Wood.

Experiments are to be made in Portland, Or., with hard woods from the Philippines. A trial order has been sent for 4,000 feet, to include ebony, tindalo and gray and blood red narra, which is the Philippine mahogany. This wood is expected to take the place of Borneo mahogany, known as ypie wood in the Philippines, which has been much used in interior car finishings. It promises to give better satisfaction than the Borneo product and is expected to supersede it entirely in the western market.

Decoy Duck That Moves.

An improved decoy duck for gunning has now been made by a Maryland inventor. It consists of rods which are connected together by a jointed brace and on which decoy ducks are supported. The rods are so arranged that they can at any moment be moved and adjusted, and, as the decoys thus rest on a buoyant support, they have a really lifelike appearance.

Atmospheric Conditions of Fog.

An interesting paper was recently submitted to the Royal academy of Belgium by Dr. E. Vanderlinden on the atmospheric conditions that accompany fog in that country. The author shows that the winter fogs are mostly connected with anticyclonic conditions, while those of summer occur during periods of shallow or secondary barometric depressions.

Bicycles In Turkey.

A pronounced demand for American bicycles has arisen in and about Harput. The types of wheel which will find ready sale there should be, it is said, simple in style and provided with brakes. The climate is hard on caoutchouc, and in the choice of tires it is necessary to bear in mind the frequency of stones on all oriental highways.

MEASURING HUMIDITY.

How Scientists Determine Amount of Moisture in the Air.

To most minds scientific instruments are so fearfully and wonderfully constructed that no attempt is ever made to pry into the manner of their performing their functions, the results obtained being accepted as a matter of course, says the St. Louis Republic. Yet many such instruments, while apparently most complicated, are really based on very simple principles. Of these the thermometer and the barometer are, of course, now generally understood, although this was not always true.

Another meteorological instrument, however, which is much used, but which is more or less mysterious to the public, is that by which the amount of moisture in the air is determined. While delicately constructed and balanced by means of fine springs, the chief reliance is placed in a few horsehairs, which are exceedingly responsive to the influence of dampness.

When the air becomes moist, they relax, and a pivoted bar, one end of which forms an indicator, is drawn along a scale, which shows just to what extent the air is saturated with water. When the air is dry, the horsehairs become tense, and the indicator is returned to its appropriate place on the scale.

It is in this way that track is kept of General Humidity, whose damp forces so effectually conspire to keep humanity in misery during warm weather.

THE SIMPLON TUNNEL.

Three Years More of Digging Before It Can Be Finished.

In a recent number of Die Umschau is an account of the Simplon tunnel. This huge perforation of the Alps was commenced on Nov. 13, 1898, and as the contract allows but five and a half years for the work the critical date will be May 13, 1904, after which a fine of 5,000 francs a day will be imposed for nonfulfillment of the contract. Work was commenced from both sides simultaneously, 2,000 days being considered sufficient to bore through 19,734 meters of rock.

A whole village has been called into existence at either end of the work, and the workpeople are housed in modern Utopian hamlets. The company has strict rules as to their diet, baths and change of clothing. A theater and other amusements are also provided, as well as schools and a hospital.

The boring tools as well as all other mechanical arrangements are operated directly by water power, which is obtained from the Rhone on the north and the Riviera on the south side. Two new features in tunnel construction have been introduced. One is blasting by means of liquid air cartridges and the other in cooling temperature of the interior by spraying.

Locomotive Engineering describes a new compound rack locomotive, the latest product of the Baldwin Locomotive works, built for the Manitou and Pike's Peak railway. The engine is unusually powerful for a locomotive of this kind, weighing 62,455 pounds in working order, of which 44,155 pounds are on the drivers. The cylinders are 10 and 15 inches by 22 inch stroke. The boiler is 44 inches diameter and carries a working pressure of 180 pounds.

The Manitou and Pike's Peak railway is built on what is known as the Abt system of rack rail and climbs a grade of 25 per cent. This latest production of the Baldwin Locomotive works is said to be the heaviest rack rail engine used anywhere.

This engine has a device for automatically applying the brake, should speed become excessive in descending. At a test the engine was started down alone and stopped itself exactly as planned.

Electric Disinfection of Cars.

Nothing sweetens or freshens stale air better than ozone, says The Lancet, and now that most of the railway companies have successfully adopted a system by which each carriage on its journey develops by means of a dynamo attached to the axletrees its own current of electricity for lighting purposes there is no reason why the same current should not be utilized at the same time to ozonize the air of the compartment. The quantity of ozone required is small. The result would certainly be good, since the ozone has a remarkably destructive action on aerial impurities and unpleasant smells and gives the air a degree of freshness similar to that of the sea breeze.

Electricity For Mountain Climbing.

The Canadian Pacific railway is about to install electric power for hauling its trains when they cross the Rockies. It now requires about four locomotives to pull and push a train over the heaviest grades. The railway proposes to use the enormous water power right at hand.

New Use For X Rays.

ADJOURNED COURT TO FIGHT

Death at Logansport of a Famous Man Who Would Fight and Loved Children.

Logansport, Ind., Jan. 10.—Major S. L. McFadin, who died here Monday night, was born in Greenfield township, Fairfield county, Ohio, October 4, 1826. In 1839 his parents moved to this county. In 1846 McFadin enlisted in the Cass county volunteers and served through the Mexican war with distinction, being made a corporal on the field. At the close of the war McFadin returned here and began the study of law with W. Z. Stewart. In 1857 he was made a probate judge, and while in that capacity made almost a national reputation by adjourning court for "two minutes and a half until I lick Chamberlain." The latter was an attorney and had ruffled the major, who took the above course and carried out what he said he would, giving Chamberlain an artistic drubbing, when court was quietly resumed. In 1861 he was elected mayor of Logansport and held the office until 1866, when he was sent to the state legislature, serving until 1870, when he resigned to again become mayor of this city. From 1877 to 1885 he was clerk of Cass county. Major McFadin had more friends among children than any other man probably in the state. For years he gave annual skating parties, furnishing skates and mittens and things the children needed for amusement and comfort. When the major retired to private life he was well prepared with this world's goods, but shortly after lost several thousand dollars by investing in a gold brick. The swindlers had a gold brick that a jeweler drilled into and pronounced solid gold, but during the day a shift was made, which caused consternation when the discovery was made too late to head the men off. Since that time, while the major has had enough to live in comfort, he seemed to have lost heart and was, his friends say, never the same old major. At the time of his death he was marshal of the National Association of Mexican War Veterans, being elected at the last meeting held in Cleveland, Ohio. He was buried at Winamac, Ind., Wednesday afternoon.

PENSIONED BY CARNEGIE.

Johnstown, Pa., Jan. 10.—W. W. Wake, John McCune and Henry Hudson, veteran Pennsylvania railroad engineers, of this city, who were retired on pensions some time ago, yesterday received checks for $20 each from Andrew Carnegie. Mr. Carnegie was formerly the superintendent of the Pittsburg division on which these veterans worked, and it is understood to be Mr. Carnegie's purpose to pension all the trainmen who are yet alive who worked during his superintendency of that part of the road. Messrs. Wake, McCune and Hudson are to receive $20 every month for life and if they should die before their wives, the latter will continue to receive the Carnegie pensions.

MARCHED ACROSS SAMAR.

Washington, Jan. 10.—The navy department today received the following cablegram from Rear Admiral Rodgers, at Cavite:

"Waller reports having completed ten days' march across Samar, from Lanaug to Bahey. Column endured great hardships. Killed thirteen insurgents, captured captain, lieutenant and four men."

THE FRENCH DEFICIT.

Paris, Jan. 10.—A decrease in the revenue returns is again shown by the figures of the last three months, which are 8,271,844 francs below the estimates and 20,10,000 francs below the returns for the same period of 1900. The total deficit, for 1901 compared with the estimates, is 111,000,000 francs. The falling off is attributed to the non-importation of wine, in consequence of the exceptional crops of 1900 and 1901; to the rearrangement of the excise liquor duties, and to the sugar bounty policy. The latter is responsible for 42,000,000 francs of the deficit.

TO CUT TAMMANY BUDGET.

Millions of dollars will be cut from the budget made by the Tammany administration for the expenses of the city this year. Mayor Seth Low and Comptroller Grout have decided that the appropriations allowed to the various city departments by Van Wyck and his associates on the board of estimate were extravagant.

Mr. Low and Mr. Grout had a long talk, after which the new comptroller said a plan of retrenchment had been decided upon and that action would be taken at once.

The Tammany budget was announced a week before the election. Including the expenses of courts and departments in all boroughs it amounted to $97,974,413.43. This was a decrease in the budget of the previous year of only $125,871.80, in spite of the fact that the new charter abolished certain departments and that the amount for state taxes this year will be $2,443,527.83 less than last year. The new charter cut more than 8 million dollars from this year's budget, compared with that of last year. This forced reduction was balanced up by an arbitrary increase by Mayor Van Wyck and his colleagues of $10,691,245.36.

The new charter provides that at any time after May 1 it is within the authority of the board of estimates to alter the budget. Mayor Low and Grout decided to call a session of the board of estimates next Monday, when the amounts apportioned to the departments by Mayor Van Wyck will be considered and compared with the demands of the present commissioners.

The first feature of economy will be the reduction of the army of officeholders retained on the Tammany pay rolls. That this cut will come was foreshadowed by the orders yesterday from Perez M. Stewart, superintendent of buildings, and Commissioner Lederle, of the health board. In the department of buildings seventy-five Tammany men were discharged and a number of transfers made. In the health department a general shake-up followed the appearance of the new commissioner.

Comptroller Grout also announced that he had decreased salaries several thousand dollars.—New York Journal.

THEIR DIGESTION IS GOOD.

The appetite of the average small boy is one of the marvels of the century. An English school master who has made a special study of the gormandizing capacity of his pupils testifies that while he found a superabundance of capacity there was actually little or no limit.

Perhaps after rich cake, both fruit and plain, the first favor, according to the school master, is condensed milk. This is often eaten without a spoon by simply making two small holes in the top of the can and placing the lips against them. Then after this came chocolates, chocolate cream, chocolate candy, chocolate cake.

"It may be thought I am exaggerating," he says, "when I say that I have seen a boy of ten years eat in a single afternoon enough food to satisfy an adult party of twelve persons. I have myself known a little, frail boy to eat a portion of a rich cake, a third of a one-pound can of condensed milk, four ounces of mixed chocolate, a handful of assorted sweets, two oranges, one apple, four gingerbread cakes, a dozen Brazil nuts and two large pieces of peppermint candy.

"Did it make him ill? Did he lie down and groan and await the coming of the medical man with the stomach pump? Not he; he just had one of two faint symptoms of uneasiness which he quickly dispelled by a few well-drawn gapes, much after the manner of a sleeping baby. Then he walked about for a time and presently accepted an invitation to join in a game of ball."

The schoolmaster's observations have led to the very natural deduction that a boy's condition is in many ways different from that of the trained strong man. The latter could not eat the things that a boy could because his fitness is mainly muscular, while the boy's is, in addition to being muscular, organic. The man may have a sluggish liver or faulty kidneys and still be a strong man, but the boy who runs and romps and turns somersaults and shouts and laughs and twists and turns and shouts hasn't a single blemish.

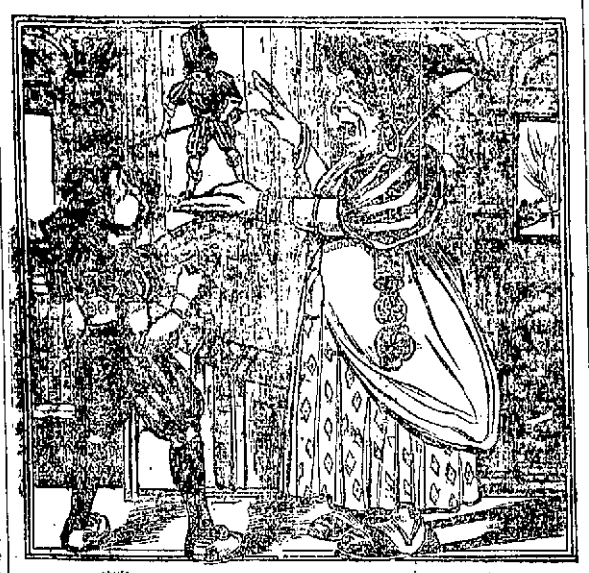
FIND THE GIANT AND HIS WIFE.



FIND BABY GIANT AND ROCKING HORSE.

Upon a rocking horse that in
The giant's nursery he found
Jack merry made until his din
Brought baby giant there around.
Her cries soon made assistance come,
And retribution was Jack's share.

FIND THE GIANT'S GARDENERS.

While hidden in a garden where
The giant's flowers stately grew,
Both hollyhocks and roses fair,
Two workers near our young knight drew.
One, with a hoe beside him, ran.
The other, more aggressive, scowled
And, tripping o'er a watering can,
Immersed the one that near them prowled.

FIND FIFTEEN CAPTIVE MAIDENS.

In darkened halls of somber hue
Jack heard a girlish cry for aid;
Yet, puzzled still, he scarcely knew
Where lurked the lassie sore afraid.
Full ten and five of royal mien
The giant's will had hid away.
Can you appear upon the scene
And find the lassies of dismay?

AFTER THE QUARREL

A single smile from her rosy mouth,
A sudden glance from her soft eyes sent,
And he turned, as the wind veers to rift or south,
And followed whither her light feet went.
Did she linger and look for a moment then?
Did she let her face and smile again?
Nay, not by!
The heart of a girl, ah, who may know?

With every pace of his swift pursuit
Her step she quickened nor looked behind.
Eyes were speechless, and lips were mute;
Never a glance or cold or kind,
As if she cherished nor thought nor care
For the eager footfalls hurrying there!
Was it so?
The heart of a girl, ah, who may know?

Did she love him more when look and smile
Silently bade him to follow her?
Did she love him less when she wore her wile
His heart to trouble, his hope defer?
Nay, read you this riddle, strange, but true—
She loved him most when she most withdrew!
Even so!
The heart of a girl, oh, who may know?

CAUGHT IN AN EXPLOSION.

A Miner's Description of His Feelings When He Was Blown Up.

A miner who was blown up while blasting a rock describes his sensations thus:

"You see, it's so sudden. It's over just about the time you begin to understand that something is happening. You know, I had the cartridge in my hand and put it down. Then I got afraid of it. All at once everything was light. I don't think I saw the flash. Anyway my face was not exactly toward the explosion.

"But then everything got light, lighter than day—kind of blinding. There was an awful crash. It was just at the same time. I was terrified and wanted to get away. It was just as if I was having the nightmare. Somehow, though, I knew just what the matter was. A man can think faster than he has any idea of. I knew that some of the others were nearer the explosion, and I said to myself, 'They're blown to bits, that's certain.'

"You understand, this was all in a second—all at once, really. Then it was exactly the same as if I had been hit with a stick. I thought it was a big stick, bigger than any man could swing, and that it must be worked by machinery. It hit me on the head and all over. I went sailing into the air a long, long way. My ears roared, and the wind blew into my face. I knew when I struck the ground, for I remember saying to myself, 'Well, I'm done for.'

"I don't know just when I lost my right senses or when they came back, but when they did come back it seemed queer that I was there still. I thought I had been thrown somewhere else. I could feel fire burning me. It was my clothes. They were smoking and almost blazing. I was bruised all over and could not hear very well. My voice sounded as though somebody else were talking. That's all I can tell you about it."

Hawk and Partridge.

In "Reminiscences of a Falconer" Major Fisher describes the tactics of a partridge when pursued by a tame falcon.

The falcon was descending upon the partridge when the partridge stopped short and fell to the ground as if dead. He seemed to be lost in the short stubble of the field. He was far too knowing to trust himself again on the wing, and the hawk had no alternative but to take him on the ground, which he speedily attempted to do.

But on the ground the partridge was far more agile than he, running this way and that with great speed. The hawk would jump awkwardly up and dart after the scudding partridge, who just at the right moment jumped from the ground and over his back, descended on the other side and commenced running harder than before.

Time after time this was done. At every attempt the partridge met the hawk with outstretched neck and raised hackles, in the attitude of a fighting bantam cock, jumping up to avoid being clutched whenever the hawk struck at him. In fact, his whole action was that of a plucky little game bantam.

This went on for some time, until, as I regret to say, I ended the unequal strife by putting the partridge once more fairly on the wing, when, of course, the hawk readily overtook and captured it, not overmuch to his credit and still less to mine.

A Fish and Lizard Story.

One afternoon I thought I would go down the river and troll. I had on my hook a live minnow and in a little while had a strike, and I hooked my first fish, which seemed to be quite a large one. I reeled him where I could see him and found it was a large pike 25 or 30 inches long. I pulled him up to my boat, but when I lifted him from the water he was as light as a feather. I measured him and found he was just 30 inches long and should have weighed eight or nine pounds, while he only weighed two. He was just skin and bones. I killed him, took my knife and cut him open and found a live lizard, five inches long, in his stomach. The reptile was as black as coal and very lively, living 24 hours after I took him from his prison.—Field and Stream.

Without a Ring.

Mr. Justice experienced the usual sense of discomfort when her driver straightened the palm into which she had just dropped her shilling and looked at her speechlessly. She was weakly about to add another sixpence when the cabby's sense of humor prevailed. He transferred the shilling to his pocket and smiled sweetly down at his embarrassed fare. "Course, missy," he remarked, "there was the pleasure o' drivin' you!"—London Chronicle.

A Poor Way To Treat CATARRH

No one would be so foolish as to kindle the fire on top of a pot to make it boil, yet the treatment of Catarrh is often just as senseless and illogical. Douches, sprays, ointments, so-called tobacco cures, and various other applications, are diligently used, but the little good accomplished is swept away by the first breath of winter. When you attempt to cure a constitutional disease—one affecting the entire system—with purely local remedies, you are applying the fire to the top of the pot, you are doctoring symptoms, and, like thousands of others, get disappointing results. In Chronic Catarrh, the whole system becomes involved; the entire mucous membrane, or inner covering of the body, is in a state of high inflammation. The pressure of blood upon the glands and cells produce excessive secretion of mucus, much of which is absorbed into the blood and distributed to all parts of the body. In this way the stomach, kidneys and intestines are often seriously affected.

The nose, throat and ears are most frequently attacked by this foul disease, because the mucous lining is exposed to the cold, damp air, which attracts the vitiated blood to the surface, causing congestion of the little blood vessels and glands, making breathing difficult and labored; the throat becomes parched and dry; the hot, watery discharge from the nose gradually changes to a yellowish color and becoming more profuse and tenacious, drops back into the throat, causing gagging and almost constant coughing to dislodge it. This offensive discharge, in spite of all precautions, finds its way into the stomach, and extreme nausea and an obstinate form of dyspepsia follow.

St. Joseph, Mo., March 24, 1901.
I had a bad case of Catarrh; my nose was always stopped up and my head ached continually, and the odor of my breath was sickening. I had a most annoying cough, also. I tried a number of remedies and was treated by several doctors, but got no relief—my case was thought to be incurable. S. S. S. being recommended to me, I began its use, and after taking nine bottles was cured, and have never been troubled with Catarrh since. MISS MARY L. STORM, 601 Francis Street.

Blinding headaches, neuralgia of the eyes and dizziness are also symptoms of this disease, and when the inflammation reaches the delicate mechanism of the ear, hearing is lost, and, as the blood becomes more deeply poisoned, the tissues and soft bones in the head are eaten out, greatly disfiguring the face. At this stage of Catarrh the breath becomes insufferably offensive. S. S. S. is the simplest and most effective treatment for Catarrh, and when taken into the circulation reaches all parts of the system and cleanses the blood of all Catarrhal matter and restores it to a normal condition. When rich, new blood begins to flow through the veins, the obstructed glands and broken down cells resume their natural functions, and the hot and inflamed membranes are lubricated and moistened with a soothing, healing fluid that quickly brings relief to the congested parts. S. S. S. puts the blood in such perfect condition and so strengthens and invigorates the general health that the local manifestations of the disease gradually disappear, the discharge from the nose ceases, the head clears, breathing becomes easy and natural, the appetite improves, and a perfect and permanent cure is effected.

SSS

S. S. S. is the only guaranteed purely vegetable blood purifier. It contains no minerals to further poison the blood and derange the digestion, but can be taken with perfect safety in all stages and forms of Catarrh. Our physicians will gladly advise, without charge, all who write them about their case. Book on Blood and Skin Diseases free.

THE CANAL BILL IS PASSED

BUT TWO VOTES AGAINST IT IN THE HOUSE.

Hepburn Measure Passes With Understanding Panama Route May be Chosen.

Washington, Jan. 10.—By a vote which was virtually unanimous, the house of representatives last evening passed the Hepburn Nicaragua canal bill. But on a test of strength between the rival routes Panama mustered 120 votes, against 170 for Nicaragua.

This result was reached with the understanding that after the Panama company's offer has been formally submitted the senate will take action, and thus the whole question will be brough before the house again. If the senate decides for Panama the house will acquiesce. The prevailing idea now at both ends of the capital is to turn the whole matter over to the president.

Only two members of the house voted against the Hepburn bill on the question of final passage—Mr. Fletcher, of Minnesota, and Mr. Lassiter, if Virginia. Mr. Bishop, of Michigan, answered "present," and several members from the northwest refraining from voting, among them Page Morris, of Duluth, who actively advocated the Panama route. Mr. Fletcher has several times announced his opposition to government construction of an isthmian canal, believing the work should be done by private enterprise. The vote in favor of the bill was 308.

FEATURES OF THE BILL.

The bill as passed authorizes the president to secure from the states of Costa Rica and Nicaragua in behalf of the United States, control of such a portion of the territory belonging to said states as may be desirable and necessary to which to excivate, construct and prospect a canal suitable to the wants of modern navigation and commerce, and appropriates such a sum as may be necessary to secure the control of said territory.

Section 2 authorizes the president, after securing control of the needed territory, to direct the secretary of war to construct such canal from the Carribbean sea, at a point near Greytown, in Nicaragua, by way of Lake Nicaragua, to a point on the Pacific ocean near Brito, and also to construct proper harbors at the terminal of said canal, and to make necessary provisions for the defense of the canal and harbors.

Sections 3 and 4 authorize the president to make such surveys as may be necessary and to employ such persons in constructing a canal as may to him seem wise, and directs that in the construction of the canal the River San Juan and Lake Nicaragua shall be used as far as they are available.

CONCESSIONS TO NATIVES.

Section 5 authorizes the president to guarantee to the states of Costa Rica and Nicaragua the use of the canal and harbors, upon terms to be agreed upon, for all vessels owned by said states and by citizens thereof.

The last section makes a present appropriation of $10,000,000 to carry on this work and authorizes the secretary of war to enter into proper contracts for material and work as may be deemed necessary therefor, such work and material to be paid for as appropriations may be made from time to time. The section fixes the aggregate cost at $180,000,000, to be drawn from the treasury on warrants of the president.

The issue between the Panama and Nicaragua routes came upon an amendment presented by Mr. Shackelford, of Missouri, embodying the Morris, Parker and other suggestions that proposed to grant the president authority to make the selections under specified conditions. The vote was 170 to 120 against the amendment.

DESIGNED TO MAKE TIME.

There was a distinct understanding that the bill passed yesterday was hurried through to launch the project, and not to commit the house to the Nicaragua route. Chairman Hepburn, who is probably the most ardent supporter of the Nicaragua bill, which bears his name, has repeatedly stated in urging its acceptance without amendment, that it would not preclude the adoption of the Panama route. Many members unfamiliar with the merits of the Panama route, and others who have come to regard the Nicaragua route as the American route, were influenced to vote against the Panama amendment by pledges given their constituents. Another potent factor in controlling votes for the Hepburn Nicaragua bill was the plank in the last democratic platform.

Mr. Hepburn, alert to gain all advantages, made a vigorous appeal to the democrats to stand by the pledges of their party. He emphasized that they were not committed to an isthmian canal, as were the republicans, but that they had promised to promote the construction of a Nicaragua canal, and should do it without delay. While Mr. Hepburn was positive of the meaning of the canal plank in the democratic platform, the members of that party were not so clear.

DIPLOMATIC CORPS DINED.

Washington, Jan. 10.—The dinner to the diplomatic corps was given by President and Mrs. Roosevelt last night. The table was set in the east room, used for the first time for a purpose of this kind, and covers were laid for eighty-five persons—the largest number ever entertained at dinner at one time in the white house. The immense double-T shaped table was set off with immense plaques of pink begonias in maiden-hair fern and towering bunches of white roses in crystal vases. The silver candelabra with pink shades lent a tinge of rich coloring to the scene. The president sat at the center of the table, with Lady Pauncefote on his right and Senora de Aziporiz on his left. Directly opposite the president sat Mrs. Roosevelt, with the British ambassador on her right and the German ambassador on her left. Especial attention had been paid to the decoration and illumination of the east room. In addition to the myriads of electric lights from the chandeliers, there were sprays of green lights scattered through the smilax which wreathed the large pillars, while the immense mirrors were veiled with laurel through which shone a profusion of red and white electric lights. Music was furnished by the Marine band.

SENT HOME TO DIE.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 10.—Edward Franklin, a young man from Spencer, Ind., died in the charity hospital here yesterday from disease contracted in South Africa. He enlisted at New Orleans with a party of other Indianians as a muleteer in the British service. They are said to have suffered ill treatment from the British in South Africa, and were compelled to drive the mules into the interior of Africa after they had been landed at Cape Town. While detained in South Africa Franklin contracted sickness from the water he drank, and he was shipped back to America sick, arriving only a few days ago.

Prof. Wilbur C. Knight, of the State University of Wyoming, is engaged in putting together the pieces of a sea serpent which he discovered in 1895. The animal was sixty feet long and is one of the most valuable specimens ever captured.

FOREIGNERS BARRED.

The German government has been compelled to partially shut the gates of its technical schools against foreigners, particularly Russians, Poles, Bohemians, Austrians and Hungarians, who have crowded the institutions to such an extent as to interfere with the proper instruction of native students. At the great technical college of Berlin, for example, where there is accommodation for about 1,500 students, more than 2,200 crowded the laboratories and lecture rooms last year.

At least one-third of them were foreigners, mostly from Russia and the other countries bounding Germany on the east. This year the faculty have declined to admit more than 100 foreigners, or, in other words, have raised the standard of admission so high that only 100 foreigners have been able to comply with the conditions, instead of about 700 a year ago.

To obtain admission applicants must show that they have attended technical colleges in their own country or have passed examinations which entitle them to admission to the scientific branches of the university.

BAY RUM IS CHEAPER.

Barbers may now quit using witch-hazel on the faces of their customers after shaving them and return once more to bay rum, says the Kansas ity Star. Many who patronize barber shops may not have detected the difference, but in most shops bay rum has not been used for some time, owing to an advance in the price. Now there is a prospect that it will become more plentiful.

A cask of bay rum was cleared at the Kansas City customs office this morning, the first on the record for many years. It came from the little Island of St. Thomas, in the West Indies, which figured conspicuously in the Spanish-American war, and which the United States government has been trying to buy from Denmark ever since. The duty on the rum has been greatly reduced, and this is the cause of the shipment. Bay rum is made from the sap of the bay tree, and is one of the principal products of St. Thomas. It is believed that freer trade relations with the West Indies, as the result of the Spanish war, will cheapen this particular product to Americans.

The Natal Witness states that steamship lines are submitting proposals for a direct line to England, and that Natal is prepared to put $6,000,000 into the venture.

There's no more acceptable present to give her than an Angora cat—what woman would not appreciate one of these magnificent, queenly animals?

ANGORAS

This is the pearl of household pets—beautiful, rare, gentle. I have just received an importation of the finest genuine Angoras ever brought to this country.

SINGING CANARIES

If you care to buy a canary at a department store that's your lookout—nobody to blame but yourself. If you want to buy a canary that will sing, that is healthy and hardy, you had better come to me. Why? Because I am the largest importer of genuine Harts Mountain birds.

TALKING PARROTS

A parrot that doesn't talk is an expensive, not to say useless, investment. If, by accident, I should sell a parrot that wouldn't talk I'd like the purchaser to bring it back and exchange it for one that will.

PUPPIES

Something wrong with the boy or girl who wouldn't be pleased with a pup for Christmas. I have good fox terriers, St. Bernards, Spaniels and other species. Prices to suit.

M'CREARY GOES TO SENATE

KENTUCKY DEMOCRATS NAME JAMES B. M'CREARY.

Harmonious Choice of Legislative Caucus—Will Be Elected Next Tuesday.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 10.—Standing on the rostrum of the old Hall of Representatives of the Kentucky capitol, where more than thirty years ago he began his public career, Hon. James B. McCreary, of Madison county, last night accepted the nomination of the democratic party to succeed William J. Deboe in the senate of the United States. He received the nomination by a vote of 62 to 37 over Circuit Judge James E. Cantrill, of Scott county, nearly to-thirds of the democratic members. He will be elected by the general assembly, in joint session, on Tuesday of next week over Senator Deboe, who was indorsed by the republicans for re-election.

The democratic caucus last night was harmonious throughout, the only surprise being that sprung several hours before it convened by the withdrawal of Congressman Charles K. Wheeler and David H. Smith, who have been in the contest for the past year. They withdrew only when it became apparent that McCreary would be nominated, and Judge Cantrill remained in the race only to receive a complimentary vote.

James Bennett McCreary was born in Madison county, Kentucky, on July 8, 1838. He first came into prominence in 1862 when he assisted in raising the Eleventh cavalry regiment for the Kentucky service, U. S. A. In this regiment he was subsequently made lieutenant colonel, a rank he held at the close of the war. He served with distinction in the army of the Tennessee under Generals Morgan and Bragg and under Breckenridge, in Virginia, and surrendered with his regiment at Appomattox.

He entered politics in 1866, being chosen to represent Madison county in the Kentucky legislature. In 1875 he was elected governor on the democratic ticket. After retiring from the executive office he was elected to the Forty-ninth congress and re-elected to the Fiftieth, Fifty-first, Fifty-second, Fifty-third and Fifty-fourth sessions. For twelve years he was a member of the committee on foreign affairs of the house. He also was a member of the committees on coinage and weights and measures and the world's fair and private land claims.

Governor McCreary was appointed by the president of the United States in 1892 one of the five commissioners to represent the United States in the international monetary conference. In that conference he distinguished himself as an advocate of bimetallism.

NEW CALLING LIST.

The 1902 calling list of the Bell Telephone company has been issued and is being distributed among subscribers. Owing to the fact that the list of out of town connections has been omitted and that the names of subscribers are printed in smaller type, the directory is much smaller than that of last year. Within the past few months the Bell company has installed a number of party lines and when a call is made for a subscriber on one of the party lines the name "Green" or "Brown" is prefixed to the number. On each party circuit there are four subscribers, two each of "Green" and "Brown," and when a call is made for a subscriber on a party line the operator grounds the opposite party to the one wanted. Subscribers having telephones on the main line are designated by prefixing "Main" to the desired numbers. Within the past year over four hundred additional telephones have been installed by the Bell company.

AN ACCEPTABLE GIFT.

Plymouth Congregational church, through its pastor, Rev. J. Webster Bailey, presented to the South church as a New Year's gift a beautiful communion service, consisting of two aluminum trays, with eighty-eight individual cups. The service was used for the first time last Sunday. The congregation passed a vote of thanks to the members of Plymouth church for the gift, which was a most fitting one.

A number of society women of New York are interesting themselves in what is called the nickel concert. They are members of prominent music societies. The idea is to furnish good music to the people at five cents a head.

FIVE DOLLARS A BOX.

THE PRICE CUT NO FIGURE WITH HIM.

"I want to say for the benefit of some poor dyspeptic that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will give comfort and a cure every time. Five dollars a box would not stop my purchasing them should I ever suffer again as I did for a week before using them.

"The one 50-cent box I bought at my druggist's did the work and my digestion is all right again.

"Many of my neighbors have also tried these tablets and found them to be just as represented and Mr. Ellms also wants me to use his name in endorsing Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Signed.

"A Ellms and Chas F. Buzzell,
"Assistant Postmaster,
"South Sudbury, Mass."

Mrs. James Barton, of Toronto, Canada, writes: "For eighteen months I suffered from what I supposed was bladder and kidney trouble, and took medicine from three different doctors, without any sign of cure. I felt so ill at last I was hardly able to do my work.

"I thought I would try a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and see if they would make me feel better, never really thinking I had dyspepsia, but after only three or four tablets had been taken all the acid trouble disappeared and then I discovered I had had acid dyspepsia, while the doctors had been treating me for kidney and bladder trouble and one of them treated me for rheumatism.

"My digestion is fine, my complexion clear and I am able to do my work, and low spirits are unknown to me.

"I am so thankful for finding a cure so good and so pleasant to take as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I am surprised at the change they have made in me."

All druggists sell and recommend Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they contain only the simple, natural digestives, and taken after meals prevent acidity and cause prompt digestion and assimilation of food.

Physicians everywhere endorse them because they are as safe for the child as for the adult; they are invaluable for sour stomach, nervous dyspepsia, heartburn, gas on stomach and bowels and every form of stomach derangement.

THE TRUSTEES ARE CHOSEN

MEN WHO WILL DIRECT CARNEGIE INSTITUTION.

Announcement Made by Incorporators, in Accordance With Mr. Carnegie's Wishes.

Washington, Jan. 10.—The great Carnegie Institution, incorporated under the $10,000,000 gift of Andrew Carnegie, began to assume definite shape yesterday, when the members of the board of trustees were officially announced. The Illinois members are Lyman J. Gage and Charles L. Hutchinson. Dr. Charles D. Walcott, secretary of the incorporators, made the announcement, with the added statement that, for the purposes of the institution, Mr. Carnegie would transfer to the board of trustees the sum of $10,000,000 in "5 per cent bonds." In his statement Dr. Walcott says that Mr. Carnegie has been consulting with prominent educators throughout the country in developing his plans, including Abram S. Hewitt, Dr. Daniel C. Gilman, Dr. John S. Billings, Dr. Charles D. Walcott, Carroll D. Wright and the heads of various universities and other scientific institutions.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

The board of trustees elected by the incorporators is as follows:

—Ex Officio.—

The President of the United States.

The president of the United States senate.

The speaker of the house of representatives.

The secretary of the Smithsonian Institution.

The president of the National Academy of Sciences.

1—Grover Cleveland, New Jersey.
2—John S. Billings, New York.
3—William N. Frew, Pennsylvania.
4—Lyman J. Gage, Illinois.
5—Daniel C. Gilman, Maryland.
6—John Hay, District of Columbia.
7—Abram S. Hewitt, New Jersey.
8—Henry L. Higginson, Massachusetts.
9—Henry Hitchcock, Missouri.
10—Charles L. Hutchinson, Illinois.
11—William Lindsay, Kentucky.
12—Seth Low, New York.
13—Wayne MacVeagh, Pennsylvania.
14—D. O. Mills, California.
15—S. Weir Mitchell, Pennsylvania.
16—W. W. Morrow, California.
17—Elihu Root, New York.
18—John C. Spooner, Wisconsin.
19—Andrew D. White, New York.
20—Edward D. White, Louisiana.
21—Charles D. Walcott, District of Columbia.
22—Carroll D. Wright, District of Columbia.

The board of trustees will meet to organize and elect officers in the office of the secretary of state on Jan. 29.

PURPOSE OF INSTITUTION.

Mr. Carnegie's purpose, as stated by himself in requesting the various trustees to become members of the board, is as follows:

"It is proposed to found in the city of Washington, in the spirit of Washington, an institution which, with the co-operation of institutions now or hereafter established there or elsewhere shall in the broadest and most liberal manner, encourage investigation, research and discovery; encourage the application of knowledge to the improvement of mankind; provide such buildings, laboratories, books and apparatus as may be needed, and afford instruction of an advanced character to students whenever and wherever found, inside or outside of schools, properly qualified to profit thereby.

"Among its aims are these:

"1. To increase the efficiency of the universities and other institutions of learning throughout the country, by utilizing and adding to their existing facilities, and by aiding teachers in the various institutions for experimental and other work in these institutions as far as may be advisable.

TO AID GENIUS.

"2. To discover the exceptional man in every department of study, whenever and wherever found, and enable him by financial aid to make the work for which he seems specially designed his life work.

"3. To promote original research, paying great attention there, as being one of the chief purposes of this institution.

"4. To increase facilities for higher education.

"5. To enable such students as may find Washington the best point for their special studies to avail themselves of such advantages as may be open to them in the museums, libraries, laboratories, observatory, meteorological, piscatorial and forestry schools and kindred institutions of the several departments of the government.

"6. To insure the prompt publication and distribution of the results of scientific investigation, a field considered to be highly important.

"These and kindred objects may be attained by providing the necessary apparatus for experimental work, by employing able teachers from the various institutions in Washington or elsewhere, and by enabling men fitted for special work to devote themselves to it, or through salaries, with or without pensions in old age, or through aid in other forms to such men as continue their special work at seats of learning throughout the world."

PUT BAN ON "UNCLE TOM."

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 10.—Lexington chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, has sent a written petition to Charles B. Scott, manager of the Lexington opera house, asking that the play, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," never be played again at the opera house here. They give as reasons that the best citizens and old families living in and about Lexington were once slave owners; that the incidents of Uncle Tom's Cabin are not typical of slave life in the south, but of isolated cases; that the production and its advertisement with bloodhounds and pictures of an old negro in chains and a slave owner with whip in hand present a false idea of the history of the times to the children of the city and are in disrespect to the southern gentlemen and good citizens and their families in this part of the country. The petition is signed by four of the most prominent women of the chapter and is indorsed unanimously by the members. It has created a sensation here.

NEW POSTAL DIVISION.

Washington, Jan. 10.—The postoffice department has created a new division of postoffice inspectors, to comprise the state of Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Indian Territory. The division headquarters will be at Kansas City, with J. R. Harrison, of Salina, Kas., inspector in charge. Mr. Harrison formerly was attached to the St. Louis division and was postmaster at Havana during the reorganization of the postal service of Cuba.

GOING FOR WARSHIPS.

New York, Jan. 10.—Among the passengers who arrived on the Orizaba from Colon this morning was Commander L. A. Martinez, of the Chilian navy. He is en route to England, where he will take charge of two new cruisers and two torpedo boat destroyers now completed in that country. Six hundred men to man these vessels sail from Colon today for Southampton per the Royal Mail steam packet.

NONOGENARIAN SUICIDES.

New York, Jan. 10.—Christopher Miller, ninety years old, hanged himself in the bath room of his son's home here early today. A week ago the old man was much grieved by the death of his sister-in-law at the age of eighty-one years and his mind was further upset by reading of the accident in the New York Central tunnel on Wednesday.

THE CONGRESS OF MOTHERS.

Washington, Jan. 10.—An interesting program is being prepared for the sixth annual convention of the National Congress of Mothers, which will be held in the First Baptist church in this city February 25 to 28th. Among the speakers will be Prof. Sherman Davis, of Indiana university. His theme will be "The Scientific and Spiritual Development of the Child." Mrs. Mary B. Page, of Chicago, will speak upon "The Educational Value of the Play."

PAYNE SOON TO QUALIFY.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Henry C. Payne, whose arrival has been delayed by the death of a friend in Milwaukee, will qualify as postmaster general and assume his new duties either next Tuesday or Wednesday. He will reach here Sunday. Postmaster General Smith will give his farewell dinner to the president and cabinet Monday evening, after which he will be ready to yield the office to Mr. Payne and return to his editorial duties in Philadelphia.

Electric energy from wind has been successfully obtained in both England and Germany, but it is in the latter country that it has been actually put into use.

M. C. Couz of Hamburg used a windmill with a regulator which would keep its speed constant, no matter what the speed of the wind was, and succeeded so well that there is a strong probability that it will be used in small villages in Germany and supply electric light and power at a low cost.

The English have, however, gone much further than experiment in equipping the antarctic exploring vessel Discovery with a complete electrical apparatus, the power for which is supplied by a windmill.

Electric Steamship Log.

A new electric steamship log has been tried with some measure of success on the great lake steamers. It is a brass tube attached to 250 feet of insulated half inch cable, which contains an electrical circuit breaker operated by an ordinary rotater fixed to a right and left handed screw, which shifts a carriage back and forth one stroke to every one-twentieth of a mile, so that every time this distance is traveled the circuit in the cable is closed, which actuates the indicator on the bridge, in the pilothouse or in the captain's cabin.

Wood Fireproofed by Electricity.

Wood is made fireproof by the Noden & Bretonneau process, as used in Paris, by placing it in a bath of magnesium sulphate. Lead electrodes are used, the one being separated from the other by a sailcloth diaphragm. A direct currant of 110 volts is then sent through the wood, with the result that the sap is extracted and is replaced by a non-inflammable salt.

Latest Insulating Material.

Consul Warner of Leipsic notes that a recently patented insulating material is made by taking pulverized casein and making it with vegetable oils. The mixture, to which rubber, caoutchouc, resin or coloring matter may be added, is pressed into forms and dried or vulcanized by the addition of sulphur.

Wireless Telegraphy in Canada.

Building Bathtubs of Glass.

Hitherto the largest concave vessel that could be blown from glass has had a capacity of about twenty-five gallons, but Paul Sievert of Dresden claims to be able to make bathtubs and large kettles of glass by his new method. The liquid glass is poured upon a cast iron plate, to which the quickly cooling outer edge is made to adhere, while most of the mass sinks as an elongated sack to a table beneath. Compressed air is conveyed through a cylinder into this sack, the table on which the bottom rests being gradually lowered, and when the desired size is reached the upper edge is released by removal of a retaining strip from the iron plate.

New Meteorological Charts.

Since January, 1901, the Deutsche Seewarte (German marine observatory) at Hamburg has published monthly meteorological charts of the north Atlantic which are destined to be of great use to navigators. The charts are on the Mercator projection, divided into areas of five degrees on a side. For each area is given the mean surface temperature of the water during the month. Ocean currents are related to these temperatures, and air currents—that is, winds—depend upon them also. The probability of storms in each area is expressed on the charts.

Philippine Wood.

Experiments are to be made in Portland, Or., with hard woods from the Philippines. A trial order has been sent for 4,000 feet, to include ebony, tindalo and gray and blood red narra, which is the Philippine mahogany. This wood is expected to take the place of Borneo mahogany, known as pyle wood in the Philippines, which has been much used in interior car finishings. It promises to give better satisfaction than the Borneo product and is expected to supersede it entirely in the western market.

Decoy Duck That Moves.

An improved decoy duck for gunning has now been made by a Maryland inventor. It consists of rods which are connected together by a jointed brace and on which decoy ducks are supported. The rods are so arranged that they can at any moment be moved and adjusted, and, as the decoys thus rest on a buoyant support, they have a really lifelike appearance.

Atmospheric Conditions of Fog.

An interesting paper was recently submitted to the Royal academy of Belgium by Dr. E. Vanderlinden on the atmospheric conditions that accompany fog in that country. The author shows that the winter fogs are mostly connected with anticyclonic conditions, while those of summer occur during periods of shallow or secondary barometric depressions.

Bicycles In Turkey.

A pronounced demand for American bicycles has arisen in and about Harput. The types of wheel which will find ready sale there should be, it is said, simple in style and provided with brakes. The climate is hard on caoutchouc, and in the choice of tires it is necessary to bear in mind the frequency of stones on all oriental highways.

MEASURING HUMIDITY.

How Scientists Determine Amount of Moisture in the Air.

To most minds scientific instruments are so fearfully and wonderfully constructed that no attempt is ever made to pry into the manner of their performing their functions, the results obtained being accepted as a matter of course, says the St. Louis Republic. Yet many such instruments, while apparently most complicated, are really based on very simple principles. Of these the thermometer and the barometer are, of course, now generally understood, although this was not always true.

Another meteorological instrument, however, which is much used, but which is more or less mysterious to the public, is that by which the amount of moisture in the air is determined. While delicately constructed and balanced by means of fine springs, the chief reliance is placed in a few horsehairs, which are exceedingly responsive to the influence of dampness.

When the air becomes moist, they relax, and a pivoted bar, one end of which forms an indicator, is drawn along a scale, which shows just to what extent the air is saturated with water. When the air is dry, the horsehairs become tense, and the indicator is returned to its appropriate place on the scale.

It is in this way that track is kept of General Humidity, whose damp forces so effectually conspire to keep humanity in misery during warm weather.

THE SIMPLON TUNNEL.

Three Years More of Digging Before It Can Be Finished.

In a recent number of Die Umschau is an account of the Simplon tunnel. This huge perforation of the Alps was commenced on Nov. 13, 1898, and as the contract allows but five and a half years for the work the critical date will be May 13, 1904, after which a fine of 5,000 francs a day will be imposed for nonfulfillment of the contract. Work was commenced from both sides simultaneously, 2,000 days being considered sufficient to bore through 19,734 meters of rock.

A whole village has been called into existence at either end of the work, and the workpeople are housed in modern Utopian hamlets. The company has strict rules as to their diet, baths and change of clothing. A theater and other amusements are also provided, as well as schools and a hospital.

The boring tools as well as all other mechanical arrangements are operated directly by water power, which is obtained from the Rhone on the north and the Riviera on the south side. Two new features in tunnel construction have been introduced. One is blasting by means of liquid air cartridges and the other in cooling temperature of the interior by spraying.

Locomotive Engineering describes a new compound rack locomotive, the latest product of the Baldwin Locomotive works, built for the Manitou and Pike's Peak railway. The engine is unusually powerful for a locomotive of this kind, weighing 62,455 pounds in working order, of which 44,155 pounds are on the drivers. The cylinders are 10 and 15 inches by 22 inch stroke. The boiler is 44 inches diameter and carries a working pressure of 180 pounds. The Manitou and Pike's Peak railway is built on what is known as the Abt system of rack rail and climbs a grade of 25 per cent. This latest production of the Baldwin Locomotive works is said to be the heaviest rack rail engine used anywhere.

This engine has a device for automatically applying the brake, should speed become excessive in descending. At a test the engine was started down alone and stopped itself exactly as planned.

Electric Disinfection of Cars.

Nothing sweetens or freshens stale air better than ozone, says The Lancet, and now that most of the railway companies have successfully adopted a system by which each carriage on its journey develops by means of a dynamo attached to the axletrees its own current of electricity for lighting purposes there is no reason why the same current should not be utilized at the same time to ozonize the air of the compartment. The quantity of ozone required is small. The result would certainly be good, since the ozone has a remarkably destructive action on aerial impurities and unpleasant smells and gives the air a degree of freshness similar to that of the sea breeze.

Electricity For Mountain Climbing.

The Canadian Pacific railway is about to install electric power for hauling its trains when they cross the Rockies. It now requires about four locomotives to pull and push a train over the heaviest grades. The railway proposes to use the enormous water power right at hand.

New Use For X Rays.

Examinations of drugs by X rays have been found to show adulteration in many cases where the microscope and chemical analysis give no indications.

An Honest Doctor

AND

Eminent Specialist.

D. W. Tucker, A. M. M. D.

INDIANA MEDICAL AND SURGICAL INSTITUTE.

The Oldest, the Largest, and the Best —Thirty Years' Experience.

Many Imitators, But no Equal.

Permit us to call the attention of our readers to the important fact that there are three essential steps in the successful treatment of disease. First, a correct diagnosis; second, the selection of the proper remedies in their best possible form, and third, a thorough knowledge of knowing how to prepare these remedies and their physiological effects upon the human body, in order to effect a cure. In the three above named facts Dr. D. W. Tucker has no equal in the state of Indiana. He has treated many thousands of cases within the last Thirty Years.

If one fourth of the people that are now in the cemetery had consulted and been treated by some good Specialist in place of their family doctor, they would have lived twenty years longer. Only a Specialist, who thoroughly understands Chronic Diseases, can treat them successfully. Dr. Tucker is without doubt the ablest specialist in this state and has treated and cured more cases of Chronic and Private Diseases than all the other Specialists in this state combined.

A doctor that has restored thousands to health, and can produce undeniable proof of the fact, must be regarded with respect. This is the record of Dr. Tucker, which cannot be equaled by any other specialist in the United States. His success is the result of THIRTY YEARS of careful study, extensive research, observation and remarkable experience in the treatment and cure of thousands of chronic and private diseases of the Brain, Heart, Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Bladder, Rectum, Gleet, Impotency, Nervous Diseases, Catarrh, Piles, Varicocele, Strictures, and all private diseases of both sexes. If Dr. Tucker cannot cure you no other specialist in the United States can. He has deposited in bank ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS that he has treated more cases of chronic diseases and performed more remarkable cures than any THREE SPECIALISTS in the State of Indiana. He will not deceive you, and guarantees to cure every case he takes for treatment. He is vouched for by the best banks and citizens of the state.

BARNES DECLARED INSANE.

AGED FARMER WHO MARRIED A YOUNG WIDOW.

Court at Valparaiso Says He Must Have a Guardian—General News of the State.

Valparaiso, Ind., Jan. 10.—In the circuit court here William J. Barnes, a wealthy farmer, who came here from Oklahoma six months ago to get married, was declared by a jury to be of unsound mind, and a guardian will be appointed to manage his estate. Barnes, who is seventy-six years old, and worth $75,000, came here in answer to an advertisement in a matrimonial paper and married Jennie Beckman, a widow, who owned the Valparaiso hotel property. Since their marriage the Barneses have been in court several times over the wedding contract in which he settled considerable property on his bride before she would consent to wed him. At last his married daughter came to this city and began legal proceedings to have her father placed under a guardianship to save his property from his young wife. The case was bitterly contested by leading attorneys, but the daughter won. Steps will now be taken to have the courts declare the ante-nuptial contracts void and thus recover as much as possible of the money he has given to his wife in accordance with its terms. Mrs. Barnes will not only fight such proceedings to the end, but will attempt to have the verdict in the present case set aside or reversed and save her husband the right to manage his own property.

CUTS WAGES WITHOUT NOTICE.

Anderson, Ind., Jan. 10.—Men in the mills of the American Steel and Wire company are mystified over a notice just posted stating that there will be a reduction in wages among the employes who have been receiving sixteen and two-thirds cents an hour. From January 1, according to the notice, they will be paid fifteen cents an hour. It is understood that the first semi-monthly payment under the new schedule will be made tomorrow and throughout the entire force of about 700 men there is intense interest to see how far the new order reaches. Recently another half-hour was added to the day's work, and it is now ten hours and one-half at this time. It is claimed that the men had no notice of the proposed cut in wages until Wednesday evening, although they have been working under the reduction, it seems, since January 1. There is some fear that there will be trouble. The mills have been operating steadily.

DISTRESS REUNITES COUPLE.

Marion, Ind., Jan. 10.—Wm. Beale was stricken with paralysis Sunday. The stroke affected his mouth and throat, and he is unable to talk or even open his mouth, and he is slowly starving to death. He has received no nourishment since Saturday night. The affliction has resulted in reuniting him and his wife. They had not lived together for some time. When his wife learned of his condition Sunday she immediately had him removed to her home and is doing everything possible for his relief.

GAMBLER WARS ON GAMBLER.

Marion, Ind., Jan. 10.—A war of gamblers against gamblers is on at VanBuren. Three men were arrested yesterday on charges of running gambling houses. They were David Guiser, Charles Long and John Christman. The affidavits were filed by George J. Hogle, the keeper of a hotel there. Hogle, it seems, is bringing such action for revenge. He has been twice arrested and convicted of the same charge lately, and he claims that he has been discriminated against by the officers of the town; that while he was not permitted to continue the unlawful business, others were. He resolved, as a result of his boycott, to shut out the business entirely.

JILTED LOVER WANTED TO DIE.

Elwood, Ind., Jan. 10.—Fred Lamb, who recently returned from the Philippines, attempted suicide by taking morphine last night. He was in love with Emma Shruck, of Anderson, who, it is claimed, jilted him. Prompt work of physicians saved his life.

THREATENS BODILY INJURY.

Elkhart, Ind., Jan. 10.—Mrs. Frank Bigler, of this city, fears that she may suffer bodily injury at the hands of Joseph Burt, once the husband of one of her sisters, who is now the wife of Sheriff John Hathaway, of DeKalb county. She has been warned by Mrs. Hathaway to watch out for Burt, as it is reported at Auburn that he is suffering from softening of the brain, and has been giving Mrs. Hathaway cause for alarm for two or three weeks. Burt and Miss Agnes Hartford were married in this city in June, 1890. He was then residing in Texas and came here to claim his bride. A day or so after the ceremony he left for Texas, promising to send for her as soon as the weather was more pleasant for travel. That was the last she heard of him for over four years. In the meantime, assuming that he was dead, she secured a divorce and moved to Garrett, Ind., where she met and married Mr. Hathaway.

GIRL ENVIES DAY LABORER.

Danville, Ill., Jan. 10.—Jessie Hughes, of Attica, Ind., aged 13 years, who has a distaste for household duties, cut off her long braids yesterday morning and, waiting until all the rest of the members of the family were out of the house, she put on a suit of her father's old working clothes and caught a train for Danville. She had a feminine appearance and the conductor of the train succeeded in inducing the girl to tell him her story. She said that she wished to appear as a man and was willing and able to handle a pick and shovel if need be. On the arrival of the train in this city the conductor called a policeman and the girl was taken back to her home, greatly against her own will, although she stated that she had a happy home and that it was only a desire to travel as a man that had induced her to put on her father's clothes and seek a position as a day laborer.

GIVES CLEW TO OLD MURDER.

South Bend, Ind., Jan. 10.—Friends of Rufus Hulwick, of Goshen, whose body was found in a car of a Lake Shore freight train at Wauseon August 31, 1901, have never ceased efforts to unravel the mystery of his murder. Sheriff Elliott, of Goshen, has now received a clew from Mrs. Neil Graham, of Chicago, formerly of Elkhart, who was Hulwick's intimate friend. Details, however, are kept secret, but statements for publication, it is said, will be forthcoming. Hulwick met death at the end of an extended trip in the northwest, in which he was accompanied by Jack Tweedy, of Goshen, who was arrested, but who was released after he had satisfied the sheriff that he had not seen Hulwick after parting with him in South Bend a few hours before death.

ANOTHER FIRE AT OSSIAN.

Ossian, Ind., Jan. 10.—Fire broke out in the hardware store of A. M. White at 11 o'clock last night and before the fire department could get control it had caused some heavy losses. The White hardware store building was destroyed, causing a loss of $3,000, with $1,800 insurance on the building and stock. Harry Nill's shoe store was damaged to the extent of $200, but all the stock was gotten out. A. S. Elvey, furniture dealer, sustained a loss of $150, but the Masonic lodge room, on the second floor of the building, sustained a $500 loss to room and fittings. The origin of the fire is unknown.

JUDGE MOORE DIES SUDDENLY.

Marion, Ind., Jan. 10.—Judge Alfred Moore, of Chicago, formerly prosecuting attorney of Huntington county, died suddenly at his home yesterday. He was well known all over Indiana and was the author of "Moore's Criminal Practice," used by the profession in Indiana.

IN NORTHERN INDIANA

Richmond is reveling in a grand total of 176 cases of measles.

But thirteen deaths occurred in the town of Waterloo, DeKalk county, during 1901.

Meyer Baum, a prominent citizen of Lagonier, is dead. Appendicitis was the cause.

Mrs. Rachel Wolfe died at her home near Zanesville Tuesday at the advanced age of 85.

South Bend fears a brick famine that will seriously cripple early spring building operations.

David Fry, aged 81, has been installed as treasurer of the Masonic lodge at Syracuse for the thirtieth time.

Cass county commissioners have granted a franchise for an extension of the Peru interurban line to Logansport.

Mrs. Betty Smith, at Bluffton, asks $66 from the county for nursing her own son through an attack of smallpox.

It is claimed that capital has been secured to construct the electric line between Goshen and Angola during the present year.

A committee of Goshen business men will petition the city council to provide a new high school building for that city.

Jason Wilson, of Marion, has closed his fortieth year in the banking business in that city. He is about 70 years of age.

Mrs. Williams, of Logansport, left her purse containing $3,600 on a Pan Handle train. The cash was found intact and returned to her.

The grand jury at Goshen has returned an indictment for murder in the first degree against Ora Strine, who killed his wife at Elkhart recently.

Emma Berth, a Hammond girl under charge of stealing money from a lady at Whiting, died suddenly as a result of excessive mental strain from the ordeal.

St. Joseph's Catholic church, at Mishawaka, of which Very Rev. A. B. Oechtering is pastor, will spend $25,000 in a church, schoolhouse and gymnasium.

Louis B. Chaplin, of Warsaw, formerly a reporter on the Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette, was wedded Wednesday evening to Miss Blanche D. Barron, of Goshen.

Louis Elbel, a well known South Bend musician now in Muenchen, Germany, recently played the piano at the Russian embassy there before an audience made up entirely of nobility.

Anderson laundrymen have agreed to abolish the old system of charging by the piece for family washing, and hereafter they will charge 4 cents a pound for dry weight after being washed.

Web Lesh, of Rock Creek township, Wells county, made an unsuccessful attempt at suicide Wednesday afternoon by cutting a large gash in his wrist. This was Mr. Lesh's third attempt to end his life.

Mrs. Samuel Meachan, of Clay, Lagrange county, has been seriously ill from blood poisoning which resulted from a scratch upon the hand received in the attempt to part the family dog and the family cat which had gotten into a fight.

Someone who imagines himself a joker, rigged up a dummy into the form of a woman and suspended it by a rope to the Cedar Creek bridge at Waterloo Monday night. A number of pedestrians were nearly frightened into nervous prostrtion before the ruse was discovered.

The Indianapolis Journal's Washington correspondent says: "Some opposition has developed in northern Indiana, particularly in and around South Bend, against the proposed legislation to declare the St. Joseph river in Indiana non-navigable. Letters have been received by several members of the house opposing such an act."

Abe Johnson, a DeKalb county man, is in the state prison at Anamosa, Iowa, for forgery. He had forged a check on the Farmers' bank in Auburn. When the check was presented the forgery was detected and Johnson's arrest followed. He plead guilty and was sentenced to prison for three years. It is not his first crime.

At Berne Wednesday Charles Boegley started to crawl through a large sewer, recently constructed, for purposes of inspection, and while he was inside the contractors, not knowing of his mission, turned in the water, which went roaring through with great rapidity. Boegley was caught and carried some distance, but his cries finally attracted attention, and he was pulled out through a man-hole more dead than alive.

WILL AID WOOSTER.

Wooster, O., Jan. 10.—The board of trustees of the Wooster university had almost given up the idea of rebuilding the school since the fire, when Dr. D. K. Pearsons, of Chicago, made the board an offer as follows:

He will give $100,000 if Wooster and Wayne county, Ohio, raise $40,000 and the Ohio synod raises another $100,000 by 5:45 p. m., Feb. 21. The board received $80,000 insurance money, and the whole amount will net $300,000. It was decided that instead of erecting one large structure like the one burned, four buildings will be put up.

Dr. Pearsons always refused to donate to Wooster university, saying that Ohio did not do enough for its colleges. The Pittsburg Alumni association will aid in raising money to help out its alma mater.

WHEAT IS IN DANGER.

(Bluffton News.)

Unless there is a change in the weather in a very short time the wheat crop in this part of the country will be almost entirely destroyed. The comparatively warm days which the people have been enjoying causes the wheat to spring up. Then just as soon as it is above the ground the colder nights freeze it off again. Should extremely cold weather set in now the crop would be ruined without any doubt. The ground in its present condition is very loosely packed and it would not take a very hard freeze to kill the roots which are yet unaffected. A warm rain would pack the ground and thus prevent the freezing should a cold wave come. But should a cold wave come that would also be detrimental. If enough snow would fall to well cover the wheat the crop will not be in any danger whatever.

MR. FRANCIS REWARDED.

(Huntington Herald.)

Very few readers of the Herald are aware of the fact that one day last April a fearful wreck of a passenger on the Wabash was narrowly averted by the discovery of a broken rail. Yet it is a fact, and the man who discovered it and flagged the train is none other than Theodore Francis, who resides near Aboite, and near whose home it happened. For this act of preservation of perhaps many lives, and the saving of thousands of dollars to the railroad company, Mr. Francis carries, as a slight token of their appreciation, a life pass over the Wabash.

TRUST WILL FIX PRICES.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 10.—Arrangements have been made for a meeting of the principal companies manufacturing wire and wire nails in this city next Tuesday, at which it is probable that an arbitrary price association will be formed for the purpose of controlling the prices of wire and wire nails. The association, if formed, will be very similar to the steel rail and steel plate pools. It will include about a dozen concerns, the largest of which, it is said, will be the American Steel and Wire company, of the United States Steel corporation.

MILES CHERISHES AMBITION

THE GENERAL A CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENCY.

Is Said to Have His Eye on the Democratic Nomination With Schley Case as Issue.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—The Record-Herald prints the following Washington special from Walter Wellman:

Two candidates for the presidency in 1904 dined together at the white house last night. One was President Roosevelt, the host, and the other was Lieutenant General Miles, one of the guests at the diplomatic dinner. General Miles is now an open candidate for presidential honors. He has long had an inclination in that direction, but since he was reprimanded by the president for his interview on the Schley case the commanding general of the army has made little if any concealment of his intention to win the democratic nomination two years hence if he can.

He is actively playing his cards with that end in view. In fact, the decision of Admiral Schley to appeal his case to the president is said on good authority to be a part of the Miles program to embarrass Mr. Roosevelt. The national capital is full of most interesting gossip concerning this latest phase of the celebrated controversy and the plans of General Miles to make a political issue of the Schley case with himself as the central figure. General Miles would like to be nominated for president in 1904, with either Schley or Dewey as his running mate. He believes a ticket reading Miles and Schley or Miles and Dewey would bring victory against President Roosevelt or any other man the republicans could put up.

General Miles is very much in earnest in his candidacy for the presidency. He talks of little else to his intimate friends and already by anticipation is enjoying a victory over the president who dared administer to him a severe public reprimand.

A Poor Way To Treat CATARRH

No one would be so foolish as to kindle the fire on top of a pot to make it boil, yet the treatment of Catarrh is often just as senseless and illogical. Douches, sprays, ointments, so-called tobacco cures, and various other applications, are diligently used, but the little good accomplished is swept away by the first breath of winter. When you attempt to cure a constitutional disease—one affecting the entire system—with purely local remedies, you are applying the fire to the top of the pot, you are doctoring symptoms, and, like thousands of others, get disappointing results. In Chronic Catarrh, the whole system becomes involved; the entire mucous membrane, or inner covering of the body, is in a state of high inflammation. The pressure of blood upon the glands and cells produce excessive secretion of mucus, much of which is absorbed into the blood and distributed to all parts of the body. In this way the stomach, kidneys and intestines are often seriously affected.

The nose, throat and ears are most frequently attacked by this foul disease, because the mucous lining is exposed to the cold, damp air, which attracts the vitiated blood to the surface, causing congestion of the little blood vessels and glands, making breathing difficult and labored; the throat becomes parched and dry; the hot, watery discharge from the nose gradually changes to a yellowish color and becoming more profuse and tenacious, drops back into the throat, causing gagging and almost constant coughing to dislodge it. This offensive discharge, in spite of all precautions, finds its way into the stomach, and extreme nausea and an obstinate form of dyspepsia follow.

St. Joseph, Mo., March 24, 1901.
I had a bad case of Catarrh; my nose was always stopped up and my head ached continually, and the oder of my breath was sickening. I had a most annoying cough, also. I tried a number of remedies and was treated by several doctors, but got no relief—my case was thought to be incurable. S. S. S. being recommended to me, I began its use, and after taking nine bottles was cured, and have never been troubled with Catarrh since. MISS MARY L. STORM, 601 Francis Street.

Blinding headaches, neuralgia of the eyes and dizziness are also symptoms of this disease, and when the inflammation reaches the delicate mechanism of the ear, hearing is lost, and, as the blood becomes more deeply poisoned, the tissues and soft bones in the head are eaten out, greatly disfiguring the face. At this stage of Catarrh the breath becomes insufferably offensive. S. S. S. is the simplest and most effective treatment for Catarrh, and when taken into the circulation reaches all parts of the system and cleanses the blood of all Catarrhal matter and restores it to a normal condition. When rich, new blood begins to flow through the veins, the obstructed glands and broken down cells resume their natural functions, and the hot and inflamed membranes are lubricated and moistened with a soothing, healing fluid that quickly brings relief to the congested parts. S. S. S. puts the blood in such perfect condition and so strengthens and invigorates the general health that the local manifestations of the disease gradually disappear, the discharge from the nose ceases, the head clears, breathing becomes easy and natural, the appetite improves, and a perfect and permanent cure is effected.

SSS

S. S. S. is the only guaranteed purely vegetable blood purifier. It contains no minerals to further poison the blood and derange the digestion, but can be taken with perfect safety in all stages and forms of Catarrh. Our physicians will gladly advise, without charge, all who write them about their case. Book on Blood and Skin Diseases free.

THE CANAL BILL IS PASSED

BUT TWO VOTES AGAINST IT IN THE HOUSE.

Hepburn Measure Passes With Understanding Panama Route May be Chosen.

Washington, Jan. 10.—By a vote which was virtually unanimous, the house of representatives last evening passed the Hepburn Nicaragua canal bill. But on a test of strength between the rival routes Panama mustered 120 votes, against 170 for Nicaragua.

This result was reached with the understanding that after the Panama company's offer has been formally submitted the senate will take action, and thus the whole question will be brough before the house again. If the senate decides for Panama the house will acquiesce. The prevailing idea now at both ends of the capital is to turn the whole matter over to the president.

Only two members of the house voted against the Hepburn bill on the question of final passage—Mr. Fletcher, of Minnesota, and Mr. Lassiter, if Virginia. Mr. Bishop, of Michigan, answered "present," and several members from the northwest refraining from voting, among them Page Morris, of Duluth, who actively advocated the Panama route. Mr. Fletcher has several times announced his opposition to government construction of an isthmian canal, believing the work should be done by private enterprise. The vote in favor of the bill was 308.

FEATURES OF THE BILL.

The bill as passed authorizes the president to secure from the states of Costa Rica and Nicaragua in behalf of the United States, control of such a portion of the territory belonging to said states as may be desirable and necessary to which to excivate, construct and prospect a canal suitable to the wants of modern navigation and commerce, and appropriates such a sum as may be necessary to secure the control of said territory.

Section 2 authorizes the president, after securing control of the needed territory, to direct the secretary of war to construct such canal from the Carribbean sea, at a point near Greytown, in Nicaragua, by way of Lake Nicaragua, to a point on the Pacific ocean near Brito, and also to construct proper harbors at the terminal of said canal, and to make necessary provisions for the defense of the canal and harbors.

Sections 3 and 4 authorize the president to make such surveys as may be necessary and to employ such persons in constructing a canal as may to him seem wise, and directs that in the construction of the canal the River San Juan and Lake Nicaragua shall be used as far as they are available.

CONCESSIONS TO NATIVES.

Section 5 authorizes the president to guarantee to the states of Costa Rica and Nicaragua the use of the canal and harbors, upon terms to be agreed upon, for all vessels owned by said states and by citizens thereof.

The last section makes a present appropriation of $10,000,000 to carry on this work and authorizes the secretary of war to enter into proper contracts for material and work as may be deemed necessary therefor. such work and material to be paid for as appropriations may be made from time to time. The section fixes the aggregate cost at $180,000,000, to be drawn from the treasury on warrants of the president.

The issue between the Panama and Nicaragua routes came upon an amendment presented by Mr. Shackelford, of Missouri, embodying the Morris, Parker and other suggestions that proposed to grant the president authority to make the selections under specified conditions. The vote was 170 to 120 against the amendment.

DESIGNED TO MAKE TIME.

There was a distinct understanding that the bill passed yesterday was hurried through to launch the project, and not to commit the house to the Nicaragua route. Chairman Hepburn, who is probably the most ardent supporter of the Nicaragua bill, which bears his name, has repeatedly stated in urging its acceptance without amendment, that it would not preclude the adoption of the Panama route. Many members unfamiliar with the merits of the Panama route, and others who have come to regard the Nicaragua route as the American route, were influenced to vote against the Panama amendment by pledges given their constituents. Another potent factor in controlling votes for the Hepburn Nicaragua bill was the plank in the last democratic platform.

Mr. Hepburn, alert to gain all advantages, made a vigorous appeal to the democrats to stand by the pledges of their party. He emphasized that they were not committed to an isthmian canal, as were the republicans, but that they had promised to promote the construction of a Nicaragua canal, and should do it without delay. While Mr. Hepburn was positive of the meaning of the canal plank in the democratic platform, the members of that party were not so clear.

DIPLOMATIC CORPS DINED.

Washington, Jan. 10.—The dinner to the diplomatic corps was given by President and Mrs. Roosevelt last night. The table was set in the east room, used for the first time for a purpose of this kind, and covers were laid for eighty-five persons—the largest number ever entertained at dinner at one time in the white house. The immense double-T shaped table was set off with immense plaques of pink begonias in maiden-hair fern and towering bunches of white roses in crystal vases. The silver candelabra with pink shades lent a tinge of rich coloring to the scene. The president sat at the center of the table, with Lady Pauncefote on his right and Senora de Aziporiz on his left. Directly opposite the president sat Mrs. Roosevelt, with the British ambassador on her right and the German ambassador on her left. Especial attention had been paid to the decoration and illumination of the east room. In addition to the myriads of electric lights from the chandeliers, there were sprays of green lights scattered through the smilax which wreathed the large pillars, while the immense mirrors were veiled with laurel through which shone a profusion of red and white electric lights. Music was furnished by the Marine band.

SENT HOME TO DIE.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 10.—Edward Franklin, a young man from Spencer, Ind., died in the charity hospital here yesterday from disease contracted in South Africa. He enlisted at New Orleans with a party of other Indianians as a muleteer in the British service. They are said to have suffered ill treatment from the British in South Africa, and were compelled to drive the mules into the interior of Africa after they had been landed at Cape Town. While detained in South Africa Franklin contracted sickness from the water he drank, and he was shipped back to America sick, arriving only a few days ago.

Prof. Wilbur C. Knight, of the State University of Wyoming, is engaged in putting together the pieces of a sea serpent which he discovered in 1895. The animal was sixty feet long and is one of the most valuable specimens ever captured.

FOREIGNERS BARRED.

The German government has been compelled to partially shut the gates of its technical schools against foreigners, particularly Russians, Poles, Bohemians, Austrians and Hungarians, who have crowded the institutions to such an extent as to interfere with the proper instruction of native students. At the great technical college of Berlin, for example, where there is accommodation for about 1,500 students, more than 2,200 crowded the laboratories and lecture rooms last year.

At least one-third of them were foreigners, mostly from Russia and the other countries bounding Germany on the east. This year the faculty have declined to admit more than 100 foreigners, or, in other words, have raised the standard of admission so high that only 100 foreigners have been able to comply with the conditions, instead of about 700 a year ago.

To obtain admission applicants must show that they have attended technical colleges in their own country or have passed examinations which entitle them to admission to the scientific branches of the university.

BAY RUM IS CHEAPER.

Barbers may now quit using witch-hazel on the faces of their customers after shaving them and return once more to bay rum, says the Kansas ity Star. Many who patronize barber shops may not have detected the difference, but in most shops bay rum has not been used for some time, owing to an advance in the price. Now there is a prospect that it will become more plentiful.

A cask of bay rum was cleared at the Kansas City customs office this morning, the first on the record for many years. It came from the little Island of St. Thomas, in the West Indies, which figured conspicuously in the Spanish-American war, and which the United States government has been trying to buy from Denmark ever since. The duty on the rum has been greatly reduced, and this is the cause of the shipment. Bay rum is made from the sap of the bay tree, and is one of the principal products of St. Thomas. It is believed that freer trade relations with the West Indies, as the result of the Spanish war, will cheapen this particular product to Americans.

The Natal Witness states that steamship lines are submitting proposals for a direct line to England, and that Natal is prepared to put £6,000,000 into the venture.
